This A Good Time To Talk Politics.

This is a good time to talk politics. There is a Dominion election in sight and everyone wants to know something about what is best to do in regard to the government of the country. morning, Pharaoh holds his a carpenter." A Victoria newspaper discussing this says:

"If you are a loyal subject of the King and a dutiful citizen hears the wailing of the mothers arms, overhears his words and of Canada, you must not assume a lofty attitude and declare and fathers of his land, he orders replies: "Many fine man have papers did not believe that sea Graham Island, British Columbia. that it is beneath your dignity to take an interest in politics. the liberation of the Hebrews. been carpenters, John." Whatever some people may think of politicians as a class, politicians are just like other classes of the community, a mixture of good and indifferent. And politicians govern Canada.

"Even if a revolution were to take place and the existing men and women and children, reached, and in the end the Eter-never took the lawn mowers or scribed lands:system of conducting our public affairs were abolished, Canada would still be governed by politicians. probably General Odlum or Captain Ian Mackenzie. Mr. Woodward is a czar in his own business but he cannot be a czar in the government of the country. He has a say like all other members but he cannot force the government to do anything which they do not believe is correct. Oliver is not that kind of man and neither is Pattullo.

If the people of the province were asked which they would choose, Woodward would be left out in the cold.

Modern Story

A primly dressed mother sits at a table in a modern room. She is reading from the Bible to her two sons. It is San Francisco; the time is today or a just-passed

One son, Dan, is bored and cynical. The other son, John, is tolerant and more than half impressed; at any rate, he is deferential to his mother. "That's bunk," says Dan. He intimates that the Ten Commandments may have been all right for the dead ones, but that he world has changed. The deeply religious mother, a Scotch-American woman who believes in the letter and fails to eatch the spirit of religion, is affronted. Hugging her Bible to her flat breast she turns her son out of her home because he says he does not believe in God. Dan apologizes to his mother, but refuses to apologize to God because he does not believe in God.

The mother is relentless. She is warned by her good son that she is using the cross for a scourge, but will not relent. Later she does let Dan return, but the next Sunday she starts to leave home, Bible under her arm, because this sceptical son and his sweetheart are dancing on

Defy Commandments

The upshot of it is that Dan and Mary, both unbelievers, leave he house. They will defy the commandments together, they say, and Dan's parting taunt to' John is to the effect that he, Dan, will break the laws of Moses and wax rich and have the world at his feet, whereas the stay-athome boy, if he lives up to the Ten Commandments will finish just where he began-as a car-
