GERMANY AND ITALY ALLIED

RECENTLY CLOSED TREATY MAY GIVE LEAGUE OF NATIONS DIFFICULT PROBLEM

BERLIN, Dec. 23.—The following is an outline of the highly important main terms of the Treaty of Arbitration and Friendship drafted by Signore Scialoji and Pilotti for Italy, and Herr Schubert and Gauss for Germany at Geneva.

While Germany claims there are no secret clauses and it is announced that the treaty will be lodged with the League of Nations, some clauses in it are likely to cause lively comment.

The main clauses follow:

First: Italy offers to support Germany in freeing the Rhineland.

Second: Italy withdraws objections to an Austro-German Alliance.

Third: Germany will align herself with new grouping of powers including Italy, Rumania, Greece and Bulgaria, whose policy will be one of friendliness with Russia.

Fourth: Both countries will decline to take any defensive steps against each other commercially or otherwise if either is involved in a conflict with a third party.

Fifth: Italy will use her influence to persuade Poland to align herself with Germany.

Sixth: Both Germany and Italy are to endeavor to obtain Colonial mandates for each other from the League of Nations.

Seventh: Failing this, both pledge themselves to co-operate in an eventual move against Turkey.

There is also a proposal whereby Germany will lend German craftsmen to assist in constructing Italian submarines.

The seventh clause, if substantiated when the treaty is deposited in Geneva, is bound to raise an extremely difficult problem for the League, and might cause grave differences within the League unless, as rumored, Italy has already lined up the majority of the Balkans on her side.

BOYS' BAND TO GIVE PROGRAM

WILL SERENADE HOSPITAL PATIENTS ON CHRISTMAS MORNING AND MARCH THROUGH STREETS TOMORROW NIGHT

The Boys' Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Wilson, will take an active part in local Christmas festivities this year.

Tomorrow night, Christmas Eve, the boys will parade the city streets playing carols and other Christmas selections.

At 11 o'clock Christmas morning they will march to the Prince Rupert General Hospital, there forming up to play a program for the patients who may be there on that day.

Among other arrangements for their Yuletide entertainment, the patients in the hospital early Christmas morning will enjoy a program of carol singing to be rendered by the members of the nursing staff who have been rehearsing for some time.

The Ladies' Musical Club yesterday afternoon completed arrangements for a concert in the Hospital on Sunday afternoon. Details of the program were left in the hands of Mrs. Anderson.

The Returned Soldiers' Association will move into their new quarters on Third Avenue over the telephone office, early in the new year.

Word received in the city from Dr. Tremayne advises that he and Mrs. Tremayne sailed for England on December 14.

POST OFFICE REVENUE UP

GOVERNMENT'S RETURNS NOT REDUCED IN SPITE OF RETURN TO PENNY POST

OTTAWA, Dec. 23.—After a two-month slump in August and September, the revenues of the Post Office Department bid fair to make good the prophecies that a return to two-cent postage would not reduce the Government's income.

Penny postage came into effect July 1, and in the month of July the postal revenues were slightly greater than in the preceding year. The figures are: July, 1926, $2,300,000; July, 1925, $2,200,000. However, in August and September the revenues dropped to $1,600,000, the total being the same in each month. In the preceding year the revenues for these months was $2,100,000 and $2,000,000 respectively, so that the Post Office suffered a loss of $900,000. In October, the figures for which are just to hand, the postal revenues for 1926 show a decided advance. The actual total is $1,900,000, which compares more favorably with $2,100,000 in October, 1925.

If the rate of increase is maintained, it is probable that Post Office revenues for November and December will show an increase over the preceding year and reduce the adverse balance.

The only other heading under which the Federal revenues show a loss in comparison with 1925 is the income tax. Here the receipts for the first seven months of the current fiscal year are $43,482,000, as compared with $50,705,000 in 1925 or a loss of more than $7,000,000. When the great improvement in business is taken into consideration, it is clear that the loss on this count has been much heavier.

All told, after absorbing the losses in postal and income tax revenue, the Federal Treasury is better off by $6,000,000, than in 1925.

SPORT CHAT

While there are ten clubs in the National Hockey League, the professional hockey organization of North America, and while six of these clubs are owned in the United States, it is pretty safe to say that not more than one per cent of the players are non-Canadian. The same seems to be the case in most of the amateur leagues which have sprung up just lately across the line, and in the case of one for instance, in Portland, Oregon, there is not a native born American on the outfit. The players are all Canadians, and include representatives from McLeod, Alberta, Vancouver, Nelson, Edmonton, Ottawa, Prince Edward Island, Regina and Winnipeg.

When the big Catalina Island swim takes place in California, which is supposed to be a sort of an Americanized version of the English Channel swim, there will be at least one Canadian taking part in it. That will be George Young from Toronto, one of the greatest of the younger generation of swimmers in the Dominion for long distances. That he has never attempted the Channel crossing is due probably to the almost prohibitive expenditure that is necessary to try that feat under the most favorable auspices. Beside contestants getting return fare for coming, the prize offered the winner of the race is well worth competing for, and will be paid at the rate of $1,000 per mile or over for it amounts to $25,000 and the distance of the race is about 22 miles.

Almost every year amateur boxers of eastern Canada and amateur boxers of the eastern United States have home and home tourneys. They are usually held in Boston and Montreal, and as a rule some important amateur athletic organization takes charge of them and the responsibility for financial loss if there be such. Interesting prizes are offered and this year they consisted of gold watches. Strange to say, in Montreal, Canadians won all the five International bouts of the tournament, while in Boston the United States boxers won the majority of the contests. One man stood out in both tourneys and that was a Montreal policeman, named Ratelle. He boxes in the 75 lb. class and won handily in both meets.

No more basketball games will be played until the middle of January. In the meantime, the hall will be put in first class shape for the remainder of the second half of the season. Unfortunately it has been found that some one has been tampering with the fire-extinguishers which it should be remembered is a very dangerous practise. Only recently a fireman in Vancouver was killed by one of these exploding. It is to be hoped that everyone will realize the danger of fooling with these as it may prove serious and as will render them useless should they be required in case of fire.

PERPETUAL MOTION IS STILL CARDINAL FAITH OF SOME MEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Even knowledge of the realistic laws of mathematics does not make inventors immune to the romantic lure of one of the oldest fallacies cherished by human beings.

Belief that inanimate matter can be so patterned that it will, after receiving an initial human impulse, produce perpetual motion is shown by the Patent Office records to remain the cardinal faith of an astonishing number of dreamers.

Many have been men of considerable erudition, and some have to their credit invention of sound worth. Most of them have experienced the elation of apparent success until their little machines were stopped by the laws of nature.

A sketchy record of broken hopes extends far back into the files of the Patent Office. The only estimate of the number of applications to patent perpetual motion devices received since the office was established is a vague "thousands." None of the devices has been found patentable after examination by experts.
