The old Tiffany Building, at Fifteenth Street and Union Square, New York City.

Laid 57 years ago this roof is still good!

Back in 1868, the old Tiffany Building at 15th Street and Union Square, New York City, was roofed with Barrett Pitch and Felt. This roof is still staunchly weathertight!

Today the Barrett Specification Roof (bonded against repair or maintenance expense for 20 years) stands as the leader of a wide line of Barrett Built-up Roofs.

We know roofs. But we don't know any that can match the endurance records of scores of Barrett roofs of this type-roofs built 40 or more years ago that are still in excellent condition.

Isn't that the kind of roof you want for your building? Come in. We will be glad to help you with your roofing problem.
