GRAHAM FOR WASHINGTON

Possibility Yet That Chairman of Tariff Commission May Get Position

OTTAWA, May 21.—There is reason to believe that Right Hon. George P. Graham, chairman of the recently created Advisory Tariff Board, may yet accept the post of Canadian Minister to Washington.

Aimee McPherson is known to a great many people in Prince Rupert, some of whom have heard her preach. She is said to be a wonderful personality. Dr. Price, who caused a sensation at Vancouver and Victoria a few years ago with his faith healing meetings, was a pupil of hers, and a great many others have copied the methods of the Temple at Los Angeles.

KAMLOOPS, May 21.—While digging a well on the north shore of the Thompson River opposite here, E. Emmerick found an excellently preserved Spanish coin dated 1450 A.D. at a depth of 17 feet. Dr. M. S. Wade, prominent British Columbia historian, expressed the opinion that the coin had been brought to the interior from the coast by an Indian. It was at a spot where once the Hudson's Bay fort stood.

More Activity Than Ever Before Seen in West by Vice-President Hungerford, Canadian National

WINNIPEG, May 21.—"In all the years I have been travelling over the prairies I never saw so much activity on the land as I did on my way west this time," stated S. J. Hungerford, vice-president in charge of operation of the Canadian National Railways, who reached here this morning, after an extensive tour of inspection of the system's western lines.

Prospects throughout the entire territory are excellent, according to Mr. Hungerford, who states that business generally is bigger than since before the war and there is a disposition to embark on new business ventures. Speaking of British Columbia, he said the indications were that there would be the largest fruit crop this season ever known there, also that a heavy volume of lumber business is being done via the Panama Canal to Europe and points on the eastern coast of North America.

C. P. Brown, chief engineer, and W. A. Kingsland, general manager of western lines, arrived with Mr. Hungerford who will remain in the city until Sunday, when he will leave for the east via Duluth and Chicago.

Africa Free as Great Britain Declares General Herzog, Head of Nationalist Party in Africa

Country Free to Secede if She Should be so Stupid as to do so,
Declares Prime Minister of Union

CAPETOWN, May 21.—General Herzog, the Prime Minister, in a long statement on the international status of the Union in the House of Assembly, declared that he had always taken up the position that the Union had secured complete international status equal to that of any other dominion or any part of the British Empire.

"In that respect," he said, "I contend that we are as free and as independent as Great Britain herself. On that point there is no difference between us, but there is a difference between us as to what is meant by this free, complete, and independent status. My contention is and has always been that we are in a position of absolute equality even with Great Britain and even in regard to the question of secession, but we know that in practice we have a great deal to achieve and to acquire, and we know that General Smuts at all times has been busy trying to acquire these full rights and to exercise these full rights.

Would be Unwise

"We know," he continued, "there are some of these rights which we could and might exercise, whereas there are others—the right of secession, for instance—which it would be very unwise and ill-advised for us to exercise except by deviation through the agency and means of Great Britain herself."

General Herzog gave as an example the case of diplomatic representation. It would be foolish, he declared, for South Africa to appoint her own ambassadors, although, at the same time, it might be wise and politic where necessary to have her own ambassador or her own representative. He agreed that they should not try to undertake more than they could carry, but where today Great Britain carried many things on their behalf they should, where opportunity offered and their interests demanded, be ready to take over their own duties and responsibilities. That was unquestionable, he declared, one of the first and weightiest problems to be dealt with by the Imperial Conference.

Perfectly Frank

"If we want to remain on a friendly footing" the Premier continued, "with each part of the British Empire, or whatever you call it, then it is essential that we should thoroughly and openly state what the position is. There is nothing to hide or to be afraid of, and that is where I differ from General Smuts. I say we are absolutely free and untrammeled, absolutely independent, just as free as Great Britain herself, and if we should be so stupid as to do so we are free to secede."
