baby rattle, everything is on view to give delight to the future generation.

Stores catering to the older people have excelled themselves this year in selecting remarkable and comprehensive stocks. Among the many beautiful things on display are jewellery, including cut glass, toilet sets and thousands of other suitable gifts, furniture embodying many useful and sensible gifts for the home, dainty ladies' wear and sensible winter coats, fur coats and chokers, while the drug stores are a veritable fairyland of gifts for all ages. Then come the department stores with a multitude of wonderful presents, the shoe stores and men's clothing stores, and the tobacconists have many things that mere man would be delighted to receive on the great day. A great feature of the stocks carried locally this year is the remarkable range in prices which are suitable for all pockets. Gifts can be secured for one dollar while the range upwards goes to several hundreds.

Christmas Trees

The surrounding country has been raided during the past few days by both young and old for Christmas trees and the city is fortunate in having such a wonderful growth of the much sought branches right at its door.

Taking all in all, Christmas 1925 in Prince Rupert bids fair to be one of the greatest in the city's history.
