DAILY EDITION Friday, August 28, 1925.

Many Are Coming Here For The Fair.
Many people are coming to Prince Rupert for the big fair week. Intimations to that effect have been received here. It is to be a big event and Prince Rupert people will do well to extend themselves to the utmost to welcome the visitors and make the affair one of the biggest successes in the history of the city.

Boys' Band Is Very Worthy Cause.
The boys' band which is being formed here under a competent instructor is one of the most hopeful institutions Prince Rupert has had. Already there are nearly thirty lads learning the rudiments of music and practising on instruments with a view to becoming members. There is plenty of material to work on but the lack is chiefly in instruments. They are costly and there is no fund to draw on with which to purchase them.

People who appreciate music or who appreciate the work that is being done in placing the opportunity before the boys to get a training in band music may well take this opportunity of showing it. Some individuals have donated instruments and others have given cash towards purchasing them. Just a few more are needed.

Splendid Move Of Allied Nations.
The nations which were allied to fight Germany are still allied in an effort to secure a permanent peace that will tend to prevent future wars. They have sent a suggestion to Germany and this suggestion promises to be the basis of a conference leading to a better condition of affairs.

The war between Germany and the allies was fought stubbornly on both sides and at times it seemed doubtful which would win. Fortune favored the allies with the assistance of the United States, and peace came. However, following the peace there was much natural irritation, a condition that is rapidly passing away. Today there is a better feeling and if the nations get together and Germany once more resumes her position in the council of nations, there should be such a change as will make for permanent peace. The effort is worth while.

Everyone Notices Improvement Here.
All visitors notice the general improvement of the city of Prince Rupert, especially the improvement in the condition of the streets. The backwoods appearance is rapidly passing and there is a more permanent and modern condition being assumed. That makes for stability.

The next move will be to beautify the city. Rows of trees on the streets and boulevards have been suggested but that would be a doubtful improvement. It would make Prince Rupert just like other cities and would not be distinctive. Trees are not needed in a damp climate but low shrubs would be more suitable. We do not need shade. We need all the sunshine that offers. This must be borne in mind by those who are anxious to make improvements along this line.

This Good Time To Visit Interior
This is a good time for Prince Rupert people, who so desire, to visit the interior. The coming week a fair is being held at Smithers and on Labor Day the big annual barbecue is the attraction at Telkwa. On those occasions the people from all the country side gather and it is an excellent opportunity to meet them.

The interior is steadily developing. It may not be growing just as fast as some people wish or as others should think it should but, as Mr. Phelan told the Rotary Club yesterday, there is a steady and marked advancement. Prince Rupert must keep in touch with the interior centres and be in a position to cooperate with them just as they co-operated with us in securing the grain elevator.

OUT OF TOWN BUYERS' WEEK

Special Opportunity For Visitors to Get Fare Paid to Prince Rupert

At this season of the year it is usual for those living in districts removed from large business centres to contemplate their winter requirements in the way of clothing, groceries, etc., and it is in the fall of the year the large household purchases are made.

Special Buyers' Week
The Prince Rupert Retail Merchants' Association will this year make it possible for out-of-town consumers to spend a very remunerative time in the city during Fair Week, September 6, to September 12, when business and pleasure can be combined at the minimum of cost.

This association has organized a Buyers' Week, similar to that held so successfully in Vancouver recently, and offers to refund railway or boat fare to each out-of-town visitor whose combined purchases in Prince Rupert amount to not less than $100. Refunds will be based on excursion rates applying at the time. Boat fares, on which there are no reduced rates, will be refunded on the basis of fare and one-third. The only articles exempt from merchandise to make up the $100 are sugar, canned milk, flour and feed.

Good Entertainment
The association has also provided excellent entertainment to visitors during this week including a banquet, dance and launch trips. The Buyers' Week will, therefore, offer a splendid opportunity to those living in remote districts to obtain their purchases at first hand from business houses, which stand behind their goods, and at the same time spend a very enjoyable holiday.

