COW BAY QUESTION AGAIN BEFORE CITY BECAUSE OF DEMAND FOR THE WATERFRONT IN THAT NEIGHBORHOOD.

tees to be held today.

Ald. Stephens felt that the city should not be made responsible for a decision that would force the mosquito fleet into the harbor. The provision of the fishermen's wharf he felt was a matter for the government and not the city to undertake and, as long as no better accommodation was forthcoming, he was opposed to any move on the part of the city that would deprive the mosquito fleet of what little shelter it already possessed at Cow Bay.

Increased Demand

A question brought up by Ald. Smith as to the wisdom of making the exchange proposed, brought up the suggestion from Mayor Newton that the city should demand 300 instead of 200 feet of waterfront from the provincial government and that the exchange should only be made on the understanding that the Dominion government would use the property for the furnishing of facilities for the fishing fleet.

Ald. McMordie thought that the mayor's suggestion was an excellent one. He moved, however, that the matter be left over until the Monday night meeting of the council so that it might be more fully studied. Ald. Larsen seconded the motion.

Ald. Stephens was of the opinion that the boat owners and the fishermen should be consulted before the city took any definite step.

Mayor Newton felt it would be a pity to shelve the decision of the council until Monday night. He called a meeting of the joint fisheries committee for Saturday afternoon and he was desirous that the decision of the council would have been made in time to present to that meeting.

Ald. McMordie then agreed to withdraw the motion to lay the matter over and submitted another that the exchange be made on the basis of the city receiving three hundred feet of waterfront. Ald. Larsen again seconded.

Waterfront Not Required

Ald. Stephens again expressed his belief that the city should not assume responsibility in the matter of a fishermen's wharf. A great expenditure would be involved and he felt that if the city obtained the waterfront in question it would be impossible to do anything with it. It would only lie idle like the 200 feet of waterfront the city already had. The city would require no more waterfront if the Dominion government furnished the shelter required.

Mayor Newton told how he had hoped for the last three years that some solution would be reached to provide accommodation for the fishermen and people coming to the city in boats to do business. He still hoped that, ere he relinquished office, such a solution might be reached. He believed that the motion submitted was the only means of bringing the matter to a head and for that reason he would like to see it passed.

Would Vote Against

Ald. Casey wanted to know what the mayor's idea was in trying to force the question to a vote. Why should the council not be allowed a few days' time to consider the matter? He saw no reason why it was necessary for the city council to reach a decision in advance of the joint committee. The boat owners and fishermen had as much right to make the decision as the council and were perhaps better qualified to do so. If a vote was forced immediately, Ald. Casey said he would vote against the whole proposal.

Ald. Perry suggested that members of the council should inspect the site before making a final decision. Mayor Newton hoped that such an inspection could be made in time for the council to reach a decision before the joint meeting of the fisheries committee.

Ald. Casey still could not see why the mayor insisted on having a decision by the council before the meeting of the joint committees.

No Need to Hurry

Mr. Naden felt that the city need be in no hurry to make a decision for a day or so. He could always be communicated with at Victoria.

Thereupon, Ald. Stephens moved an amendment that, when adequate protection was afforded the mosquito fleet satisfactory to the boat owners and the city council either by the provincial or federal government, the council would not withhold its consent to the agreement. Ald. Smith seconded the amendment.

Mayor Newton said he was in agreement with the purport of the motion but he was of the opinion that such a decision would only tend to further delay the consummation of the object desired. The better plan he though would be to pass the motion tacitly agreeing on the exchange for 300 feet providing the federal government met the requirements of building a shelter for the mosquito fleet.

Meeting Breaks Up

Ald. Casey then asked that he be excused from the meeting. Mayor Newton requested Ald. Casey to remain with the promise that there would not be further delay. Ald. Casey was not, however, to be persuaded that the question would be promptly put. After Ald. Casey had left the chamber, Ald. Stephens said he was not prepared to vote unless there was a full expression of the council and he, too, moved to his coat and hat and was not coaxed back. In the meantime, Ald. Smith also left.

It looked like the meeting was to break up at this juncture, but the mayor pointed out there was still a quorum. The amendment of Ald. Stephens was then put and no one voted for it, after which Ald. McMordie's motion was passed unanimously by the mayor and the four aldermen—Ald. McMordie, Ald. Perry, Ald. McKechnie and Ald. Larsen—who were still left. Mayor Newton requested that the council make an inspection of the site this afternoon and the meeting came to a close at 7.15.

"Code of the West"

Zane Grey's roaring western melodrama with comedy trimmings. The story of a sturdy son of the West who taught a flapper daughter of the effete East the art of living and loving. The startling adventures of a 1925 girl in an 1825 town. The Broadway beauty who tried to vamp a cowpuncher. He could hoglie a steer in two minutes. See how long it took to tame her. East is East and West is West and when the two meet and mix the action is fast and furious. Spectacular forest fire scenes and a thousand foot leap of horse and rider from cliff to river. Noted cast.

Owen Moore, Constance Bennett, David Butler, Charles Ogle, Edward Gribbon, Mabel Ballin, Gertrude Short, Lillian Leighton and others
