Plan Presents Now And Buy Them Soon.

This is the time to plan Christmas presents. By doing it well ahead of time it can be done intelligently and the rush of the festive season may be avoided.

As a rule people want to give a good many more presents than they can afford and the result is that much pruning has to be done. By making a list of those who are this year to be recipients and then pruning carefully it is possible to make a budget that will help in regulating the expenditures. Nobody will adhere faithfully to that budget but it is the intelligent thing to use it rather than to make purchases blindly without thought to what is to be bought for others.

Already the stores are beginning to get in goods suitable for Christmas and the late comers have nothing but what others do not want. It is important to keep in touch with the stores and to see the new goods soon after they are put on sale.

Art Of Buying Is Rather Difficult.

Buying is a difficult matter. Most people when they go into a store and look at goods, dislike leaving without making any purchase. Yet merchants would rather have their customers satisfied than have them take away some article which they do not like and which will prevent their going to the store again.

The best plan is to make a tour of the stores and look over the goods. Inquiry should also be made as to what is coming. Having surveyed the whole field, an effort should be made to pick those articles needed which are at present in stock and thus get the largest choice. Then later the list may be more easily filled up.

Many Make Own Gifts.

Many people make the gifts that they send to friends and these articles are often the most acceptable. Only a few can do that, however, so to make the gifts as personal as possible, and therefore acceptable the giver should consider well what are the tastes of the recipient.

There are those, and their name is legion, who give only such articles as are of interest to themselves and not the things their friends would like. It is difficult to get the point of view of the other person and that is the chief reason why giving presents is difficult. To give presents well is a rare art and only those who are endowed with the sympathetic touch and the spirit of unselfishness can do it successfully.

Can The Mind Control The Weather?

We have all heard of many of the wonderful powers of the human mind. We know that the late Archbishop of this diocese showed how mind messages could be transmitted almost any distance. Now comes a group of people who say they can control the weather by mental control. There are many who declare it has been done and is being done regularly of late on the Canadian prairies. Writing of what they are doing, one of their number living in Saskatchewan says: "Every man, woman and child in the world has the power within himself or herself to make rain, to withhold rain, to ward off damaging frosts, to stop floods, to control winds and waves." The writer gives many instances of how farmers have caused rain to fall when it was badly needed on the prairies. The difficulty is that there must often be contrary influences at work. While one person wanted rain for his crops another would want sunshine for a wholly different purpose.

HOSPITAL BALL GREAT SUCCESS

Youth and Beauty of Prince Rupert at Annual Event Last Night

Much of the youth and beauty of Prince Rupert was in evidence at the hospital ball in the auditorium last evening. Dancing commenced soon after nine o'clock to the strains of Arthur's five piece orchestra and was kept up until a late hour. There was scarcely any intermission for supper, the music carrying on all the time much to the enjoyment of those present. The hall was decorated with seasonal emblems lending charm to the occasion.

The committee in charge of arrangements were Mrs. Frank Dibb, general convener, Mrs. Candow, Mrs. Kemp, Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Pyle and they did excellent work. J. L. Christie and H. H. Little were cashiers, C. Elkins and Ald. McKechnie were on the door while James Thompson took supper tickets, L. W. Kergin made an efficient M.C.

The patronesses present were Mrs. Fred Stork, Mrs. D. G. Stewart, Mrs. S. K. Campbell, Mrs. L. W. Kergin, Mrs. West, Mrs. Reddie, Mrs. Cade and Miss Harrison.

During the evening a drawing took place for a beautiful tea cloth donated by Mrs. Goldbloom which was won by Sheila Stuart with ticket 236. Miss Harrison, lady superintendent of the hospital, drew the ticket.

MISS ONNOLLEE GREIG OF TERRACE BRIDE OF A TERRACE MERCHANT

Married Here Last Evening to Sam Kirkaldy by Rev. Evan Baker

TERRACE, Oct. 31. — A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the United Church parsonage last evening when Miss Isabelle Onnollee Greig, of Terrace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Greig, Scotland, became the bride of Samuel N. Kirkaldy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kirkaldy, Sidney, Australia. Rev. Evan Baker of Prince Rupert officiated.

The bride was gowned in pale blue silk, trimmed with lace of exquisite pattern.

The witnesses were Geo. Anderson and Robert Bartlett, of the Bank of Montreal staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkaldy will reside in Terrace, where Mr. Kirkaldy is a leading merchant.

SKIDEGATE

The Norwegian freighter Hanna Neilson is in the inlet loading one and a half million feet of first class spruce lumber from the mill at Queen Charlotte City. The Hanna Neilson is a nine thousand ton boat piloted by Captain Wearmouth, who is one of the pioneer skippers on the islands.

Jack McMillan, superintendent for the Kelly Logging Company at Logan Inlet, was in port with the tug Ray Roberts, Capt. Dass, skipper.

A farewell party was given to Captain Bert Hansen and his crew of the packer W. R. Lord at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and a very enjoyable time was spent. Amongst the guests were Dr. and Mrs. P. F. Size, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Turner, Mrs. E. S. Richardson, E. C. Wiggins, C. Valley, George McRae, W. G. Rhinehart and Tommy Morehouse.

Mrs. A. Jones of Skidegate left with her little son Vernon for Prince Rupert.

Saimon trolling has fallen off quite a lot and most of the trollers are leaving for their homes.

The popular barber, Charlie Miller of Queen Charlotte City left on the Prince John for Prince Rupert on business. Before leaving he was planning to return on the same boat.

Captain E. E. Wiggins, skipper and owner of the fishing boat Q.C. Boy left for his farm at Tiel River after a very successful season trolling. Mr. Wiggins was high boat of the Skidegate fleet.