Upon arrival in the city visitors will register at the Board of Trade rooms, City Hall, and deposit their receipts for transportation paid and obtain a buyers' book wherein will be registered all purchases made in the city.

TWENTY INSTRUMENTS FOR BOYS' BAND WILL BE READY IN MONTH

Several More Needed to Bring New Organization up to Concert Strength; Boys are Keen

Within a month it is expected that twenty instruments will be available for the Boy's Band which is being formed here. Of these twelve are being provided by the First B.C. Regiment and eight by other citizens. Five or six more are needed to bring the band up to strength so that it may be in a position to give good performances.

Colonel J. W. Nicholls at the Rotary luncheon yesterday, said he dropped into the basement of the church the other evening and found 25 boys all intensely interested learning some of the first principles of music under the new bandmaster and he felt sure anyone seeing those boys so keen would be willing to help so worthy a cause. The youngsters ranged in age from ten to fourteen, most of them being about eleven or twelve years old. The city had been generous and given $150 and several local institutions had promised help. More was yet needed, however. Tenders would be invited at once for the supplying of instruments.

SEES GREAT GROWTH IN PRINCE RUPERT

Also Settlements of Interior are Developing Fast Says J. T. Phelan at Rotary Luncheon

"I was surprised to see the growth that has taken place in Prince Rupert since my last visit," said J. T. Phelan, superintendent of the Government telegraph service at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday afternoon. The condition of the streets especially is wonderful compared with the early days. The surrounding district has also developed fast. In the Bulkley and Nechaco valleys settlement is proceeding and the towns along the railway are building up rapidly.

Mr. Phelan said that undoubtedly this place had a great future and the elevator would be a great assistance to settlers as well as to the development of this port. He took a great pride in noting the growth of this city.

Ronald Kingham, a member of the Victoria Rotary Club and a brother of Mrs. Sid Johnstone and Mrs. George Clothier, who had been in a visit to Stewart urged all members of the club to visit Victoria for the next Rotary convention.

C. H. Orme was the principal speaker of the day.

The Man in the Moon SAYS--

'Twas just a little joke he had
The cop was feeling funny;
He ran the prisoner in the coop,
Refused to take his money.

'Twas just a little joke they had
The boys went into swim;
Some girls came by and stole their clothes
And hung them on a limb.

'Twas just a little joke they had
The boys who went to school,
They drove the teacher from the room
And ducked him in the pool.

'Twas just a little joke he had,
The lads unruly were;
The teacher heked them all until
They murmured "Pardon, sir."

As a place to spend part of Sunday the church has the advantage over some places. Mosquitoes seldom bother you there or sand flies.

Our idea of an optimist is one who expects to stop Prince Rupert making progress.

Neighbors were created so that you might have someone to talk about you and speculate as to where you were last night.

I wish I had a neighbor
Who'd hold her nimble tongue
And keep her kids from sprawling
My flower beds among.
I would esteem and cherish
Such action on her part.
A deaf and dumb and childless dame
Would surely reach my heart.

Any person who is habitually stewed is sure to make a hash of things.

While a man does not marry his wife's relatives, it is just as well to give them the once over before he asks the fatal question from his prospective bride.

Convincing
The constable was fresh to his job—and looked it. He held up his hand as a motorist flashed through the village. The car slowed down.

"What's your name and address, sir?" asked the police officer. "You were travelling at the rate of 50 miles an hour just now."

"Why," protested the motorist, "I haven't been out an hour yet."

"All right, sir," said the policeman, apologetically, after a moment's thought.

"Go ahead. That's a new one to me!"

Put Real Mustard in Your Kit

Right at the top of the list of camping necessities is a tin or two of real Mustard.

Men who fish and men who shoot know what a spiciness and flavour mustard freshly mixed with cold water adds to the ham, bacon, fowl, venison and other good things they eat in camp.
