

ARTIST DOING SCENIC WORK

JEAN HEMPEL IS IN THE CITY IN CONNECTION WITH LANDSCAPE PAINTING

One of the guests of the Rotary Club yesterday was Jean Van Empel, an artist, who has been engaged in his profession for several years in Alaska depicting the beauties of that territory. He is now located at Prince Rupert and proposes to do some landscape work here.

Mr. Van Empel believes that the scenic attractions of a country are best advertised to the world by means of pictures. He has been doing work of this kind for the purpose of advertising Alaska and he thinks similar work might be done for this part of the world. He says that the people of the southern states delight to come north just as much as the northerners delight to go south. The boredom of sameness gives place to a new vision.

Mr. Van Empel hopes to remain here for some time and in the meantime is interesting those whose business it is in the work that he is doing.

HALLOWE'EN FROLIC WAS NOVEL AFFAIR

Big Crowd at 125 People Attended Event Last Evening in Catholic Hall

The Halloween Frolic held last night by the bazaar committee of the Catholic Church was a most successful affair, some 125 persons being in attendance and the financial returns proving most satisfactory.

While there was a whist drive and dance, several Halloween novelties were made to the evening's proceedings of unusual interest. One of these novelties was a drawing to decide the Halloween bride and groom. Lawrence Lawler and a young lady from Terrace were chosen and they led the Grand March. Another feature of the evening was a peanut race in which the winners were Lawrence Lawler and Mrs. Comadina.

At whist the winners were Mrs. W. Gratton and Leo Conitoll. Refreshments were served and for the dance that followed music was furnished by Mrs. Ponder's Orchestra. The hall was prettily decorated.

Another feature of the evening was the fortune telling by Mrs. John Brenner which netted a good sum financially and was the source of much amusement.

Parade of Fashion

Evening frocks are so varied this autumn that it is difficult to classify them. The main distinction made by Bond Street is one of silhouette. There is the frock that hangs straight, except when the wearer moves, and there is the definite picture gown. The straight frocks are often draped, either to one side or to the middle of the figure, the gathered folds hanging a few inches below the rest of the hem, while the slim skirt is slashed to disclose a finely pleated underlip. These frocks are of knee length, and the picture frocks are as long or as short as the wearer pleases.

BLACK HAIR VOGUE German men prefer black, or at least they will during the coming social season, according to five leading Berlin tonorial artists. They find that three-fourths of their women customers who hitherto had their hair dyed blond, now demand black.

PATCH WORK RETURNS

The animated patch-work quilt out of grandmother's bedroom has made its reappearance, this time on Paris streets. The lavish use of embroidery for day-time clothes and three or four different colors and fabrics in one single frock are responsible.

Embroidery has invaded not only the pockets and necklines of frocks but covers a wide area of the gown or coat, or both.

One winter coat in three colors, taupe, grey and black embroidered in silk and wool, silver and gold, gives an idea of the color scheme now prevailing for autumn and winter wear.

NEW STYLE WOMEN'S PHOTOS

The Eton crop has started a new style in English feminine photography. It has been discovered that the natural curve of the body, not usually obtainable with long hair, appears at its best with a close shaven head and bare arms, shoulders and back.

The pose of the head, which in turn shows off the shoulders and arms, continues a harmonious line to the waist.

DRESS SUITS FOR WOMEN

As designed for women, the new fall dress suit is made of moire and crepe de chine. The skirt front and collar is of jade green georgette. Though ultra-modern, the woman's dress suit is suggestive of picturesque bygone days. The skirt is slit up the center to reveal satin knee breeches when the wearer sits down. When the wearer stands upright, the suit would resemble a slim-fitting frock were it not for the coat tails.

KNEE WATCHES

A new garter watch has been introduced by the elect of Mayfair. They are about a half-inch in diameter and are "set" in jeweled garters about three quarters of an inch in width. The garters have a buckle and a strap, like an ordinary wrist watch, and fasten just below the wearer's right knee, the watch face appearing on the left-hand side.

WOMEN MAY EAT AGAIN

While there is only a suggestion of waists being shown in the new English models, there are all kinds of devices which hint at the waist line rather than indicate it. There are little gold buckles which fasten in the front and bows which tie at the side.

"Do these effects mean that women are going to have their natural figures again?" a modiste was asked.

"If we succeed," she said, "they may gradually come back in style again and those women who have starved themselves for five years will be able to eat again."

ATTACK MEN BUYERS

German women are unable to dress as becomingly as the American because there are too many men buyers of women's clothes, a leading fashion journal asserts in demanding that frauleins throw off the yoke of masculine dictation in the matter of dress.

"While in the end women dress to please men," the journal says, "women can make a much better job of it than men. When it comes to selecting handkerchiefs, chemises and a hundred other dainties, male buyers for department or women's wear stores are usually hopeless."

NAMES OF NEW CREATIONS

Fantastic as some of the new creations adorning Paris windows may appear to the man on the street, it seems that the designers' imagination must have been more severely taxed in thinking out names for them.

Debutantes' dresses have such names: "The Swan, Pottery, Pastel, Candid, Innocence, Ingenue, a Promise, Nanette."

Dresses for wear at dances, range from: Valencia and Balinese to Jazz and First Step.

Cloaks have sterner names: "Dictator, El Capitan and Sultan."

A FOINE CIMETRY

There was a dispute in progress in the cemetery between two of the sextons, who were both Irishmen. "No, Michael," said one, "I don't like this cemetery a bit, I don't."

"Och," said the other, "'tis a mighty foine cemetery."

"No," persisted the first. "I don't like it. Never did, and what's more, I'll never be buried in it as long as I live."

For a moment Michael pondered over the other's dictum, then he shook his head. "Ye're an unreasonable fule, to be sure, Pat," he remarked slowly.

"Why, man alive, 'tis a foine cemetery,
