Board of Trade
May Visit Vancouver.

It was proposed at the Board of Trade meeting last week that the Prince Rupert Board might organize an excursion to pay an official visit to Vancouver, returning the call made by the Vancouverites here last year. When the visitors were here it was stated by them that whenever Prince Rupert decided to return the visit they would be treated like princes and given the freedom of the city to the south. Some of the members are now anxious to test out the promise and see if it holds good. At any rate they would be able to thoroughly investigate the grain business as carried on in Vancouver and would learn a great deal that might be beneficial. The idea seems to be an excellent one.

Ottawa Government
Seems Fairly Secure.

The government at Ottawa seems to be fairly secure in its position just now. It is carrying on the business much as usual and is likely to make good, according to those who profess to know. It is to be hoped that it will make good and will retain power for at least two or three years. What is sure is that nobody wants another Dominion election just now.

Museum Collection
Arrives In City.

A very fine collection of Indian curios has arrived in the city and is now on view along with the rest of the local Indian collection in the temporary premises in the Bank of Commerce building. Within a few weeks it is hoped to have the articles classified and placed in such position that they may be seen to advantage.

The addition of this collection to the museum is a notable event. While it is loaned for a year only, it is hoped that arrangements may be made to retain it and make it part of the permanent exhibit. If this can be done, the city will have a splendid nucleus on which to build a real museum collection that will be of great interest to tourists and other visitors and will be one of the show places for those who come here.

Already the room loaned by the Bank is overcrowded and one of the next steps will be to secure a permanent home for the collection.

Much Variety In Western Cities.

In the East it is found that there is more similarity in tastes among the people. In some communities all speak one language or two at most, nearly all are of the same religions, the desires and aims are one and anyone who differs from the rest to any marked degree is looked upon as an outsider. In a city like this, however, things are very different. People are of almost all conceivable race, religion, phase of thought or habit. We are a mixture of everything and yet we get on wonderfully well and the young Canadians who come through the public schools are pretty much all alike. If there are differences they are not so marked as to be important.

In a few years we shall become Canadianized. There will be no national societies and it will not be necessary to have a native sons organization because practically all will be native sons. Today young Prince Rupert people are growing up and rapidly they will make changes to suit their own views. We are very largely in their hands and the result will prove whether or not we were wise while they were in our hands.

SALMON PACK DISTRICT BIG

Exceeded Only by Pack of 1924 in Number of Cases of all Varieties

FINAL FIGURES GIVEN

The 1925 salmon pack in District No. 2 was the second largest on record for any year having been exceeded only by the 1924 pack. According to the latest returns at the Dominion Fisheries office which may now be regarded as practically a correct representation of the past season's canning activities, the 1925 pack for District No. 2 was 1,090,817 cases whereas the 1924 pack totalled 1,180,679 cases. These figures include all varieties of salmon packed.

The 1925 pack for the entire province was 1,719,821 cases as compared with 1,745,313 cases in 1924.

District No. 2 embraces the coast and waters tributary to the mainland from Cape Caution to the northern boundary of the province as well as the coasts and waters of the islands opposite that portion of the mainland.

Following is a comparative table showing the 1925 and 1924 salmon pack in District No. 2 according to varieties in each division:

J. E. Tipper, foreman painter of the Canadian National Coast Steamships, and his assistant, W. Sprouse, arrived from Vancouver on the Prince Charles yesterday afternoon. They are here to take charge of the painting of the steamer Prince George, which has been in dry dock all winter and which is now to be prepared for resuming service in place of the Prince Rupert which will be taken off for annual overhaul.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

says:

"WE are fast going to the dogs" moans the pessimist, not remembering that the dog is man's best and noblest friend, the very highest development of the dumb world.

IN this country
Sad and weary
Where the times are
Always dreary;
Where the people
Are so lazy
Many of them
Almost crazy;
There I sit and
Softly moaning
Pity for myself;
I'm groaning;
Feeling that the
World's against me;
Nought but gloom
Is seen turnest me
Soon I'll die and
None will weep.
No one here will
Care a heap.
(Dies quietly and is buried in pauper's grave.)

MOST dogs stay at home but a jazz hound never.

IF you wish to look thoroughly ridiculous, try dancing the Charleston.

MANY people talk of their family newspaper as "This old rag." Of course they are just ragging.

THEY all delight
To read this rag,
And then of wit
They're apt to brag.
Six times a week
They read its pages
Laugh at a joke
That's grey with ages.
And how they like
Some scandal too
No matter whether
False or true.
They curse the paper
Every day
And hate like mud
Their bills to pay,
But let them miss
A single one
And then the war
Has just begun.

STEVENS AND CONTRACTS.

Editor Daily News,

Referring to your statement in Friday's paper to the effect that H. H. Stevens is responsible for the delay in the work of converting the G.G.M.M. boats to oil burners, it is not true that during the recent federal election, the party with which you are affiliated maintained that the reason the expected development from a railway standpoint, that we expected here, had not taken place was because the policy of the railway was in the hands of Sir Henry Thornton and his board of directors and therefore Premier King was helpless to influence the promises he made here in 1920.

I suppose now that the election is over the railway is in politics when anything is heard from the opposition which can be used as an instance of their hostility to this point.

Well, the people liked to be fooled therefore I can hardly blame you for playing on their prejudices, but even the blind must feel we are not getting results.

Will you be kind enough to tell us once for all whether or not the railway is in politics.

GEORGE WADDELL.

APPRECIATE SERVICES.

Editor, Daily News,

It is now ten years since we first saw Bert Robson, purser of the Islands steamer. He then wore a wonderful smile and he has carried that smile with him ever since and has it yet. He is well known by everyone up and down the coast and is a favorite everywhere. The settlers and fishermen, when they want anything, trust Bert with the mission, and sometimes even ask him to bank money for them.

We Islanders think the C.N.R. has been very fortunate in having the services of Mr. Robson and we take this opportunity of thanking him for the thousand and one little favors he has done for us who live in out of the way places.
