BANKING WAS ROTARY THEME

D. C. PATERSON OF THE BANK OF MONTREAL TOLD HOW PUBLIC PROTECTED

Telling some of the means taken by the Canadian banks to protect customers, D. C. Paterson, manager of the Bank of Montreal, gave an interesting address yesterday afternoon at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Paterson explained that the Bank Act was revised every ten years. Banking affairs are administered by a board consisting of the minister of finance, the receiver general and five privy councillors. Their chief duties are to see that the regulations are complied with in the establishment of new banks and more particularly to deal with the amalgamation of banks.

The Bankers' Association consisting of the general managers of the banks controlled the clearing houses and had the custody of the central gold reserves. A Pacific branch had charge in this province.

Another body known as the Central Gold Reserves was a trustee body consisting of four members, three appointed by the Bankers' Association and the other by the minister of finance.

ISSUE OF NOTES
The banks, Mr. Paterson said, were allowed to issue notes for five dollars or multiples of five to an amount equal to the unimpaired paid up capital. If they wished to issue excess notes they could do so by depositing with the central gold reserve one dollar in gold for every dollar issued. However, during the time of the moving of the crops an exception is made and at that time they may issue excess notes to the value of 15 per cent of their combined capital and rest fund but must pay five per cent interest on the issue.

To protect those holding notes, a bank note redemption fund is formed. All banks must deposit with the Government an amount equal to five per cent of the average note issue, the figures being adjusted each year. Should a bank become insolvent and no provision be made to redeem the notes, this fund can be called upon without regard to the amount paid in by that bank.

AUDITS
Various audits are provided for. Two auditors are appointed for each bank and one of them at least must retire at the end of the second year. This means that one retired each year.

The majority of the bank directors must be British subjects and 40 per cent of the cash reserve must be in Dominion Government notes.

Mr. Paterson stated that there were in Canada today eleven banks with a total of 3,895 branches of which 172 were outside of Canada. The total issued capital amounts to $117,000,000, the reserve $125,000,000 and the deposits at the end of last July amounted to the enormous sum of $1,900,000,000.

SUGGESTS THAT U.S. NOW REDUCE TARIFFS

The Juneau Empire after reviewing the result of the Canadian elections in some detail says:
"All things considered the Canadian election ought to be pleasing to those of both countries who do not want a tariff war between America and Canada. If the United States would do her part now and reduce her tariff to the Canadians we might look forward to a very large increase in trade back and forth across the international border."

IRELAND TODAY UNDER COSGRAVE

RECORD OF SUBSTANTIAL ACHIEVE-MENT AND SOME OF PROBLEMS
CONFRONTING PEOPLE

The achievements of President Cosgrave and his colleagues in Ireland since the present Government took charge and the problems that face the people of that country are set out briefly in an article in the London Times. Of the achievements, says the Times, the most notable are:

1. The creation of an admirable police force in the Civic Guards, who, though unarmed, are a fine body of men, recruited as a rule from the small farmer class, and already fairly well disciplined, efficient, courteous, and intelligent.

2. The reduction of the Army from over 50,000 a few years ago to under 15,000 today—it is still too large, and doubtless will be further reduced now that the Civic Guard has become more efficient.

3. Rapid progress in repairing the wholesale destruction wrought in the years of internal strife, and a marked improvement in communications throughout the country, which should do much to attract tourist, and especially motor, traffic from Great Britain.

DRASTIC POLICY

4. A drastic policy in repressing the abuses and maladministration of local bodies—municipal and county councils—by the substitution in many places of paid Commissioners, to the great relief of the rates.

5. The creation of an efficient department of agriculture which, under its present head, appears to understand rural problems, such as the grading of produce for the outside market and the extension of the co-operative system, and to possess the confidence of the agriculturalists—who, after all, are the backbone of the country.

6. The firm line taken in regard to the powerful publican interest, to which the old Nationalist Party was usually subservient, as shown in the measures taken to reduce the number of licences for the sale of liquor and to raise the fees. Also, the effective check of illicit distillation in remote tracts.

7. The absence of any sectarian bias, a fact to which the various Protestant Churches have borne frank testimony.

LACK OF CAPITAL

The people of the Free State are today much more concerned with economic than with political questions, though the two are, of course, interconnected. The great slump in prices of agricultural produce which followed the war boom has hit very hard a country which has few industries, and depends mainly on its exports of horses, cattle, pigs, bacon, and butter to the British market.

The decreased purchasing power of the British consumer, owing to industrial depression and industrial unrest, is at once felt by the Irish producer, and is shown in the steadily decreasing exports and the increasing adverse balance of trade. Hence, the policy and actions of the British Government in regard to these matters are followed with a keen and intelligent interest, very different from the languid indifference which the "man in the street" in England shows towards Irish affairs. On all sides one heard nothing but admiration of the resolution which the British Government and people had shown in the short-lived great strike. On the other hand, there is general surprise, not unmingled with contempt, for the policy of drift followed in regard to the miners' strike.

COOL RECEPTION.

It is openly said, and I believe truly, that the Free State Government would have given Mr. Cook a very short shriff. Even the Irish Labor Party, under the able leadership of Mr. Johnson—an Englishman, by the way—has very coldly received Mr. Cook's appeals for assistance, and when he came in person to Dublin a few weeks ago his only supporter was the irresponsible Jim Larkin, whose spiritual home, like Mr.
Cook's, is in Moscow. Mr. Johnson was away addressing a Labor meeting in the country.

The problem in the Free State today is how to live under a heavy burden of taxation, with the cost of living enhanced by high protective tariffs, while prices of produce are falling. A sad spectacle everywhere is the number of beautiful residences which have been abandoned by their former owners of the well-to-do class, because they cannot afford to keep them up. That, indeed, is common enough in England, and there, as here, aggravates the evil of rural unemployment. But an even more sinister feature in the Free State is the fact that within the last few years arable land has lost nearly half its value, and on all sides one hears of farms changing hands at half the prices paid for them, largely with borrowed money, a few years ago, while for large farms requiring considerable capital to work there is hardly any demand.

The difficulty of obtaining capital to stock and work the land is now intensified because the banks, which were so lavish with their advances in the years of the boom, appear to be going to the other extreme, perhaps because of the large drop in deposits during the last year or two. Irish capital is now being used to finance British rather than Irish industry. All round the agricultural situation gives cause for serious anxiety.

The Shannon scheme represents a bold attempt to provide cheap electric power for industry in a country without coal.
If successful it may render the Free State less dependent on agriculture, and absorb much of the casual labor

IRISH REGIMENTS

A very satisfactory feature of the present situation is the strong position of the many thousands of ex-Service men of the British Army. As a body they have been generously treated by the British Government, they hold their heads high and their war service has raised them in the estimation of the great majority of their fellow countrymen. To those who were proud of Irish valor—and what Irishman was not?— the spectacle of the war-worn colors of those historic Irish regiments now resting for good in St. Patrick's Cathedral is a pathetic one. Surely Southern Ireland could have been given its freedom without the sacrifice of those splendid traditions, and without depriving her sons of a career in which they so often won distinction and glory. On those battered standards one would wish to inscribe the word "Resur-gam."

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.
Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e. carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.
Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stampage.

HOMESTEAD LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesteads, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partly free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to 100 head.
