Waterfront Whiffs

Schooner Wabash has been taken up on the McLean ways for painting and general overhaul after which she will be tied up for the winter.

Capt. Claude Ketchum, owner of the tugboat Wigwam, who suffered burns while on his boat recently, is rapidly recovering.

A Going Hound

Here he is again, Capt. "Handsome" Jim Morrison, skipper of the tugboat Tide Rip and a man of many broken tourist hearts, says that for speed in a gale his floating power plant will beat all comers and can travel as fast as a greased cat running down a rainbow. Yes, sir, while coming back from Oona River on Monday the Tide Rip got wafted along by the gale. With the engine hitting on all ten, and the wind doing its windiest, Cap had visions of being unable to stop in the harbor at all and going right through Tucks Inlet into the bush. However, he did manage to stop and tell the Whiff man the story.

A Close Shave

Capt. Jack Cook, owner and skipper of the launch Joy Bird, had a narrow escape this week and nearly came to seriously injuring himself with a shot gun. While on his way to Metlakatla he thought he would try and fix his shot gun which would not throw out the shells, and placed two live shells in the breach while working. Finding he could not fix it, and while putting the gun down, the hammers, which were both closed, knocked on the seat with the result that the shells were exploded, the charge of shot passing along his finger and taking the flesh off the bone and just missing his eyes, the barrel being on a fortunate slant. As it was, the heat from the charge burned his eyes and forehead. Although bleeding badly Jack managed to get to Metlakatla where first aid was rendered. The gun was well greased and in setting it down it evidently slipped through Jack's hands knocking the hammers forcibly on the seat.

Tugboat M.T.3, Capt. R. Green, left for the Georgetown mill on Tuesday morning and brought down a scow of lumber for the Big Bay yards. The tug left again on Wednesday morning for Silver Creek to tow a 250,000 feet boom of logs to the Georgetown mill.

n Bergman, well known on er Island, is doing considerable extension work to his ful home at Oona River. latest addition is a sun C. Ivarson, contractor for the work, was in town on day for lumber and building supplies in this connection.

Ryan, owner of the power Arrive, Port Simpson, is considerable engine repair work executed at the Akerberg-Thomson shops.

Herbert Doolan, a resident of the Naas River district, has been getting a lot of repair work done on his boat this week, and he is all set for the return trip will be made as soon as sister is discharged from tal.

Good Suggestion

a recent meeting of the Club an assessment of $2 member was made to defray of yellow and blue Pierrot worn at the recent Gyro val. The members were of delighted to pay the two liners but then the question arose—what the heck can with the suits? Then budding genius suggested ng them in the bush while ng to prevent the wearer taken for a lion, which is d suggestion considering number of wonderful duck er busters the membership de up of.
