ROUGH HOUSE AT POLICE STATION

Officer Is Assaulted, Car Damaged and Window Broken During Arrest of Neil Bruce

The assaulting of a police officer, damaging of a patrol automobile and breaking of a window in the front of the police station were the results of the arrest just before midnight last night of Neil Bruce of Vancouver by City Police Sergeant Hugh McGlinchy. The officer responded to a call from the Dominion Cafe where Bruce was creating a disturbance and, before he got his man in the lock-up, there was a pretty strenuous time of it. Bruce put up strong resistance and caused the officer considerable injuries about the face and eyes in the close quarters of the automobile which was itself damaged. In the scuffle as officer and man were entering the station, they crashed into a window which was shattered.

Bruce will be charged with assault of a police officer and probably other offences. Ed. Hearn, also alleged to have been involved in the fracas at the cafe, was arrested on a charge of intoxication.

TO PROCEED WITH PAINTING BUILDING

Committee Authorized by Hospital Board Last Night to Take Steps Toward Having Work Done

The special committee of the hospital board, of which Ald. W. M. Brown is the chairman, was authorized by the hospital board last night to proceed with its plans for the painting of the hospital. The committee will decide what colors are to be employed and whether ready mixed paint or otherwise will be used, also whether tenders for the whole job or for labor alone will be called.

RELIGION OF A SCIENTIST

Late Luther Burbank Startled Western World With Declaration of Infidelity

ALREADY IN ETERNITY

Power to Cure by Laying on of Hands But Nothing Super-Natural About it

Luther Burbank, the scientist, who died last week recently declared "as a scientist I cannot help but feel that all religions are on a tottering foundation." He also repeated former assertions that he was "an infidel in the true sense of the word."

Most of the comment was in opposition to the horticulturist's statement, a group of Chicago clergymen branding his remarks as "unscientific" and "nonsense," while Chauncey M. Depew, in New York, said he regretted "sincerely that such a prominent man as Mr. Burbank should adopt this attitude, as it is contrary to the sentiment of ninety-nine per cent of the American people today."

Appearing in the pulpit of the First Congregational Church in San Francisco, Burbank declared he had "nominated" himself an "infidel" so as to cause people to think.

"I reiterate: The religion of most people is what they would like to believe, not what they do believe and very few stop to examine its foundation," he said.

Damnable to Him

"The idea that a good God would send people to a burning hell is utterly damnable to me. The cravings of insanity; superstition gone to seed. I don't want to have anything to do with such a God. I am a lover of men Christ as a man and His work, and all things that help humanity but, nevertheless, just as He was an infidel then, I am an infidel today.

"I prefer and claim the right to worship the infinite everlasting almighty God of this vast universe as revealed to us gradually step by step by the demonstrable truths of our savior science.

None Are Dead

"Do you think Christ or Mohammed, Confucious, Baal or even the gods of ancient mythology are dead? Not so. Do you think Pericles, Marcus, Aurelius, Shakespeare, Spinosa, Aristotle, Socrates, Plato, Empedocles, Humboldt, Darwin, Tolstoi, Franklin, Emerson, are dead? No one lives who is not influenced more or less by these great ones according to the capacity of the cup of knowledge which they bring to their ever-flowing fountains to be filled.

"All plants, animals and man are already in eternity, travelling across the face of time, whence we know not, whither who is able to say. Let us have one world at a time and let us make the journey one of joy to our fellow passengers and just as convenient and happy for them as we can and trust the rest as we trust life.

"Let us read the Bible without the ill-fitting colored spectacles of theology just as we read other books, using our own juldgment and reason, listening to the voice within—not to the noisy babble without."

Power to Sure

Following this, the naturalist claimed he had the power to cure the ill by the "laying on of hands."

"Why, many years ago my nearest neighbor was dying," he was quoted as saying "Four doctors had given him up. He sent for men and I went to his bedside. He told me 'I am going to die tonight.' I told him 'you are going to get well. Tomorrow morning I will see you at your wood pile as usual.' He was there the next morning. That is only one of so many cases."

Asserting the "power" was not supernatural, he added:

"And bear in mind that I will not allow the afflicted to be brought to me; I cannot have my door thronged with patients. I am far too busy to take on any more work than I have now on hand."

Message to Children

On March 6, the eve of his seventy-seventh birthday, Burbank addressed a message to "the children of the world," telling their their happiness will be in direct proportion to their loving thoughts, "toward every person and animal and even toward stars, planets, oceans, rivers and hills."

Better Human Race

Burbank felt there was still more important work than his own to be done by someone else who could breed a finer human race.

"Inferior human beings cannot be treated as if they were inferior plants," he said. "But if civilization is to endure, some way must be found to produce more of the fit and fewer of the unfit.

"Today, we are little more than a field of wild weeds, here and there, arises a superior type, the result of a fortunate and chance crossing, rather than of intelligent selection."

Still Enjoying Life at 84

Thanks To That Wonderful Remedy

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. F. H. Miller, 1843-11th Ave. East, Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"Five years ago my husband suffered terribly with severe attacks of palpitation of the heart and smothering spells, and two doctors stated that he could not possibly live six months.

A friend recommended Milburn's H. and N. Pills, with the result that my husband is still enjoying life at the age of 84 years.

He has improved so wonderfully that he can now climb the stairs without having those awful pains in his heart."

VANDERHOOF

The Vanderhoof branch of the Great War Veterans' Association is being merged with the Canadian Legion, an organization comprised of members of the several military and naval organizations throughout the Dominion.

The Vanderhoof Board of Trade is taking up with the provincial government the matter of road communication to Stuart Lake where Sir John Pitka's colony is established and where more settlers are expected to establish themselves this year.

Mrs. William Ewen is seriously ill with pneumonia and is under the care of Dr. W. Ross Stone.

R. H. Moore, Stuart Lake Indian Agent, has left for Kamloops and, on his return, will bring a new car with him for official work.

After spending the winter months in Alberta, Harry Stokes has returned to town.

Mrs. Frank Reid has returned to Chilco after an extended visit with relatives and friends in Ontario.

Seeding operations have commenced in this district and the farmers are looking forward to a bumper crop next autumn, the land being in good shape and indications being for a most successful season.

G. R. Fitzpatrick of St. Andrew's College, University of Saskatchewan, has arrived here to assist Rev. R. T. McFarlane in the Vanderhoof and Fort Fraser United Church mission field during the summer months.

PRINCE GEORGE

Harry Brawn and Carney Monteith are establishing a sawmill on the island at the foot of George Street on lots which they have leased from the provincial government. The plant they purchased recently from the Mitchell estate. The initial output will be 15,000 feet daily.

Returning last week from a two weeks' trip to the Herrick River district where he investigated the death of a trapper, Thomas Meaney, who was killed in a fight with a silver tip bear, Provincial Constable Muirhead told an interesting story of how Martin Dayton, McGregor River trapper, had an encounter with a pack of twenty timber wolves and with the assistance of his dogs, beat them off in spite of the fact that he had no ammunition in the rifle with which he faced the beasts.

O. B. Hughes, Blackwater rancher, has returned to Prince George after having spent two years in Idaho and Wyoming for the benefit of his health which is now breatly improved.

The timber scale in this district for March was 5,937,837 board feet as compared with 9,397,551 feet for the corresponding period in 1925. For the first four months of 1926 the scale totals 14,805,610 feet as compared with 17,194,959 feet to the end of March 1925.

The corporation of the city of Prince George made a good financial showing during 1925. Receipts for the year exceeded expenditures by over $10,000 and there was an increased percentage of tax collections according to the report of the city auditors.
