MARTIN PRIED OFF BOLT FROM DOOR OF CELL

Escaped Prisoner is Still at Large in Neighborhood of Powell River

No trace had yet been found at Powell River yesterday morning of Joe Martin, the local prisoner on his way to the penitentiary to serve four years for theft, according to word brought this morning by the steamer Prince Rupert from which vessel he escaped last Saturday night. The boat had been lying at Powell River for some time loading paper and it was about 11.30 or half an hour before the vessel sailed from there for Vancouver that Martin's absence was noticed by Constable Smith of Anyox, his escort. By that time Martin had made a clean getaway and it was hard to say how long he had been gone. Constable Smith had been on the dock at Ocean Falls conversing with officers there. Martin made his escape by removing the lever from the lavatory and using this as a wrench to pry off the bolt holding the padlock hasp. This done, the door was opened from the cell into the constable's room and it was simply a matter of opening a Yale lock from the inside to get into the hold of the ship and thence ashore.

It is the general opinion that Martin cannot remain at large around Powell River without being found somewhere in the neighborhood. Constable Smith returned from the south on the Prince Rupert this morning bringing with him a man named Alex Kostoff who was arrested at Powell River on a charge of having obtained board and lodging fraudulently from A. T. Eckoff of this city.

ROCK SHOWERS FROM BLASTING

Residents of Graham Avenue Being Subjected to Risk and Annoyance

Residents of Graham Avenue in Westview are being subjected to considerable annoyance and not a little risk on account of blasting operations on the railway grade in widening the cut just west of the elevator for the new tracks which will lead to the grain plant. Almost daily the houses in that vicinity are being showered with rock.

Yesterday a large boulder came hurtling through the air and smashed through the verandah stairway of Frank Dibb's residence embedding itself in the ground after having passed through an inch and a quarter plank. Had it come two feet higher up it would have gone right through the parlor windows. As it is, owing to the construction of the stairway, considerable expense will be involved in making repairs.

Owing to the blasting, dishes were recently broken in the residence of C. V. Evitt which adjoins Mr. Dibb's.

SCHOOL TO TRAIN PROHIBITION AGENTS

SPRINGFIELD, October 28.—Ethics in catching bootleggers are being taught here in a school for prohibition agents.

The school is under the tutelage of Thomas Williamson, United States attorney, and John B. Madden, deputy prohibition administrator of Illinois.
