POLAR BEAR DEAD IN SOUTH

Barrow, Who Passed Through
Prince Rupert Four Years Ago, Found Floating in Pool

Barrow, the polar bear which passed through here in 1921 on the Hudson Bay schooner Lady Kindersley and which has since made his home in Stanley Park, Vancouver, was found dead floating in a pool there last Sunday morning.

In accounting for the bear's death, two theories are advanced. One suggestion is that he was taken with a fit while swimming and the other is that he dived into the pool and struck his head with such force as to stun himself.

A little blood was flowing from the nostrils when the bear was discovered, but examination by a veterinary surgeon disclosed that all the organs were in 1921 and brought to Vancouver healthy condition and there was no trace of poison. At 10 o'clock Saturday night, when the zoo miserable-looking little fellow keeper made his rounds, Barrow was in excellent spirits. At 7 a.m. when he arrived. A drum of oil adrift on the deck of the schooner in a gale and coated the bear's fur. It was weeks before it was cleaned off and the cub refused to face the public. It turned its back on the spectators.

Later a fine new cage with pool was constructed for the native of the Arctic and in these quarters Barrow thrived. He had a beautiful coat and was a great attraction at the park. His swimming and diving entertained thousands. A wooden ball was his favorite toy and his antics with this always resulted in a crowd gathering.

on the ice off Point Barrow by the crew of the Lady Kindersley in 1921 and brought to Vancouver. As a cub, he was presented to the Park Zoo. Barrow was a Saturday night, when the zoo miserable-looking little fellow keeper made his rounds, Barrow was in excellent spirits. At 7 a.m. Sunday he was dead.

Grief followed the news of his passing. A lonely citizen who visited the bear every evening and fed him dainties, broke down and cried. He was a great friend of Barrow and the bear watched for him and welcomed him.

SEVENTY YEARS MARRIED LIFE

Romantic Pioneer Life of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson of Ontario

STIRLING, Ont., July 22.—If Joshua Anderson and his wife, who reside on Anderson Island a small tract of land cut off from the mainland by the Trent River and one of its branches, live until October 29 next they will celebrate the 70th anniversary of their marriage. The husband is 99 and Mrs. Anderson 10 years his junior. Mr. Anderson was born in Northumberland county, not more than a mile from his present home, on January 21, 1826.

When Mr. Anderson was 11 years old his parents moved to Anderson Island, which was named for the family, taking possession of the farm on which the son and his wife still live. That was in 1837, the year of the breaking out of the Mackenzie rebellion.

One of the older boys in the family belonged to the militia and his company was called to Belleville. Joshua and another brother visited the soldier at the barracks in Belleville, walking the distance, 22 miles, through the woods, over a rough trail. They slept one night in the barracks with the soldiers, all of whom were anxious to get to the fighting line, but the trouble was settled without their aid. Peterborough (Ont.) Examiner comments.

Mrs. Anderson, whose maiden name was Mary Parcells, was born near the home of her future husband on April 3, 1836, on Easter Sunday. The couple were married on October 29, 1855, by Rev. William Black, pastor in charge of what was then a mission station of the Methodist denomination at Stirling.

PIONEER LIFE

The young couple took up the hard life of the pioneers. They had to literally hew their home out of the wilderness, but they overcame all difficulties and obstacles and are now spending their declining years in peace and comfort. They raised a family of ten children, seven of whom are still living.

INTO A LIFE SO LONG, NO MATTER HOW SECLUDED, TRAGEDY WAS SURE TO COME.

THE FIRST REAL SORROW THAT CAST ITS SHADOW OVER THE HOME WAS THE DROWNING OF TWO OF THE CHILDREN, ANGELINA AND RICHARD, AGED 10 AND 11 YEARS, WHO BROKE THROUGH THE ICE ON THE RIVER ON THEIR WAY FROM SCHOOL. THE AGED EYES OF THE MOTHER FILLED WITH TEARS AS SHE RECORDED THE AGE OF ANY ONE OLDER.

IN THE CASE OF MR. AND MRS. ANDERSON, LONGEVITY APPEARS TO BE A MATTER OF HEREDITY. THE FORMER'S MOTHER DIED AT THE AGE OF 95 AND IN THE STIRLING CEMETERY THERE IS NOT A MONUMENT RECORDING THE AGE OF ANY ONE OLDER.

MRS. ANDERSON'S GRANDFATHER, JOHN PARCELLS, ATTAINED THE AGE OF 100 YEARS AND 11 MONTHS.
