North Careful About Fires.

While there have been a number of forest fires in Prince Rupert district recently and the Forest Branch has been put to some considerabl expense in handling them, the district so far has been singularly fortunate in having little if any damage done to standing timber of any value. However, the dangerous season is not yet over by any means, and it behoves people to be careful—especially those residing in the drier sections of the interior.

The work done by government during recent years in attempting to instill into the public mind the necessity of caution against forest fires seems to be bearing fruit. Undoubtedly people are more careful now than they were before the campaign started.

There have been very bad fires recently in the southern portion of the province and a great deal of damage has been done to timber and property. It is to be hoped that the north will not suffer in that way this season. The best insurance against such loss will be a continuation of the caution that seems to have been well observed in the interior so far this year.

Vancauver Board Of Trade Party.

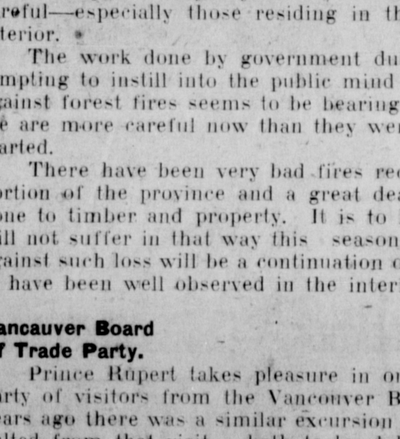

Prince Rupert takes pleasure in once again entertaining a party of visitors from the Vancouver Board of Trade. Three years ago there was a similar excursion here and much good resulted from that visit— both to local business men and those who came from the south. That visit tended to promote a better understanding between Prince Rupert and Vancouver and it is hoped that the present one will have its effect along the same lines.

While Vancouver and Prince Rupert, in a sense, may be termed rival ports, there seems to be no good reason why one should hurt the other. There is room for both big ports on the British Columbia coast. There should be no petty bickering between them. More good would be accomplished by working together in the development of the Pacific coast.

The Vancouver visitors are welcome and we hope that the result of their visit will be again mutually beneficial.

Teaching Americans.

Americans seem to have had the wrong idea about Vancouver and Canada; they have been working on the theory of giving the dog a bad name, then do as you please about and with him. This won't do. After we hang two or three of them, put several others in jail, and inflict a few $6,000 fines for libel and slander, Americans may incline to take Canadian laws more seriously, and decide to lay off us for a while.—Vancouver Sun.

Your Boy's Success

NO one starting out in life ever expects to fail. Youth is always hopeful, but hope alone cannot bring success.

If your hope is to see your boy a success in the world, securing independence and comfort—the vision of so many, yet the attainment of so few—adopt a regular savings plan for him now, and teach him in his tender years the value of saving something out of every dollar.

THAT WAY LIES HIS SUCCESS.

Antonio Moreno, Patsy Ruth Miller and Big Cast in Saturday Evening Post Story

"Her Husband's Secret," picturized from May Edginton's recent Saturday Evening Post story, "Judgment," will be the feature at the Westholme Theatre tonight.

Antonio Moreno, Patsy Ruth Miller, Ruth Clifford and David Torrence are the featured players. Moreno essays the role of a debonair young man who, after amassing considerable of a fortune by fraudulent methods, loses it. He then elopes with the daughter of a wealthy banker in an effort to extricate himself from his trouble.

Miss Miller, who plays Judy Brewster, has the role of the daughter, and Miss Clifford, whose Ann Rutledge in "Abraham Lincoln" will linger long in the public memory, plays a dual part of a bride and then as the mother of the wayward youth.

David Torrence, brother of Ernest, gives to his characterization of Ross Brewster, hard-fisted banker, much of the same understanding and sympathy given a similar character in "Smilin' Through."

THOMAS MEIGHAN AT END OF WEEK

Scene of "Tongues of Flame" is Laid in Country Around Puget Sound

"Tongues of Flame," adapted for the screen by Townsend Martin from Peter Clark Macfarlane's last novel, deals with a conspiracy on the part of a grasping capitalist to swindle a tribe of Indians out of their valuable reservation.

