Last Year's Politicians

VICTORIA—In a statement today Nancy Hodges, former Speaker of the Legislature, criticized Social Credit Leader Solon Low for his charges in an address last night that patronage by old-line parties had greatly increased the taxes in British Columbia.

At a meeting Mr. Low said he was satisfied he could prove "patronage, as practised by oldline parties in B.C. have greatly increased the taxation of the people.

"In B.C.," he said, "there have been men who bought their way into office and kept themselves there by continual blackmail. All they thought they had to do to stay there was to buy nylons for ladies and whisky for men. MRS. HODGES REPLIES

Mrs. Hodges said she could say from first-hand knowledge that "it would be difficult to find more conscientious, hardworking and responsible public servants than the Liberals and Conservatives who have held office" during the time she has been a member of the legisla-

Comedian of Dumbells Dies

TORONTO (P) - Red Newman, 67, who rolled audiences of the 20's in aisles with his characterization of a flea-harried First World War infantryman, died yesterday at his Wasaga Beach Resort hotel of heart attack.

He made thousands laugh with his song "Oh, It's A Lovely War" when he played with the Dumbells across Canada to packed houses. He appeared briefly on Broadway.

LAST CHANCE-There are only a few hours left for those who have not seen the zoo on wheels at the CNR station. The African Zoo train, in which this rare Gibbon ape from Siam is living, leaves tonight. The ape never drinks, just dips his knuckles in water. Doors of the zoo close at 8:30 o'clock tonight, ending a week-long stand here. The zoo was sponsored here by the Prince Rupert Shrine Club with proceeds going to help underprivileged children in this city and district. The zoo train will be attached to the passenger train leaving here and will stop over at Terrace all day Monday.
