FIERCE STORM IN ILLINOIS

Much Damage But Relief From Drought Around Chicago

CHICAGO, June 14.—Ten persons were killed and hundreds of homes are flooded, bridges on the highway and railway tracks washed out and wire communication disrupted and scores of fires resulted from a terrific wind, electrical and torrential rainstorms that swept the middle west Sunday causing thousands of dollars property damage as well as bringing relief to drought stricken areas.

Rockford, Ills., bore the brunt of the storm, four a and a half inches of rain falling in an hour causing streams to overflow and carrying away bridges with autos.

FUEL OIL TAX IS THROWN OUT

Appeal Court Upholds Finding of Judge in Declaring Tax Illegal

VICTORIA, June 14.—The appeal of the Attorney General against the decision of Mr. Justice Morrison last April that the fuel tax passed by the Legislature in 1923 was ultra vires of the provincial legislature because the impost was an indirect tax.

The decision means that the provincial government loses revenue amounting to $400,000 annually and it is likely that an appeal will be taken direct to the privy council by the government as the gasoline tax may also become involved.

PEACEFUL PICKETING IS AN OFFENSE UNDER THE LAWS OF CANADA

OTTAWA, June 14.—The supreme court decided today that peaceful picketing during strikes is unlawful in Canada.

ASSAULT CASE OPENS IN ASSIZE COURT WITH ONE WITNESS HEARD SO FAR

over to a table. Mackenzie had been holding her on the bench so she could not get away. His arm was around her waist and she could not get away although she had tried. She was placed on the table face down. A handkerchief was stuck in her mouth and she was smothered. A portion of her clothing was pulled off. She screamed half a dozen times and called for help before and after the handkerchief had been placed in her mouth. After a garment of her clothing had been removed, Casey and Capstick went away saying if she did not "come through" they would be back. She was screaming and trying to get away and Mackenzie said if she didn't 'shut up" he would give her "a biff on the jaw." Finally, she freed herself and started to run home, Mackenzie after her and trying to get her back in the park. On arriving home, she informed the police by telephone. In answer to Mr. Johnson, witness told of bruises on her hip and knees and scratches on her face and shoulders. She got the bruises from the edge of the table and not from blows

Cross Examined

Mr. Gonzales, defence counsel, subjected the witness to a rather lengthy cross-examination. She denied having said at a dance in the Exhibition Hall that "she had got the boys going at Hazelton and would have them going here." She admitted that she had gone to the Park several times "smoking cigarettes and having a good time." She was about to go home when the three boys came into the park but had been asked to stay by another girl. No boy had told her to "get out and go home." She was pulled down on the bench by Murdoch Mackenzie before the other girls and boys had left. There were several young people within a short distance when she was pulled down and being held on the bench. She called for help but none of them would respond. One girl said "I have already rescued one and I can't rescue another." She called "Help, Help," to one of the boys. She had not been asked to ride home in a car. She denied walking from the bench to the table but stated positively that the three boys had carried her while she was struggling and kicking to get away. She denied having had a smoke with Mackenzie. She had not yelled when the handkerchief was in her mouth but before it had been placed there and after she had managed to take it out.

At 1 o'clock the trial adjourned until 2.15 with the most of the witnesse yet to be heard this afternoon."

CLEVELAND IS TAKING LEAD

Holds "Canada Day" For Purpose Cultivating International Good Will

Last week the City of Cleveland held a "Canada Day" for the purpose of cultivating international good will. Incidentally the editor of the Daily News was personally invited to be present on the occasion. In setting out the subjects of the occasion the following statement was issued:

Cleveland, for the first time in the history of any American city, has officially dedicated a day to Canada, for the purpose of celebrating over one hundred years of peace and good will.

It is a generous expression of neighborliness, a hope for another century of friendly cooperation, and Cleveland has invited her Canadian neighbors to come over and seal anew the bonds of friendship—an invitation that has been gladly accepted by thousands.

The great summer playgrounds of Canada are growing more popular with us every year. Over ten million American tourits travelled into Canada during the season of 1925, a number larger than the entire population of Canada itself.

In propoftion as Canada grows and prospers will our own commercial opportunities expand. The natural resources of Canada are being rapidly developed. The United States is certain to benefit by co-operating with Canada to encourage her tourist industry and the growth of her vast natural resources.

Canada, if not now, will some day be our best and greatest foreign market. A closer contact with our northern neighbors will create a better understanding. A more friendly acquaintance will increase good will and result in substantial benefits to these two great nations.
