ANCIENT PARROT HERO IN HIS DAY

Is Now Seventy Years of Age and May Live Twice That Long

DENVER, Nov. 12. - "Pat" Callahan, 70-year-old parrot, has viewed many an exciting exploit of Western frontier history, but despite his natural prerogative he declines to relate any of his experiences.

If medals for heroism were distributed to parrots, "Pat' probably would have been eligible when, in 1875, he aided in routing a band of Indians who attacked a party of white men, The first bottle I took gave me such one of whom was his owner. Turning Lestovers into savory dishes

The French people—famous for thrift—used to say that they could feed six people with what the average family on this side of the Atlantic threw away.

It is almost inevitable that there should be things left from yesterday - yet the remains of roasts and steaks, the spoonfuls of vegetables, the food that has lost its taste, are no longer wasted, nor are the "scraps" turned into "stews."

The sprightly "OXO" CUBES with their supreme flavour of prime beef, have come to the rescue of those who want to be sensibly economical. Now you find "OXO" CUBES in thousands of homes and the French have changed their ideas about our extravagant cooking.

Minced Meat on Toast

2 cupfuls minced beef (left-over steak 2 "OXO" BEEF CUBES 1 cup boiling water 2 tablespoonfuls flour 1 tablespoonful butter Mince the meat, removing all gristle and fat. Dissolve the cubes in the boiling water. Blend the butter and flour and stir quickly into the dissolved cubes. Pour flour and heat the meat.) Pour over six

Where any gravy is left over, use but. one "OXO" BEEF CUBE dissolved in 1/2 cupful boiling water and add the gravy.

Our Free Cook Book tells you how to do it

Many other attractive ways of utilizing left-overs are included in the new "OXO" COOK BOOK. The recipes are simple and practical - the results well worth your trying. You will delight in the new dishes.
