DAILY EDITION

UNION FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1926.

WHEAT BEGINS TO COME THIS WAY.

Wheat shipments to Prince Rupert have commenced. A small consignment is now on its way here and others are to follow closely. It is the beginning of what promises to be a great business. We welcome the news as prophetic in that it is the harbinger of advancement for this port.

It is undoubtedly true that we must look to the commercial development | ment in furthering the 3,000 family of Prince Rupert for our future success. The halibut business is not likely to increase but in a few years should show a falling off. Other fisheries may take the place of the halibut, but it seems likely that the port has pretty much reached its zenith from a fisheries point of view. What is needed now is the fostering of other industries.

We have always talked about our port and its strategic position but we which we have carried on. Through did not realize how difficult it was to get business moving this way. Now we have made a beginning in deep sea trade and it is to be hoped nothing will check it. We must feel pleased that at last we are to see the fruition of our efforts during the past few years.

WELCOME FORKE AS LIBERAL MINISTER.

It is rather satisfactory to everyone concerned that Robert Forke, former account of themselves, no complaints leader of the Progressives, has joined one of the old party governments and is having been received from the men adding his strength and that of his group to the bringing about of stable gov- themselves or from those with whom ernment in Canada. Doubtless Mackenzie King is also pleased to have this support that will enable him to give Canadians what they have asked in the way of administration of affairs. The people of Canada apparently approved the amalgamation of the parties and it is now being solidified.

AS MUCH A MYSTERY AS

SHEEP-HEADED SEA-SERPENTS We have no intention of keeping the election campaign going. It is all over. The people have voted and we must abide by the decision whether wa like it or not. However, it is interesting to note what others think of us and here is the opinion of Manitoba as expressed in the Free Press of Winnipeg:

British Columbia is doing fairly well. She has great resources and her people are not in the dumps. Their outlook is entirely forward; they see big things on the horizon and are keen to move forward courageously and vigorously. Under these circumstances, why should British Columbia keep on voting for Conservative policies?

British Columbia, being on the sea coast and having one great port developed and a second one awaiting more development, is a factor in world trade. Her own market—the home market—is not big enough for, her. Her lumber and forest products, pulp, paper, etc., go and must keep on going to the markets of the world. So must her apples.

Ontside of the world market there is one other place where British Columbia has a natural market. That is in the Prairie Provinces lying east of her. The prairies are a market for British Columbia's lumber and fruits in many lines that the people on the prairies cannot produce for themselves.

This being the case, why should British Columbia vote for a high tariff Some criminals are sent to jail policy that will make it more difficult for her to sell her products in foreign . And some just get the lash markets and a policy that will hold back the development of the prairies? If But some young men look just as bad Vancouver wishes to become a great shipping centre she will become that only through the development of foreign trade. Why does she vote to hamper that trade? British Columbia gets more benefit from the Australian trade treaty than any other Canadian province, yet on Tuesday she voted for a party that is committed to the destruction of the Australian trade treaty.

The Prairie Provinces by their fighting and their votes have kept the along but boy, oh boy! the September Crows Nest rates in effect. As a result of these rates being in effect the Rallway pay day is coming. Commission ruled that the Crow rates on wheat and flour should apply proportionately to these products moving from the prairies to the Pacific Coast-surely a benefit to the Pacific ports. Yet British Columbia votes for a party that is committed to the destruction of the Crows Nest rates.

British Columbia's political preferences are a mystery to the man on the prairies. British Columbia may be able to explain them after she is through explaining the other mystery of the sheep-headed sea-serpents in her inland lakes.

W. D. ROBB ON NEW SETTLERS

NATIONAL RAILWAY SPECIALIZES IN BRITISH AND SCANDINAVIAN FARMERS

MONTREAL, Sept. 24 .-- "We have recognized clearly that the old days of dumping settlers in this country and leaving them to shift for themselves is lond dead or should be," declared vice-president W. D. Robb of the C. N. R. at a colonization conference here. Hence our department sees that ever man we are responsible for bringing out definitely settled in a farm job or farm of his own. We place him in a position in which he can make good if he has the will to do so."

"The soundness of this policy" continued Mr. Robb, "has so proved itself that though our department has only been operating a little over two years we have, during the last six months, placed a larger number of new settlers in jobs and on farms than any other organization in the Dominion, and the Canadian National Railways $1.00 have carried to their destination nearly six per cent of the new arrivals in BRITISH SETTLERS "During the last season the demand for British settlers in both western and eastern Canada has been much greater than ever before. We propose to make every effort to answer this demand and are prepared to handle several times British and Scandinavian settlers than we were able to secure this year. Te Canadian National Railways realizes its obligations and opportunities in connection with this particular feature. While our efforts during the past two years have been mainly devoted to recruiting farm workers in Europe and placing them in farm employment we are hoping next year to the settlement of families

Naturally, the question follows the utter astonishment of hearing the new Orthophonic Victrola for the first time.

COMPARED with the enchantment of actual performance, explanation seems futile.

Yet, humans are curious. The query persists: "What makes Orthophonic Victrola music so captivating?"

First, there is the revolutionary new acoustic principle. Second, there are the things it only, -of all reproducing instruments, -accomplishes. The Orthophonic Victrola reproduces the bass sounds as they should be heard. Harshness, -it does not know. Piano notes are maintained for their true duration.

Organ music has full organ resonance. Dance music rhythm is compellingly faithful to its original. Vocal harmony parts are clear and distinguishable from one another. Diction is natural as life. All tones have their true proportionate values. The result is beauty that matches the original, tone for tone.

There is yet a third reason for the wonder of this peer of instruments. It is a Victor Product!
