

TORIES ATTACK ELEVATOR HERE

Local Structure and Its Leasing Game In for Criticism in Ottawa at Week End

OTTAWA, June 22.—The Prince Rupert elevator was the object of another Conservative attack in the House of Commons at the end of the week. The matter came up in connection with the consideration of a vote of $1,500,000 for the administration of the Grain Act. R. B. Hanson wanted to know the reason for the increase and also why a part of the expense should not be unloaded on the grain trade.

"This particular business carries itself and shows a surplus," answered Hon. J. A. Robb, who attributed the increased cost to the extension of grain handling operations at various points.

T. L. Church argued that the grain trade should pay its way. "Why," he asked, "should this be singled out for special treatment?"

John Millar, Progressive, asked Mr. Church when the Toronto Harbor Board was going to pay its interest.

"There should be one law for all," replied Mr. Church, and when some members laughed, he shot back: "The loud laugh that speaks the vacant mind. Toronto pays its own way. It contributes $92,000,000 a year to the federal treasury. The Harbor Board is not supposed to pay interest."

Rented for $100

Hon. R. B. Bennett referred to the elevators built by the former government at Calgary, Saskatoon and Edmonton, and which pay. He compared this record with the construction of the elevator at Prince Rupert, which cost $1,244,993 and was now rented for $100 a year. He denounced this transaction.

Mr. Robb said that Mr. Bennett's figures and facts were quite true, but the same was true of the elevator at Vancouver for some years. In 1922-23 it had put through more grain than in all the years preceding that since it was built.

General Clark said that it was known that there was a future for the elevator at Vancouver long before it was built. It did not pay at once as, owing to the war, there were no ships available for the long trip through the Panama Canal.

Bribe to Electors

Dr. Manion said he had no objection to the wheat pool being able to secure the Prince Rupert elevator at $100 a year, but the interest on the cost of the elevator was about $76,000 a year. This was a straight gift to the pool. If the elevator was touched by fire or lightning "or otherwise by the hand of God" the government agreed to return the balance of the $100 rent. He thought the government should be condemned by the House for erecting an elevator to bribe the electors to return the member for that district, Fred Stork of Skeena.

Mr. Robb thought Dr. Manion was paying a poor compliment to the people of Fort William and Port Arthur, where large sums had been spent.

Dr. Manion reminded him that Fort William and Port Arthur handled three-quarters of the grain of the West and Prince Rupert handled none.

Mr. Robb showed that instead of losing money during the first two years of operation, the government would receive $100 net and the pool took chances on the loss.

Stork Denies

Fred Stork denied that Prince Rupert needed a subsidy such as this to support the government. It had been Liberal for four elections.

BURNS LAKE RISES FROM ASHES WITH GREAT HOPE FOR FUTURE PROSPERITY

It will be an important tourist resort. A road is being built north to Babine Lake and the people pin their faith on this road as one of the important factors in building up the town. They say that it will not only give them access to the trapping grounds of the Babine Indians, but it will be an ideal drive for tourists and will give access to the rich mines of the Babine country.

Burns Lake is an incorporated village municipality and is able to

BRINGING UP FATHER

She Could Hardly Do Her Housework Nerves Were So Bad

Mrs. L. M. Parks, Concession, Ont., writes:—"I had heart and nerve trouble, and became so short of breath I could hardly do my daily housework, and was so nervous I could not think of staying alone, as every little sound I heard felt like a shock to me."

Burns Lake has a hospital, kept up by the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada, with Miss Pringle as lady superintendent. It caters to the hospital needs of the whole district and is a great asset.

Tourist Hotel

There is talk of a tourist hotel going up on Ootsa Lake to the south from which there is a great pleasure waterway of several hundred miles of river and lake, making a complete circuit. This is a unique scenic and sport trip and the residents say that some day it will be very popular.

Place to Watch

Burns Lake is one of the places to watch. It has its own newspaper and most of the facilities which go with the making of a modern town and if the residents carry on with as much energy and good judgment as they have shown in the past it is bound to be an important centre.
