When Recreation Becomes A Business.

Recreation becomes a business when we think more of it than we do of our business. If business is our first thought, our business will succeed. If recreation is our first thought, it will succeed and business will not. We can't do our best in both lines of endeavor.

Every man has important work to do but it would seem as many have nothing important except to amuse themselves after their work is over. The whole thought is to get away from the work in order to devote time to recreation. Then recreation ceases to be recreation. It becomes an obsession.

The idea of recreation is to make one fit to do work. With most of us what we call recreation wholly unfits us for work. The result is that in the work of life we fail.

Anyone Can Borrow Ig Credit Is Good.

Anyone can borrow if his credit is good. Bankers are almost always too glad to lend. It is their business. They have surplus funds that they like to have working. They have no use for lying up cash in their vaults when it may be made productive, but they do not want it to be out too long.

Some people go to the banks for credit when, if they looked at it from a business point of view, they might be sure they could not borrow a dollar. Bankers want to get their money back and that without having to put pressure to bear on their customers.

Banks do not lend money on real estate although they will accept real estate as collateral security.

Considerable Change In This City.

A few years ago it was most difficult to borrow money on real estate in this city. Today that is changed. Money is now available for good mortgages on income bearing property. You can borrow on a store or on a good house. There is money effering most of the time here now whereas a few years ago it was almost impossible to get a dollar. As the city increases in size and importance, the borrowing powers will increase.

Curing The Blues Sometimes Difficult.

Men and women are emotional creatures. Today they are full of hope, joy and enthusiasm, and tomorrow they descend to the lowest depths of despair. Life is well worth living while they are on the mountain peaks, but when the depression sets in, a cheery companion or a cheery word is worth a million dollars.

Women are more apt to get moody than men. They are different in their natures and have a habit of relying on others for sympathy.

These periods of depression may not come to everyone, but the majority of people get them. They depend largely on bodily health and mental attitude. At such times some people take to drink or drugs but the sensible person relies on his own resources for a cure. Determination not to give way and the society of cheerful friends will do a great deal to bring back a normal condition. The way to avoid the "blues" is to keep physically fit and to always have some outside interest. Introsnection is not a good thing, except perhaps, as a brief Lenten exercise.

PARENT-TEACHERS WHIST AND BRIDGE HELD LAST NIGHT

Enjoyable Time Spent at Booth School; Refreshments Served in Sewing Room

Last evening the Parent-Teachers Association held a whist and bridge drive in the Auditorium of the Booth School. It was the first of a series of such affairs being undertaken in aid of the P.T.A. funds and proved such a success that similar evenings may be looked forward to during the year.

The arrangements for the evening were left in the hands of Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. Smith and Miss Mercer and were carried out without a hitch. Miss Marsh was at the door and Mr. Elkins acted as master of ceremonies. The hall was nicely decorated with plants. Twenty-four tables of bridge and whist were filled. At 11 p.m. the players adjourned to the domestic science sewing room where the tables had been artistically arranged with daffodils. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Smith, assisted by Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Dalby, Mrs. Viereck, Mrs. West and the Misses Evelyn Dalby, Laura Frizell and Vera Smith.

The bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Frank Moore and Mr. Gulick; the whist prizes by Mrs. Dalby and R. T. Anderson. The evening pleasantly concluded with a short impromptu dance, the music for which was supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Gulick and Miss Bessie Derry.

THE MAN IN THE MOON says:

YOU can't understand all Mussolini says, but you can see his teeth when he opens his mouth to growl.

A UNIVERSITY student eloped with another man's wife and claims it would have been immoral not to do so because she loved him and did not love her husband. That is a new slant.

SOME people are not rich enough to be unhappily married.

YOUNG people know such a lot these days. If it were all true it would not be so bad.

NO one cares for a person who is always throwing mud. That is what I don't like about a Ford.

THE editor says he wants a cure for the blues. I suggest a funeral. Let him cut out one of his dullest editorials and bury it.

Oh, an editor blue
In a deuce of a stew
Was in search of something to say.
He scratched his dull head
And wished himself dead,
So he drowned himself out in the bay.

Then beware of the fate
Of that editor late,
And try to be cheerful and happy
For the bay is no place
To disfigure your face
So keep your mind clear, bright and snappy.

LUTHERAN SCHOOL CLOSED FOR SEASON

The evening school, conducted during the winter by St. Paul's Lutheran Church, was closed at the end of February, having started November 17.

During this term about 50 persons were enrolled. The use of quarters in King Edward School was granted by the school board and Rev. P. E. Baisler, Mrs. E. Hellman, P. Pedersen and John Dybhavn of St. Paul's Church, and Miss S. A. Mills and Miss W. Larsen of the public school staff gave their services free as teachers.

The object of these classes has been to enable immigrants to acquire the English language and those attending have made very satisfactory progress.

Miss I. J. Ross, Scollard, Alta., writes:—"I am only twenty years old, but have suffered from heart palpitation and nerve trouble for several years.

I could never do the things other girls did, that is, in the line of sports, skating, etc., and could never depend on myself at work.