Tom Meighan has the role of "Hell Fire" Harrington, an easy-going young lawyer, recently returned from the World War, who at first as the tool of the capitalist persuades the Indians to turn over their valuable land, and later, discovering the swindle, fights on the other side.

The scene of the picture is laid in the country around Puget Sound. The story is admittedly the late author's most finished work and, to take Meighan's own word for it, he, is fully in sympathy with the character of Henry Harrington and Macfarlane's attitude towards the Indian. According to the star, "Hell Fire" is the finest type of American in modern fiction. Tom felt sure before production work on "Tongues of Flame" was started that part would inspire him to do his best work. And it did. The picture proves it.

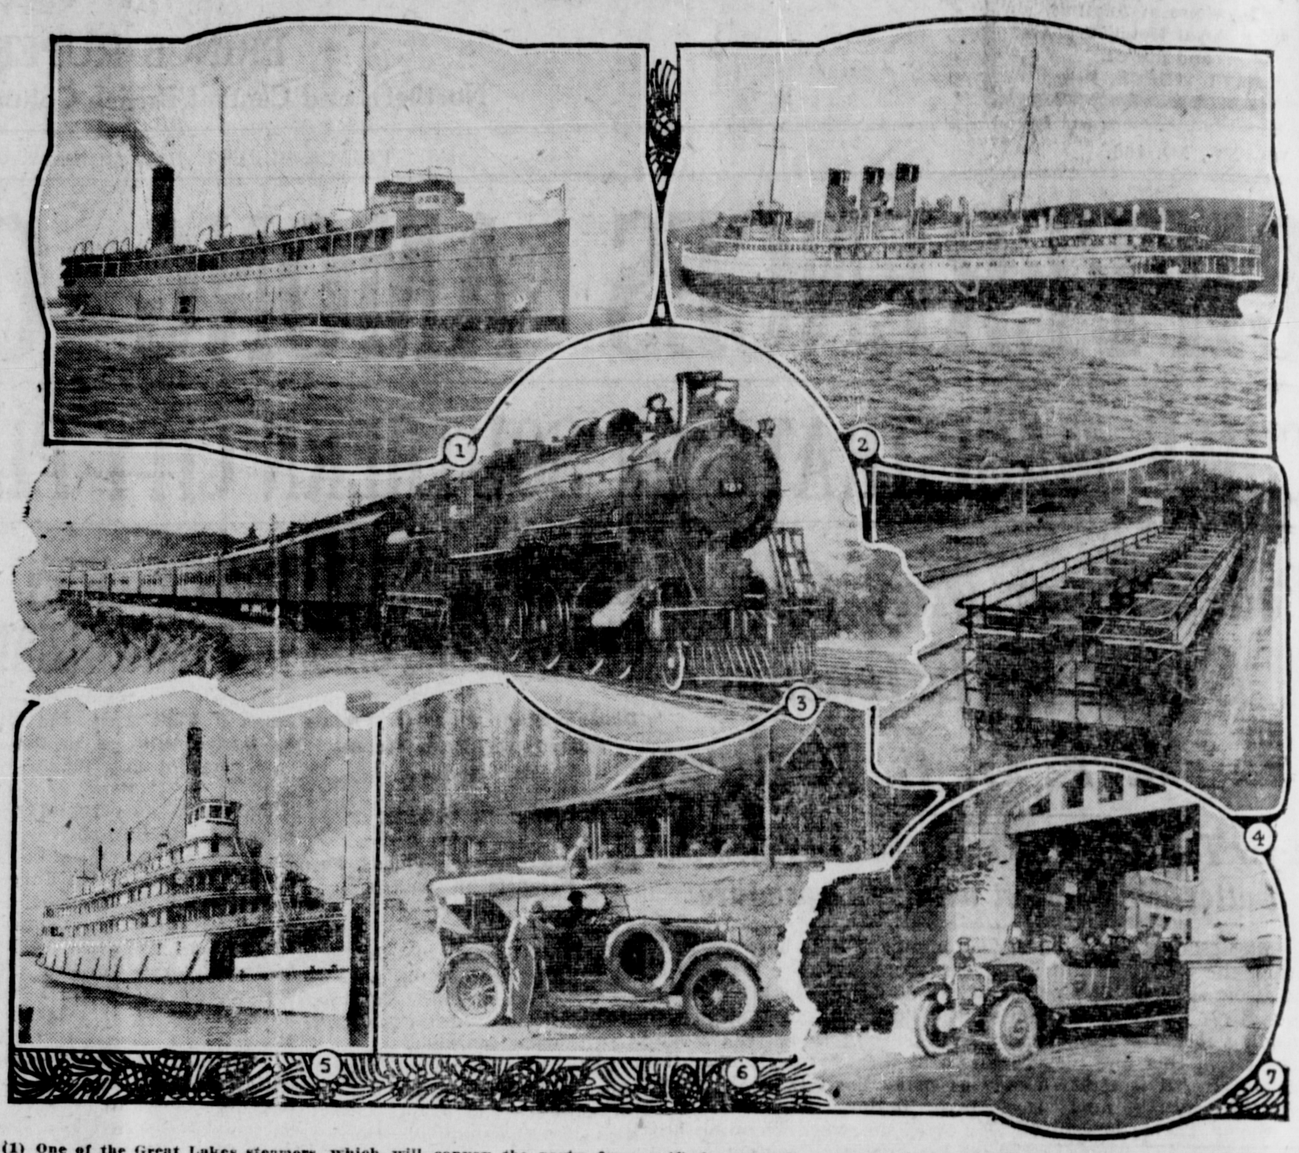

Bessie Love and Eileen Percy share feminine honors opposite the star.

FAMOUS NOVEL IS SHOWN ON SCREEN

Gene Stratton Porter's "Girl of the Limberlost" is Mid-Week feature at Westholme

"The Girl of the Limberlost," Gene Stratton Porter's famous story is to be presented on the screen at the westholme Theatre here Wednesday and Thursday day evenings of this week. Mrs. Porter was one of the leading novelists in the United States and was particularly able with girls' stories. The novel now being picturized was one of her best. It contains many thrills and the picture should prove popular with all classes of movie fans.

How Teachers Federation Will Tour Canada

(1) One of the Great Lakes steamers which will convey the party from Fort William to Port McNicholl.
(2) The ferry boat "Motor Princess" plying between Vancouver and Vancouver Island.
(3) The Special Train which makes a record run across the entire country.
