Huge audience in Westholme Theatre responds well to oratory of Attorney General spite of adverse conditions

Driving home point after point to show where the Mackenzie King government despite the difficulties it had labored under during the past four years had accomplished much for the benefit of the Dominion of Canada as a whole and the West in particular, deaning in a forceful and convincing manner with the issues of the day such as the tariff, the railways, taxation and general administration, decrying the blue ruin arguments now being advanced by the Conservatives who themselves in 1921 had predicted that the following few years would see such conditions and emphasizing the fact that Prince Rupert and Skeena district had everything to gain in the return to power of the Liberal party pledged to the development of this port and district, Hon. A. M. Manson, K.C., attorney general, delivered an eloquent and stirring campaign address last night before a crowded audience in the Westholme theatre. While as might have been expected in the heat of an election campaign there were a few interjections by persons at the rear of the theatre, Mr. Manson had a ready answer for them all and, in every case, the attorney general, through his handling of the situation, won the tremendous applause of his hearers.

CAMPAIGN GOING ON

Hon. A. M. Manson Touring Interior and Mrs. Smith, Northern Mining Camps

Carrying the federal election campaign of Fred Stork, Liberal candidate, into the interior district, Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney general, left on this morning's train for Terrace where he will address a meeting tonight. From Terrace he will go to Hazelton, Smithers and Burns Lake to address meetings. Fred Stork is accompanying him on the trip. Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith went through on the Prince Rupert to Anxox, Alice Arm, Premier and Stewart to address meetings. She will be met at Anxox by H. F. Kergin, M.L.A., who will accompany her on the trip. Mrs. Smith will return to Vancouver on the Gardena next Tuesday.

While there were doubtless a few political opponents on hand, the meeting was clearly sympathetic to the Liberal cause and indicative of the general feeling that Fred Stork is to be returned to the House of Commons with a majority substantially increased over that which he received in 1921.

PROGRESSIVE NOMINEE

George W. Nickerson, who was adopted by Robert Forke as a Progressive recently, was nominated today to contest Skeena riding under that banner.

Pittsburg Wins World Series; Score of Last Game Today 9 to 7

PITTSBURG, Oct. 15.—The Pittsburg Pirates took the baseball championship of the world today from the Washington Senators by batting Johnson, the veteran hurler, all over the lot and scoring the third straight victory over the Senators by a score of 9 to 7 in a furious battle fought in drizzling rain and on a soggy field.

The Pirates used four pitchers. Aldridge was wild and was hit for four runs in the first. He was relieved by Morrison who was forced to the showers in the fifth. Kremer took up the job and held Washington safe until he was relieved in the eighth by Oldham.

Coleman of the University of British Columbia, who addressed the opening session of the B.C. School Trustees annual convention here yesterday.

In an address President George A. Grant outlined the achievements of the association since it was founded in 1905.

Lady Speaker Rouses Audience in Westholme Theatre in Urging Return of Fred Stork to Ottawa

"The Conservatives remind me of a story I once heard of a man who was electioneering down East," said Mary Ellen Smith, in her address at the Westholme Theatre last night. He called at a house and asked the wife what political party her husband belonged to. "That is hard to say," she replied. "To the Conservatives he is a Conservative, to the Liberals he is a Liberal." "What is he when he is at home?" the man inquired. "He's a brute," was the answer.

Mary Ellen Smith was like a refreshing breeze. She brought into the gathering a spirit of optimism of faith and of humor and dealt with the big questions of the day in big sweeping terms that carried home to the large audience and elicited a plentiful response. She pleaded with her hearers to remember that Mackenzie King was the first premier who ever had a western policy and she asked support for him through the election of Fred Stork, the local Liberal candidate.

CHANCE TO CARRY ON

Mrs. Smith said she had been through a number of the constituencies speaking in the interests of the Mackenzie King government. The government that had aroused Canada as no government ever did before. She was much interested in seeing the return of the Mackenzie King government. They had had a hard row to hoe, being returned with barely a majority in the House of Commons and she wanted to see them sent back to be given a chance to carry on under better conditions.

The speaker referred to the condition of the country when they took charge. Canada during the war determined to send the last man and the last dollar and now they had to pay the bill. Who were making the greatest howl about this? Who were the blue ruin artists who put us all on the blink? (A voice: "Borden". "Them's my sentiments," continued Mrs. Smith. They piled up a war debt of two billion dollars and now they do not like to pay it.

Four years ago, the speaker said, the people returned the Liberal party to restore what was possible. In 1921 Mackenzie King headed the largest group of 118 members in the House of Commons. The second largest was the Progressive group and the third the Conservatives, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Quebec, New Brunswick, and Prince Edward Island did not return a single Conservative. The King government had a majority of only one including labor and (Continued on Page Four)
