DEATH TOLL OF SHENANDOAH IS NOW FOURTEEN

Air Rushing into Holes Torn in Big Airship Caused Breaking Up

CALDWELL, Ohio, Sept. 4.—The death toll from the Shenandoah wreck stood at fourteen this morning. Two members of the company were seriously injured.

What remains of the dirigible, destroyed during a thunderstorm yesterday, is rapidly being torn up by the waves and wind, much the same as an ocean going ship is broken up by the waves. At Lakehurst, the dirigible's headquarters, forty children are left fatherless by the catastrophe.

Air rushing into the holes torn in the Shenandoah by twisting off the radio and control cabins caused buckling of the ship and the breaking up of the many parts, the naval board visiting the wreckage announce.

SKULL MAY BE THE DODO

Ted Shrubbsall's Find is That of Immense Bird, Perhaps Prehistoric

Waterfront people are speculating as to whether a skeleton picked up by Ted Shrubbsall is that of the extinct Dodo or some other huge bird at present unknown. They all pronounce it at any rate something unusual. It was recently pulled up in 50 fathoms of water on the fishing gear of the Canadian schooner H. & R. owned by Ted and Bob Shrubbsall while the boat was fishing off Tow Hill, Queen Charlotte Islands. The head is about the size of a man's fists put together with two eye-sockets and a pronounced hole in the centre of the skull while a bone beak protrudes some six or seven inches from it.

It looks like the skeleton of a bird but is larger than any known living specimen.

Ted Shrubbsall is talking of giving the skeleton to the local museum when doubtless government experts will be able to trace the origin of the find.

KING BORIS IS ILL OF POISON

Refused to Sign Death Warrants of Men Convicted of Treason, So Given Bacilli

ROME, Sept. 4.—Because he refused to sign death warrants of several communists convicted of treason, King Boris was administered poison and is gravely ill. Bacilli of typhus fever were found in his dessert.

The king has displeased the extreme royalist groups at various times because of his democratic tendencies. He has had many narrow escapes from death, one in May, 1921, from a bomb exploded in the national parade, and in 1925 following a revolution in Bulgaria which was put down. Last April he was ambushed by a gang of bandits supposed to have been communists and fired upon, the chauffeur being wounded. Two attendants of the king were killed, so the king took the chauffeur's place and drove home unscathed.

Fair This Year to be Best Ever Held says President at Luncheon

Ben Self, president, and John Bulger, vice-president, guests of Rotary Club, urge support for local institution

With large exhibits expected from the various districts, with two Indian bands, with the splendid exhibition of paintings loaned from Ottawa and with a splendid card of sports attractions, the fair this year promises to be one of the best staged in British Columbia, according to president Ben Self, who, with vice-president John Bulger, was a guest of the Rotary Club yesterday afternoon and told that organization of some of their plans.

While Hazelton will not this year have a district exhibit, there is a fine display expected from the Lakes country containing four hundred separate articles and the Hazelton Horticultural Society will have a nice display which will be appreciated. In addition gas boats have been sent to the islands to collect exhibits. Taken all in all, President Self expects a great display and a fair that will be an attraction such as the district has not yet seen.

Two Indian Bands

The two Indian bands are those from Kincolith and New Metlakalla. It was expected that the city band might have been able to take part but the bandmaster did not think they were quite ready for so important work and withdrew. Then steps were taken to secure the Alaska Indian band, which is said to be one of the finest in the country. The Kincolith band is also a fine organization and will keep up the high reputation which Indian bands have set in the past.

The big oil paintings which have been sent forward through the Dominion Government from the National Art Gallery are on their way to Victoria and Vancouver, there they are to be shown as a special feature. Here they will be set out in a special building adjoining the main fair building, which has been prepared for the occasion. A small fee of ten cents will be made for entry to that building in order to cover the cost of bringing the exhibit here and displaying it. This exhibit in itself is a feature worth coming miles to see for anyone who is interested in art.

A number of smaller features have been prepared and all that is needed now is to secure suitable weather for the games to be played under sunny skies.

Matter of Finance

In discussing the difficulties surrounding the conduct of an annual fair, Mr. Self said that not the least important was that of finance. It was necessary to put up some money for the work. The various grants had been cut down to such an extent that other means of financing was necessary. Accordingly they were asking the merchants and citizens generally to contribute to the funds.

In order to get the exhibits here it had been necessary to pay not only the transportation but the cost of a man coming with the district exhibits. This had been instrumental in getting results.

Going back to the early days and comparing with what was being done now, the president stated that the first exhibition was put on in 1913. It was held in the skating rink and was something more in the nature of a potlatch. The following year the big building was erected at the cost of $6,560.95, the road to it (continued on page two)

After a search of 60 hours no trace of the lost plane has been found and hope of saving the lost crew has been abandoned.