(4) An open observation car used on all trains passing through the Rocky Mountains.
(5) A Lake Kootenay steamer.
(6) An automobile awaiting to take passengers over the famous Banff-Windermere Highway.
(7) Sight-seeing bus used at various interesting points of the trip.

Robert Louis Stevenson crossed the Pyrennees on a donkey. He even enjoyed the trip. Whatever physical discomforts he had to put up with were more than compensated for by the amount of knowledge he accumulated and by the deep pleasure he derived from coming into close contact with the beauties and wonders of nature. But the donkey, whatever his good points may be, is not now regarded as the most satisfactory means of transportation and we in Canada have a decided preference for the more comfortable and rapid conveyances depicted above.

The picture illustrates the general system by which the various points of the Dominion have become linked up with one another by Canadian Pacific steamers, trains and automobiles. It also shows the means by which Dean Laird's special party of school-teachers will make their educational trip across Canada, from coast to coast, leaving Toronto on July 20th, arriving at Vancouver July 27th, and returning to Toronto early in August. A special train, (No. 3 in the illustration) will be utilized, and reduced rates are being offered to teachers who desire, as it were, to complete their own education by increasing their personal acquaintanceship with the country about which it is their duty to instruct the rising generation. Although the tour is arranged primarily for the benefit of school teachers, it is not restricted to them, and other professional and business people are taking advantage of the opportunity to make this combined pleasure and educational trip across the country.

