Like to See the Navy Boys in the City.

It's good to see the boys of the British navy in the city. It's a sign of security. True, we pay nothing for the privilege. Just at present we get our protection free of cost, but that cannot go on for ever. We shall have to do our share eventually, one way or the other. If Canada were to join the United States, she would have to pay her share of the U. S. Navy, but because we are part of the British Empire and John Bull is a good-natured old cuss, we are able to impose on him ad libitum.

Victoria Liberal on Election Issues.

B. J. Nicholas, editor of the Victoria Times, speaking to the Laurier Club at Vancouver, is reported as follows:

"I am not a constitutional authority and am probably the only man in Victoria who is not, and I prefer to leave the Byng question on dissolution to those who have studied the matter, but I imagine the Canadian people will insist on control of their own affairs.

"There is no question that Lord Byng acted with the utmost sincerity, but he is not an experienced politician. His action is not going to be disastrous. It has been a good thing for the Liberal party, as it has presented it with an opportunity to demonstrate the most important issue of maintaining at all costs the supremacy of Canadian Parliament and responsible government.

"But the Liberal party does not need to go to the electors on the constitutional issue. It should emphasize the inefficiency of Mr. Meighen in allowing to go to slaughter all the legislation of Parliament following the action of Lord Byng.

"The only conclusion to follow is that Mr. Meighen was hostile to that legislation. The budget, the Liberal attitude on freight rates, western grain shipments—these and other Liberal policies are the questions to place before the people at the coming election."

Provincial Police for Whole of British Columbia.

The Vancouver Province, Conservative, discussing the policing question says:

Gradually, the provincial police are taking over the enforcement of the law in British Columbia. On Vancouver Island, outside Victoria, there will be practically no local police left within a month, and the provincial force will be in control everywhere. On the mainland, too, several cities and districts have completed policing agreements with the government and others have the matter under consideration. It is beginning to appear that, within a very short time, we shall have no local police left in the province outside the capital and Greater Vancouver.

In many ways, the change should make for efficiency. We have had too many police forces in the past, and there has been a great deal of overlapping and interference. This will be eliminated. Through the use of the motor car, the modern criminal has acquired great mobility. He is here one minute and in another city or municipality the next and the police force that lacks the authority to follow him through all his twists and turns is seriously handicapped.

The old rural constable has long been a joke. The limitations of his sphere prevented him getting any worth-while experience, and his methods were often crude and not particularly effective. It was easy for the criminal to study his foibles and circumvent him. The provincial constable will be a much harder nut to crack. Greater Authority Than Local Officers.

In small cities and villages, a provincial officer will always have greater authority than a local officer could have. He is the arm of a power outside, as it were, and as that power is somewhat distant and mysterious, there is a tendency to magnify its strength and to respect it accordingly. It is possible, too, under the provincial system, to have officers specialize in certain crime problems so that, when a particular type of crime is committed, an expert is at once available. Another advantage is that an officer can always be shifted to another place if there is any suspicion that he is forming undesirable alliances.

The elasticity of the plan makes it possible to concentrate the constables from several districts quickly at any point where they may be needed. Being under a single head, they are instantly available. It has been found, too, that the provincial force can do policing more cheaply than local police can, and that it is much more efficient in handling the liquor problem.

TERRACE NOTES

Mrs. A. C. Head and daughter Dorothy returned home on Saturday after several days spent in Prince Rupert.

Mrs. Olaf Hanson, Linea and Olaf Jr., of Prince Rupert and Smithers, arrived from the latter place on Friday to spend a short holiday with Mrs. George Little. They were joined here on Sunday by Mr. Hanson who came in on the excursion train from Prince Rupert.

Mrs. Willow of Usk was a visitor in town at the week end.

W. E. Sparkes and son Jack returned on Sunday from a short trip to Hazelton.

D. W. Davis and J. M. Hoar, mining men of Kalum Lake and R. Farnin, mining engineer of Sandpoint, Idaho, came in from Kalum Lake on Saturday and went up to Vanarsdol to inspect the mining claims of W. E. Van Meter.

Jno. Willman of Usk was a visitor here on Sunday.

Mrs. Geo. E. Keith was at home to a large number of friends at the tea hour on Friday.

Terrace turned out in force to greet the arrival of the excursionists on Sunday morning and entered into and enjoyed the day's sports quite as much as the visitors. Weather conditions were on the whole very favorable, the rain of the day before having laid the dust and freshened up the foliage. Local people very much appreciated the splendid music of the boys' band and were very generous in their praise of that body. The hope that the G.N.R. will make the excursion an annual affair was expressed by many visitors as well as by the local people.

Mrs. J. K. Frost entertained at afternoon tea on Saturday in honor of Mrs. Olaf Hanson of Smithers.

The rain of Saturday was greatly welcomed by the berry growers and will add materially to both the size and duration of the crop. While some of the farmers had hay cut the rain was not heavy enough to harm it to any extent.

Experts from the Summerland Experimental Farm who have been in the district during the past week have been investigating the blight which is very apparent on many of the local apple orchards where in some cases the fruit is withering and dropping off or so covered with scab as to be unfit for use. They express the opinion that it is not a pest as many surmised, but is due to too early development owing to the unusually open winter and early spring. This, followed by a long cold spell during which there was no growth, is the cause of the fruit not maturing properly.

D. D. Munro of the Land Settlement Board, arrived on Sunday on a short visit to his home here.

Professor Wickenden of Manual College, Saskatoon, arrived in town on Saturday to spend his vacation with Rev. W. F. Barfoot here. He occupied the pulpit in the Anglican Church on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCawley of Prince Rupert came up on Saturday and spent the week end in town.

Constable and Mrs. S. Service and two children arrived in town on Friday from Prince George having been transferred from that place to the Terrace district.

D. G. Munro of Prince Rupert spent the week end with his family here.

Mrs. W. H. Burnett was a bridge hostess on Saturday evening.

A. E. Dickie and T. M. J. Fortune, C.N.R. representatives of Prince Rupert, arrived in town on Saturday to make preparations for the entertainment of the excursionists the next day.

Among former Terrace residents who were here on Sunday with the excursion party were Miss Ethel Christie, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Large and Evelyn, Mrs. Louis, Vernon Glass, Evelyn Rice, Mrs. O'Neill.

Dr. and Mrs. Learoyd and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McLaughlin of Anyox who have been holidaying at Kalum Lake arrived in town on Saturday and went to Lakelse Lake on Monday to spend a few days before returning home.

H. L. Davis, C. Woollam and G. Dobbie of Usk were Terrace visitors on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brooke of Edmonton are spending a few days here.
