CHANGING SYSTEM OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

On the recommendation of an expensive commission, British Columbia school authorities are planning changes in the public school system with the object of better adapting the education of the young people to the life on which they are to embark after they leave school. But after all the system avails little. It is the spirit of the authorities and the teachers that counts most.

Some time ago a move in the direction of preventing the break between what are known as the public schools and the high schools He is part of us and we are part of by grading regularly from the day the child is admitted to the him. Our conscience is his voice that public school to the day it leaves the high school. All are part of lives within us eternally telling us if the public school system and there is no natural break. It is purely we are doing right or wrong. artificial, created largely by the change in name of the school and the separate organization with somewhat different methods of in- verity, that we are part of God and struction. The first group of grades are known commonly as public school grades and the higher grades are high school grades. Possibly the best way to get rid of the gap would be to have all in one school under one supervising principal and with no more difficulty in passing from Grade 8 to Grade 9 than there would be in passing from Grade 2 to Grade 3.

However, the powers have decreed that the method to be carried out is to have a middle school, which it is to be supposed includes the appointment of another principal and the institution of another set of official examinations. Unite all the schools and you get rid of the official examinations and the fiction that there is something lities." different about a high school from a public school.

Froebel's idea was that the kindergarten methods should be carried through all the grades from the primary to the university to outside firms who are financially graduation and many educationists are of the same opinion but it is difficult to overcome official prejudice.

READY TO CONGRATULATE

PRINCE GEORGE PEOPLE. We are getting ready to congratulate Prince George people on their good fortune in securing a pulp and paper mill, something for which they have been waiting a long time. They rejoiced with us over the establishment of our elevator and we shall be glad to reciprocate. Just as they benefit from the elevator here, so shall benefit from their big mill. If developments continue as at Telephone Dept Surplus ... 5,781.17 past few months in the Kalum Lake bore. present we shall soon be asking for two trains daily instead of just a daily train service on this line.

DEVELOPMENTS ARE COMING FAST.

A fine new tourist hotel has been planned for this city and is likely to be built. Plans are being prepared for the new sawmill. at Seal Cove. The elevator is in operation and just now is full of about $10,000 dollars. wheat. QUEEN MARIE'S IDEA OF GOD.

Editor, Daily News: Some one asked Queen Marie

Roumania to tell her idea of God. The Queen writes:

How dare I approach the tremendous subject of God! The name of God the same as good. God is the unchangeable ever flowing fountain o good. The essence of all good.

God created all things. Out of him flow all things. Nothing can exist without God. God is the source of the be were there no God. In fact, we are part of God as are the stars, the sea the mountains, the trees, the beasts, the stones of the field. All come from and return to God to that which always was and always will be.

If we deny God we deny ourselves our birthright, our right to eternal life God made all things, molding one from another and developing one from the ther through acons and when at last he made man he said "It is good" and blew his spirit into man, considering im the perfection of creation so excellent that he found him to be worthy to be the bearer of his own spirit.

Thus each of us has a spark of God within us. It belongs to God. It God. Has but one craving to return to God. This life is given us so that we may gradually overcome what the flesh and return to God to that fount whence all is sprung. Yet God for all that we turn from him lives in us always. He does not give us up

Just understand this one stupendous God is part of us and all becomes simple and clear for evermore.

FINANCING CIVIC UNDERTAKINGS

Editor Daily News Referring to your editorial of Nov. consider it my duty to the citizens perusal of the pages referred to will prove that every item has received proper consideration and attention. Maintenance work has been carried out, thus eliminating the possibility of mpoverishing the plants for the benefit of surplus. Interest and redemption charges have been paid. Some of the utilities are returning to general revenue, monies borrowed for extensions, and, in the case of the light department paying 2 tax of 3% on gross earnings—which amounted to approximately three thoumarks apply particularly to the light and telephone departments. Turning to the water department it likewise appears that maintenance, interest and redemption charges have taken into consideration. This statement, however, shows a deficit of $7,000.00 on operation. Keeping in mind that we have a trunk water system capable of supplying a population of some 40,000, or about 6 times our present population, the reason for this deficit may be explained. SHORT BY $4,000

On looking over this statement we fell short of covering the interest and edemption charges by some $4,000. This deficit might be eliminated by any BY SPECIAL REQUEST, THE MUSICAL of the following methods: absorbing the surplus of the other utilities, or raising the rates, or raising the tax levy. The latter method has been adopted in the past. When one takes into consideration the reasons for adopting this method, no exception can or should be taken. A proportion of the fixed system was orginally prepared with the idea of having at all times adequate fire protection. From this point of view. it would be unfair and detrimental to the City's interest either to raise the rates of the water department, or to place the rates of the light and telephone departments on a higher level and create a surplus to compensate the water department for what might really be termed a book deficit. CITY INDEBTEDNESS

On page 10 is shown a "Statement of the Authorized Indebtedness of the City." The following should refute the statement in the first paragraph of your editorial under the above heading. and also after having received the explanations of "Ex-Alderman" and "Ex-Mayor McClymont" re the serial bond system of financing adopted by the