The party will travel by rail, with several stop-overs, to Vancouver, and from there will cross to Vancouver Island by a Canadian Pacific ferry boat (No. 2). From there by train they will proceed from Vancouver to Nelson, B.C., and thence via steamer (No. 5) over Lake Kootenay to Kootenay Landing. By rail again on to Windermere, from where the automobiles (No. 6) will convey them over the famous Banff-Windermere Highway to Banff. Entraining once more, the party will go on to Edmonton, returning from there to Fort William, from which point they travel by one of the Canadian Pacific Great Lakes Steamers to Port McNicholl (No. 1) and complete the tour from there to Toronto by rail.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

July 20, 1915.

The city council last night passed an account for $128.25 being the cost of sending notices to the London papers by the bank, regarding the two days in which Treasury certificates were hanging fire. The bank had cabled answers to articles in the papers. Ald. Montgomery felt that this was well expended money.

The death occurred last evening of Neil J. Meleod after a prolonged illness. He was 51 years of age and resided for the last four years in the city. Interment will take place in the south.

In the baseball game last evening O'Reilly's Cubs beat McAleenan's Colts by a score of 13 to 12.

James Garnett of this city left for Vancouver last evening en route to England. There he will join the Vickers-Maxim gun factory staff.

There arrived in the city last evening Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Bredin, of Lesser Slave Lake. They are on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mobley who knew them in the far north twenty years ago.

E. S. Busby, chief inspector of Customs for Canada, accompanied by Mrs. Busby, went north on the Princess Alice yesterday.

Riding in Canadian Rockies: A Growing Summer Diversion

TRAIL RIDERS IN CANADIAN ROCKIES

TOM WILSON IN BRONZE

Lake O'Hara will be the scene of three events this summer. The organizations that will meet in this wild, romantic spot in the Canadian Rockies are: Mountaineering Club of British Columbia; Alpine Club of Canada's annual camp from July 27 to August 8, inclusive; and the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies on August 9th.

The special expedition to climb Mt. Logan, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, headed by Capt. Albert H. MacCarthy, will return in time to report to the Alpine Club.

Lake O'Hara has been painted by the late John Singer Sargent and by Carl Rungius and Richard M. Kimbel, the two latter are New York artists and members of the artist colony that summers at Banff. Lake O'Hara threatens to rival Lake Louise whose close neighbor it is.

The Alpine Club's main objective this year is to climb Mt. Goodsir, the highest peak visible from the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the ascent will be made from a sub-camp.

Last year's initial Pow-Wow of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies was held in Yoho Valley near Field, B. C. Two days of trail riding and social gathering in a big lodge in the evenings were enjoyed by more than 200 members and novices, the latter qualifying for membership, one of the requirements of which is to have ridden fifty miles over Canadian Rockies' trail. Dr. Charles D. Walcott of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D. C., is the honorary president of the Trail Riders' order.

Several hundred trail riders are expected to take part in this year's meeting, which will be held Aug. 8-10 inclusive. The start will be from Banff and Lake Louise by motor to Marble Canyon where the horses and guides will be in waiting for the three days' ride. Program is as follows: first night, tent camp on Goodsir Plateau, 6,500 feet above the valley; second night, tent camp on the shore of Lake O'Hara, rivalling Lake Louise in beauty, but of a wilder type; third night, Tipi Camp beside Lake Wapta and Pow-Wow held in Sun Dance Lodge. There will be a sing-song each night in camp.

Riders must bring either a sleeping-bag or two warm blankets. A change of underwear and warm coat or mackinaw for the hours around the camp fire, is all the equipment that is necessary. No grips will be accepted. One pack horse for each three riders. A word of caution, unless one is prepared to rough it he should not ride; but if one delights in the feel of a saddle and pony, he, or she, may be a Trail Rider.

The Rocky Mountains Guides' Association, an organization of all the guides in this territory, with headquarters at Banff, is looking after the arrangements for horses and guides.
