commission for 10 of the last 20 years that he has served, received a pen and pencil set from the citizens for his work.

The city of Prince Rupert was represented by Mayor Harold Whalen and Aldermen George Casey, John Currie, Mike Krueger and city clerk Bill Long.

Ald. Casey, veteran Rupert alderman, told the citizens here he was delighted to participate in the celebration to acknowledge the development of the village and district.

Mayor Whalen congratulated the village on its development and said he hoped it would continue to strive ahead.

Ald. Currie was making his first visit to Terrace in 30 years. Believed to be the oldest active alderman in Canada, he came here first when there was only a railway station, a sawmill and a couple of farms.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Miss Brash's gambling three-no-trump bid should have been defeated. That is, the defenders could have won the first five tricks in the heart suit. But Mr. Muzzy effectively loused up the play at the very first trick.

Mr. Champion opened his fourth best heart, the six. Trying to show no sign of distress, Miss Brash bravely played low from the board. Mr. Muzzy obligingly played the king—and the chance to beat the hand was gone.

Mr. Muzzy is completely unpredictable. Often he will refuse to go up with the king third hand in a situation where he should make that play. His reason at those times is that he doesn't want to "sacrifice" his king to declarer's ace.

For some reason he didn't have that fear in today's hand. "Why not play your 10 on the first trick, Muzzy?" inquired Mr. Champion savagely.

Mr. Muzzy had an answer ready. "Because Miss Brash might have had the lone jack," he replied.

"She couldn't have the jack," said Mr. Champion. "She could not have any card higher than the six spot. Use the rule of 11. Subtract six from 11 and that leaves five. There were five cards outside my hand, higher than the six. You had three higher hearts and the dummy had two. Therefore Miss Brash didn't have any."

Mr. Muzzy was confused. Falling back on one of his old alibis he said, "I always play third hand high—and most of the time it's the right play."

Mr. Champion never gives up.
