MACKENZIE KING

DAILY EDITION

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1926.

PREMIER AGAIN. Premier Mackenzie King is once more at the head of affairs in Canada but under more favorable circumstances than he has been heretofore. He now has a good working majority of men pledged to his policy and there is nothing to hinder his making good. We look to see the country make progress under his administration. It is to be hoped that Mr. King will not try to pass too many laws. . What we want in this country is fewer laws instead of more. Some changes will be needed but not very many. Stability does not come from constant change but from carrying on with as few as possible.

It is to be hoped that the Premier will stick to his policy of modifying of the time so cold that the barometer in the picture minus his national garb. the powers of the Senate to bring it in line with modern ideas of government. persisted in hovering around the seven If, as has been stated, the Government does not propose to rid the country of above zero. this sinecure altogether, the next thing is to clip its claws and prod it into use- "First call for location trips was tors are much agog over the reported ful action.

He has made a good effort in face of great difficulties inside his own party but unhappily for him he has failed. Not only has he failed to carry his party to victory but also failed to retain his own seat. Now he says he will not seek a seat in PaPrilament but will drop out. It is to be hoped that he will be induced to change his mind and will continue to give his services to his country. There are not many men capable of leading.

REGRET DR. KING LOSING HIS POSITION.

Dr. King, member for Kootenay, was for several years minister of public works in the Mackenzie King Government. He has dropped out of that important position and has been given a minor one. Without knowing the circumstances, it looks like a little chastisement to British Columbia for her opposition to Liberal policies. If the province has no appreciation of Liberalism ture. it cannot be expected that she will get much representation in the cabinet which "And yet they say-pretty soft for stands for Liberalism. It is the first fruit of the recent election. However, there these movie actors!" is nothing to do about it. Protesting will not help. The protest was made at the polls.

While fewer attend than were at the big fight, it is the highest example of the American national game and represents the sport ideal of millions

Canada is much interested in that series because sports know no boundary lines. We find Americans watching the Australian cricket, the Oxford-Cambridge boat races and the championship football games across the ocean. we watch the World Series and take as great interest in it as many Americans. It is now close ahead of us and speculation as to the result is high.

GOOD CLEANUP OF THE CUSTOMS.

When the people of Canada returned Mackenzie King to power it was on the pledge of there being a thorough cleanup in the customs department. It was partly because of the stress laid on the customs trouble and from the rather unsatisfactory way in which it was explained that British Columbia voted in by the two men is somewhat ob- ly hidden within. against the Liberals. Now is their opportunity to make good. The people are scure and the prohibition agents get looking for it. It is not fair for those who pay duty for anyone to get stuff through the customs department without paying or for others to get goods in without reporting.
