BANQUET IN WINNIPEG.

French Canadian Excursionists from Prairies on Way to Spend Christmas in East

WINNipeg, Dec. 21.—Nearly three hundred French speaking men and women from the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, left Winnipeg on the second lap of a journey which will bring them on Christmas Eve to the famous shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, Quebec, to assist in the celebration of midnight mass. After a busy afternoon in Winnipeg, when the delegates from further west were welcomed by dignitaries of church and state, the pilgrims left by special train over the Canadian National Railways and will continue their journey by easy stages to Ste. Anne, after which they will return to Montreal where the party will break up, the travellers returning singly or in small groups after spending their Christmas holidays with their old friends and relatives in their native province.

This is the first time that western Canada French Canadians have paid such an official visit to their friends in the east under the title "Survivance Franco Canadienne." This excursion is expected to develop into an annual affair, and also to result in a closer union between French speaking citizens of east and west.

Take Along Exhibits

While the purpose of the excursion is really that of spending the Christmas season among old home surroundings, vital problems of migration within Canada is not being overlooked and a special car of exhibits attached to the special train and arranged by the Saskatchewan government will show the people of Quebec what western Canada can produce from her farms.

The post office is jammed with mail and people will not take it out of the boxes fast enough for the officials to keep it clear. The postmaster says it will help out a lot with the Christmas business if patrons will take their mail away so that the space behind may not be filled up.

Gets Pole Contract in East and Will Keep His Camps Running in B.C.

Olof Hanson, on return from Ottawa, says Robb and Stork devoting energy toward securing grain for Rupert elevator

Olof Hanson, head of the Hanson Timber & Lumber Co., returned to this city on this morning's train after a business trip to Eastern Canada and the United States including New York, Montreal, Toronto, Chicago, Ottawa and other points.

In Chicago, Mr. Hanson obtained a good-sized pole contract. While the company has the stock on hand in the interior to about fill the contract, Mr. Hanson stated that, as a result of receiving it, he will be enabled to keep his present organization going in a small way.

At C.N.R. headquarters, Mr.

Hanson took up the matter of tie contracts for this district and found that it had been definitely decided that about 500,000 ties would be taken this winter from the district west of Prince George. This is about half of the ties that the railway bought last winter from this district. Mr. Hanson was definitely informed that no increase was to be expected.

Speaking of lumber market conditions generally, Mr. Hanson states that the situation remains about the same as it has been during the past few months. An improvement in the spring is, however, looked forward to.

At Ottawa, Mr. Hanson found that Hon. J. A. Robb, acting minister of trade and commerce, and Fred Stork, M.P., were devoting much energy toward having grain shipments directed through the Prince Rupert elevator as soon as possible after it is completed. The weather all through the East, Mr. Hanson says, was fine and exceptionally mild for this time of the year. The prairies when he passed through were still clear of snow.

Soon after the New Year, Mr. Hanson plans a trip for the benefit of his health. He will probably go to South America and Mrs. Hanson will accompany him.

SPRING MEET LEGISLATURE

Proposal to Change After This as Time too Short Before Christmas

VICTORIA, Dec. 21.—The probability is that the Legislature will return to spring sessions after this, it being found that the time is too short to complete the business before the holidays, when the work begins early in November. While the House must sit some time during 1926, it may be called together and adjourn without necessitating the members from distant constituencies travelling as far as the capital. This could be done by arrangement with the leader of the opposition who would allow the pairing of members not present.

It is suggested that this year the plan would have been adopted were it not for the university over-commits, which the government was anxious to have sanctioned by the Legislature at as early a date as possible.
