SPORT DETERIORATION IS SUGGESTED RESULT TOO MANY SPECTATORS

Fewer Today Who Play For Love of the Game Says Newspaper Article

While we are deploring the decline of lacrosse in Canada and steps are being taken to revive interest in that game, we find that similar concern is being expressed across the border with respect to baseball, says the Edmonton Journal. The National Amateur Athletic Federation has made a survey and learns that, while the crowds at the major league matches are larger than ever, there is a steady decrease in those who play. It reports that professionalism, working down from the big leagues into the small town teams, is to blame in a large part for the waning of the game. Then, too, as cities grow, the sand lot is harder to find and harder to get to. The young player who plays for the fun of it and the love of it, not only finds difficulty in getting into a game of baseball, but if he makes a place for himself on an amateur team, he is frequently obliged to compete against players imported and paid.

It is only a matter of time under these conditions for the sport to deteriorate seriously even in its highly organized branches. As an English parodist once wrote:

Ill fares agame to hastening ills a prey,
When gates accumulate and men decay.

Sport Chat

The whole bill of fare served up in the sport line did not amount to much in the past week. Scarcely any of the games scheduled could be played, and there is now considerable interest in several local fixtures which are billed for this week The Callies and Vets are anxious to settle the Dominion Cup for another year, and from the attitude of supporters of each team it is evident that there will be a contest worth watching.

The local fans are hoping that it will be possible to stage a real good game of baseball before long. If outside teams are to play here during the Fair week let us unite in putting in a team which will show the visitors that we are on the baseball map. To develop that team, and to have them coached properly will require the closest co-operation of all the players as well as captains and coaches. The local fans can assist by being present at the games, and they should not be disappointed, as there is excellent material in all three teams in the city league.

Representative soccer teams from the various provinces throughout the Dominion will start their battle for the Connaught cup, emblematic of the Canadian football championship, this week. On July 15, Carsteel, Quebec finalists, will stack up against Ulster United, Ontario winners, in the first of a two game series at Montreal. The second game will be played at Toronto on July 18. In the west, Nanaimo, British Columbia representatives, will play Calgary C.P.R. in a two-game series, at Calgary, on July 16 and 18. United Weston will represent Manitoba, but as yet Saskatchewan has not declared a winner. There is a possibility of Manitoba playing off with the New Ontario champions, but nothing definitely has been decided. Where the finals will be played this year is not yet known, but rumors are flying thick and fast that it will be played in the west again.

In their efforts to force recognition of the challenges to Jack Dempsey from Harry Wills and others, the New York State Athletic Commission barred Manager Jack Kearns from the Italian Hospital Fund bouts at New York on Thursday night. Kearns is now manager of Mickey Walker, who took a good beating from Harry Greb, but how the Commission expected to worry Mr. Kearns by their action is not made clear. Depriving the manager of Dempsey and Walker of the opportunity of witnessing a set of bouts is about the same as depriving Mr. Rockefeller of a pint of gasoline.

P. J. Mulqueen of Toronto and Dr. A. S. Lamb of the Athletic department of McGill University, who is also the secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, have returned from their mission as Canadian delegates to the Olympic Congress at Prague. They have made a preliminary report to President W. E. Findlay of the A.A.U. and it shows that their visit has not been in vain. It will result they expect in better representation of Canada and a better understanding with the Central authority of the International Olympic Committee.

The first real international soccer match played in Montreal between Canada and the United States resulted in a win for Canada by 1 to 0. So-called Internationals have been played in various Canadian cities on almost every important holiday, but these were as a rule between players representing England and Scotland or Scotland and Ireland and so on.

The Sons of England will field the following team against the Cold Storage in tonight's league football game: R. Howe, G. Waugh, G. Howe, P. Cameron, A. Bales, F. Hodgkinson, J. Johnson, Dr. Tait, J. Farquhar, H. Hanson and W. Dickens.
