SEVEN FIRE CALLS DURING LAST MONTH

Only Damage of Consequence Was to Residence of Jack Barnsley

The only damage of any consequence from fires in the city during the month of July was to the house and furnishings of J. Barnsley's house on Fourth Avenue. The fire department responded to seven calls during the month, four of them were grass fires and of minor importance, one was a result of a bonfire and caused no damage, and another fire was the gasboat burned at Cow Bay. This was beyond the reach of the department even if they had been called before the boat was a mass of flames.
