REVISION OF BOAT SERVICE

Prince Charles will take George's Run Next Week—Prince Rupert Adds Stewart to Schedule

The C.N.R. steamer Prince Charles, which completes her Alaska service this week, will replace the Prince George in the Vancouver - Prince Rupert-Stewart service next Sunday and, starting this week, the steamer Prince Rupert will include Stewart as well as Anyox in her mid-week service north of here. The Thursday night sailing from here for Vancouver will be changed to Friday morning and the week-end boat will leave here for the south on Sundays at 11 p.m. The double-weekly service will remain in force until Nov. 15, when it will revert to the weekly winter service.

Effective with the Prince Rupert out of here this Wednesday, that vessel will arrive as usual from the south on Wednesday mornings at 10.30 o'clock, sailing at 10 p.m. for Stewart, arriving there at 7 o'clock Thursday mornings and leaving Stewart at noon by way of Anyox for Prince Rupert, reaching here at 6 o'clock Friday mornings and sailing for the south at 9 o'clock that morning. The vessel will arrive in Vancouver at 7 o'clock Sunday mornings and will sail for the north at 8 p.m. Mondays.

The steamer Prince George will arrive from the south as usual on Saturday morning next and make her trip to Stewart but, returning from Stewart Sunday night, will transfer her passengers, etc. to the Prince Charles which will take up the service. The schedule for the Prince Charles calls for her to leave here for Stewart at 10 p.m. Saturdays, arriving there at 8 o'clock Sunday mornings, leaving there at 12 noon Sunday, arriving here at 10 p.m. Sunday and sailing for the south at 11 p.m. She will reach Vancouver at 10 p.m. on Tuesdays and sail on her return north, at 8 p.m. Thursdays, arriving here at 10:30 a.m. Saturdays.

The Prince Charles, which arrived here from Alaska this morning, will probably remain here until next Sunday unless she is sent to Alaska for another trip in the meantime. The Prince George, which will be taken off the run here next Sunday night, will probably be tied up at the local dry dock. Later in the winter season she will relieve the Prince Rupert.

FIRST GALE OF SEASON IS FELT

Little Damage Done as Result of This Morning's Blow Which Attained Velocity of 46 Miles

Prince Rupert had its first real gale of the fall season during the night and this morning. The Digby Island meteorological station reports that the wind attained its maximum velocity this morning at 6 o'clock when 46 miles per hour was recorded.

The blow seems to have caused little damage other than putting some telephones temporarily out of business and breaking a few windows.

ENGLISH CLUB GETS A PLANE

Suggestion Made That Members Will Have Own Private Two Seaters

(Yorkshire Weekly Post)

The "Moth" two-seater aeroplane, which the Yorkshire Aeroplane Club recently acquired, arrived at Roundhay last Tuesday, so that now the club, which has been in existence for some time, and which has a membership of over two hundred, can take an active part in air navigation. And the importance of this event can be realized only when it is known that every member, in ten hour lessons, and at a cost of £10, can become a reliable pilot.

This is the first machine which the club has secured; but it is expected that, as the membership increases, more machines will be bought; and since the cost of the low-powered aeroplane is comparatively low, it is supposed that members who have received instruction will purchase machines of their own. The wide scope which is thus being given to the activities of the Yorkshire Club will mean much to the development of civil aviation for pleasure and business. For it is popular opinion makes or breaks everything; and the fact that in this case it has produced this enthusiastic band of amateurs ensures at least that the time is not far distant when the aeroplane will be the normal mode of transport.
