CLEAN UP CITY.

Editor Daily News: We have watched with keen interest the awakening of the civic conscience in Prince Rupert. Five years ago tourists and citizens who dared to hint that the downtown section was not morally a bed of roses were

Control of Police

The question has been raised as to submitting a by-law on handing over the policing of Prince Rupert to the Provincial police. This may or may not be the thing that is needed.

There are various opinions. Some say all we need to do is fire the Police Commission and give the present police force a chance.

Mr. Editor, I submit that we do not need a bylaw to know that the citizens want a cleaner city. I further submit that a small committee of (or named by) the city council could determine the best medicine for our disease

Backbone Needed

Some say that the city council is weakening. Some say other bodies are softening the issue. We hope this is not the case. Let us show backbone instead of wishbone!

Thank you Mr. Editor.

DISTINGUISHED LADY VISITED CITY YESTERDAY AND ENTERTAINED HERE

Madame Sigme Lund Investigating Condition of Her Countrymen in This Country

Securing information for the press of Norway and for the use of the government of that country, Madame Sigme Lund, the famous Norwegian composer, whose home is in Oslo but who for the past two years has been touring on this continent, spent a day in Prince Rupert, investigating the conditions of her countrymen here and last evening she met a number of them at dinner at the home of John Dybhavn, Norwegian consul.

The distinguished lady left for the East last night to fill engagements for recitals at Winnipeg, Regina and Moosejaw. Speaking of her visit, Mr. Dybhavn said Madame Lund was much impressed with the condition of the Norwegians, especially in this country, where they seemed to be prosperous.

Madame Lund was decorated by the King of Norway as far back as 1913 for her musical work.

FIFTEEN PLAYS WERE PLACED UNDER BAN CENSOR IN LONDON

LONDON, April 13. — Fifteen plays have been placed under the ban in London since the beginning of the year.

In making this known at a luncheon, the Earl of Cromer, Lord Chamberlain and censor of plays intended for the London stage, declared that he did not know whether the fact that this number had to be refused licenses out of the 194 plays submitted was due to advanced views or whether the people were becoming more daring.

"It has been a common cry," he added, "that the public is the best judge of what should be put on the stage. In that I quite agree, and in many cases, where I perhaps would have preferred not to see certain plays on the stage, the public have been able to give their verdict."

VANDERHOOF

Much publicity has been given in southern papers to a cleansing clay that has been discovered in this district by Albert Heymann and which has been heralded as an "elixir of life."

Dr. and Mrs. Bamford and Miss Linder of Francis Lake spent Easter week in Vanderhoof.

Joseph Kimmer of the Allotte Mining Co. returned to Seattle last week. He expects to return when the machinery starts operating at Manson Creek.

During the coming summer, the following officials of the forestry department will be in charge in the Vanderhoof and Stuart Lake area: ranger, E. F. W. Heath; Stuart Lake, G. E. Hamilton; north of Nechako River, A. J. Musgrove; Norman; south of Nechako River, George B. Ellis; Fort Fraser, W. N. Campbell.

SKIDEGATE

J. Rajaut, the government mail contractor, brought in a new car from S. E. Parker of Prince Rupert on the last boat. It will operate between Skidegate and Tiel.

T. A. Sandison, manager of the Alford Bay cannery, has his full crew at Alford Bay overhauling the cannery. W. Rennie is foreman and Pete Hansen net boss. Mr. Sandison will have three packers carrying fish from Hippo Island and the other west coast trolling grounds and will buy fish in the round.

Reginald Scott of Skidegate will operate the beany at Hippo this summer. He will have his outfit on a float where the fishermen may tie up while they eat.

PRINCE GEORGE

The place is to be named "The Last West Cafe."

Fishermen here are busy overhauling their boats and all expect a big season.

P. S. Bonney, district forester, who was here recently, and R. Gritten, forest ranger, hiked over the mountain from Skidegate Inlet to Gunshewa.

The B.C. Public Works Department are preparing to build the new piece of road from Skidegate to Queen Charlotte City. It will follow the beach.

BURNS LAKE

The town council has ruled that all children under the age of sixteen years must be off the streets at 9 o'clock at night except during the months of June, July and August when the hour will be extended to ten.

The skeleton which was found recently in the Fraser River near Legrand has been identified as that of Alexander Nelson, who at one time held a pre-emption in that vicinity.

L. H. Davidson of Stuart River was a visitor in this city last week. He reported farming as flourishing there and stated that it was the most contented settlement in British Columbia. The

At the east end of Tehesinkut Lake a silver ore strike was made last week and a number of local prospectors have filed claims. It is said to be a very promising strike and further de-settlements may make money trapping in the winter and fox and beaver farming is starting.

Prince George has heavy babies. On April 4 a twelve pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Armstrong and, on April 7, an eleven pound son to Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hurn.

Bishop Adams of Cariboo conducted services in the local Anglican Church on Sunday of this week.

Development of the showing is proceeding.

Eli Ferguson of Palling, whose weather forecasts for the past three years have been correct, predicts that spring in this district will be damp and cool but that growing weather will prevail as the season advances.

Mrs. A. M. Ruddy is paying a brief visit to Mrs. George Wall in Smithers.

Constable Carr and Rev. W. R. Ashford visited the Bahine district last week.

Miss Loretta Ghisholm, who teaches school at Port Essington, spent the Easter holidays visiting at Ootsa Lake with Miss Libby.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lawson and family are expected at Wistaria early next week from Prince Rupert. Their new hotel there is just about ready for occupation.

C. R. O'Hara and his sons, Richard and Patrick, left on Sunday for the United States where they will remain. After they have found a location, they will be joined by Mrs. O'Hara. Their residence near the Lake has been purchased by R. Lowe, assistant district engineer.

HAZELTON

Rev. A. C. Pound and his daughter left at the end of the week for the Okanagan country by car. Mrs. Pound and a second daughter went south by the usual mode of travel. Rev. J. H. Young, who succeeds Mr. Pound as United Church pastor here, arrived on Thursday from Terrace with his family.

Miss Avis Wall of Smithers was visiting here last week with Miss Jessie Smith.
