The crafty Roe, working hard and slowly, stopped Yankee right-handed hitters cold. But the lefties did enough harm to keep the score close until the ninth when a passed ball by Berra allowed Brooklyn's last two runs to score.

The Dodgers collected 10 hits off Lopat and finally drove him to cover in the ninth.

Right hander Tom Gorman finished for the Yanks, allowing one hit.

Manslaughter Verdict Draws 20 Years

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—A sentence of 20 years in prison was passed Thursday on Francis Peter Dennis, fisherman and hunter, for killing a man in a fight in which a motorboat was the death weapon.

In sentencing Dennis for manslaughter, Mr. Justice J. T. Wilson said the case was "as little short of murder as any in my experience."

Dennis, 39, originally was charged with murder in the slaying of William Austin, 59, but an Assize Court jury convicted him on the reduced charge. Term was the heaviest imposed at the fall assizes here.

Civic Centre Drive Results In 'Good Response'—Officials

A full moon and crisp fall air combined to give an army of canvassers perfect weather last night as they "covered" the city to obtain Civic Centre memberships.

While no count is available of the number who joined, officials this morning reported "a very good response."

Every canvasser returned with at least one signature and the amount of money, including donations, ranged from 50 cents to $70 for each worker.

"We know that some of those who joined the Centre last night are new members and we hope many more will come forward," said an executive this morning.

"Our thanks and appreciation go to the service clubs and all other organizations and individuals who helped in the campaign."

"It couldn't have been done without their help."

Fred Jones, general secretary, who spent many hours during the week and added many more last night, said it probably will be several days before total membership is known.

Besides the number who joined last night, more than 200 other citizens went to the Civic Centre office during the week to obtain their 1952 cards.

The 1952-53 season at the Centre begins in earnest next week with badminton and roller skating taking the spotlight. Wednesday sessions for Tiny Tots will start Oct. 8.
