

ROYAL COMMISSION MINER LOST HIS JOB

Companions Refuse to Strike to Enforce Giving His Work Back After Sitting Closes

BLAIRMORE, Alta., April 27.—How a former member of the provincial royal commission, which recently completed its investigation into the Alberta coal situation, and who had left his job as a coal miner to act on the commission, was refused his old job back again, and how, following an appeal by the "coal-miner-member" P. M. Christopher, the ex-royal commissioner's fellow miners refused to back up his claim, formed a unique series of events here.

Frank Wheatley, for some years an active leader in labor affairs at various coal mines in southern Alberta, left his job at the Green Hill mine, near Blairmore, a few months ago, to sit on the coal commission.

His duties as royal commissioner ended, Mr. Wheatley applied to the Green Hill coal company for his old job back again.

No Position Open

"Sorry, but we can't give it to you," said the company. "We've laid a lot of men off recently, and there is no position open for you right now."

The ex-royal commissioner went back to his union. The union appealed to the coal company. "No job," said the coal company.

Then the committee of the local union held a meeting to discuss the situation, with a view to holding a strike.

P. M. Christopher, Labor member for Blairmore, joined with Mr. Wheatley in urging that the men strike in protest against the action of the company.

The vote showed a majority of the miners unwilling to back up Mr. Wheatley to the extent of a strike, and the men returned to work. The ex-royal commissioner is therefore, for the time being at least, an ex-miner also.

A SATIRICAL LESSON FOR LATE COMERS AT PHILADELPHIA CONCERT

(Edmonton Journal)

People, who come late, go away early and otherwise distract a musical or a theatrical program have long been a source of annoyance to those on the stage and to most of those in the audience. The leader of the Philadelphia orchestra the other night undertook to give a lesson in good manners by presenting a satirical program. When the curtain rose there were but two players on the stage and the first number was begun with them alone. The others drifted in nonchalantly one by one, sat down and broke in on the music. After awhile they began to wander out and only two violins remained at the end. There were some hisses, but the majority of the audience took it in good part and applauded.

FAILED TO COLLECT BET FROM A BOOKIE

Action in English Court Decided Against Person Who Laid £10 on Long Shot Horse

LONDON, April 27.—Mr. Justice Horridge, sitting as presiding judge at the Surrey Assizes, decided that a claim for recovery of a bet on a horse race could not be enforced and gave judgment accordingly.

The claim in question was one brought by a man named Hyde, who bet £10 on Charley's Mount in the Czarewich Stakes. The betting was 100 to 1 against and the horse won. Hyde tried to collect £4,000 and a dispute arose as to the terms and the action followed.

PERMIT SMOKING IN PLY. WAITING ROOMS

LONDON, April 27.—The London and North-Eastern Railway Company announced recently that the rule prohibiting smoking in their 2,200 waiting rooms is to be abolished.

An official of the company told a reporter that the ban was a relic of the days when smoking was usually objected to in public places, and in view of the fact that smoking is now so general it had been abolished.

ELKS WILL MEET IN BOSTON HALL

Expect to be Established in New Home Before Next Winter—Moose Move in on May 1

The Elks' Lodge, at a special meeting last night, decided to hold its meetings during the coming summer in the Boston Hall. By September the lodge hopes to be established in a new home following the Moose Lodge taking over the present premises in the Beckwith building which they have purchased. The Royal Purple, ladies' branch of the Elks' Lodge, it is expected will also hold their meetings in the Boston Hall.

On May 1, the Moose will take possession of the club rooms which for the past several years have been occupied by the Elks. It is likely that the Moose will take over some of the stock and equipment of the Elks at the same time.

PRINCE GEORGE

J. M. Gibson, district forester, addressed the Prince George Board of Trade at a luncheon meeting last Wednesday. The speaker declared that the city derived a million dollars business a year out of the timber industry in the district and said that royalties and government revenues from the district now exceed $260,000.

Nehako Lodge A.F. & A.M. held an enjoyable banquet, dance and card party last week.

Fred Sharboch, Mud River Valley settler, has been advised that his wife and family, who were swallowed up for several years in the Russian revolution, are alive and well and that arrangements are under way for their returning to the district.

E. J. Down of Woodpecker is to put on a freight and passenger motor service between here and Quesnel, starting in about three weeks' time.

The city council of Prince George has set the mill rate for 1926 at 55 mills, being an advance of five mills over the 1925 rate. The increased rate was forced by reductions in the assessment and the net taxation for the year will be somewhat less than for 1925.

Remission of tax upon the company's earnings and increased rates are demanded in the proposal of the local telephone company to the city council with a view to better service.

The city council has decided to secure insurance upon the seven members of the local volunteer fire brigade. Upon a annual premium of $7, the council receives an injury benefit of $60 per month and a death benefit of $1,000.

SALT LAKES PARK IS BEING IMPROVED

Shelter Being Erected For Use of Those Going to the Popular Resort

Workmen are busy at the Salt Lakes Park putting in a shelter booth close to the boat wharf in order that those waiting for the ferry may have some shelter when the weather is bad. Repairs will also be made to the walks in preparation for the opening of the swimming season.

There is some work necessary if the swimming pool which it is probable the swimming club will undertake.

The Parks Board, which was formed last autumn meets Wednesday evening and on the same evening the Swimming Club is meeting. It is expected that a policy of dealing with the lakes will then be evolved and a strong executive formed to carry out the work.

The whole question of development of the park is now open for consideration. It is one of the show places of the city and is a great asset.

Here is the Proof That Dr. Chase's Ointment does positively relieve the most severe cases of piles.

While Dr. Chase's Ointment is recognized everywhere as the standard treatment for piles you may be interested in this letter which describes one particular case. There are thousands of similar cases.

Mrs. Wm. Huggins, Appin, Ont. writes:

"Dr. Chase's Ointment cannot be equalled. I used it for protruding piles of the worst kind. When the Doctor said an operation was the only hope, I began to prepare for one, when I remembered reading about Dr. Chase's Ointment. I resolved to try it, and after using two boxes I had no trace of the piles. It was the greatest relief I ever got, and I only hope other sufferers who read this letter will lose no time in purchasing a box, and see for themselves the miracles it works. It will be the best investment they ever put their money into."
