strict Attorney states that there was no kidnapping and that woman was hired to impersonate evangelist

LOS ANGELES, September 27 .- Almee McPherson, evangelist, was argned in court this morning charged with felony in connection with alleged forts to substantiate her story of having been kidnapped last May.

District Attorney Keyes charges Mrs. McPherson's tale of kidnapping and prisonment as being absolutely false, that to support the story she and mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, fraudulently and feloniously conspired to comacts injurious to the public morals and to pervert and obstruct justice and that she attempted to have other persons indicted for the kidnapping when *there had never been no abduction.

It is charged that Miss McPherson

DECLARES R. W. HAGGEN, EDITOR OF MINING & ENGINEERING RECORD

Prince Rupert should not let up on the agitation for the establishment of a metallurgical plant here declares R. W. Haggen, editor of the Mining and Engineering Record of Britishi Columbia who was a visitor in the city at the end of the week on his way to the Omineca mining fields. The site here is very strategetic to the mines of the north coast and the interior and a plant here would be of benefit to the mines as well as so the city. Prince Rupert. Mr. Haggen says, has not realized the importance of mining to the city which has been great and which will increase 40 in the future. Mines of Portland Canal, Asked.
