WATER RATES COLD STORAGE

Excessive Charge For Utility at That Institution Will be Considered

The utilities committee had referred back to them last night by the city council the question of reducing the water bill for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company, which was considered excessive, it having been considerably increased recently.

Encourage Industries

Acting Mayor Casey said he was in hearty accord with what Alderman Stephens had said. He believed the utilities committee should consider closely the rates of other places.

Alderman McKechnie explained how the imposition of the rate came about. It was based on the rate in force in Vancouver.

Alderman Joe Greer moved to refer it back to the committee for further consideration and this was seconded by Alderman Perry and carried.

WEDDING BELLS RANG MERRILY

Play at Westholme Last Night Was a Great Success and Will be Repeated To-

The Prince Rupert Players Club scored another big hit in the merry three-act comedy "Wedding Bells" which was put on for the first time last night in the Westholme Theatre and which will be repeated tonight for the benefit of the Gyro Club's playground.

A farce in which practically every character becomes involved in an affair of the heart, "Wedding Bells" gives rise to continuous mirth provoking situations presented in a way embodying many novel turns.

Leading Parts

The leading role of Reginald Carter is taken by Alex. A. Cannon in whose house in New York City the scene is set.

The leading ladies' roles are shared by Miss Dorothy Gillingham and Miss Elanda Marsh, the former as Marcia Hunter, the innocently winsome and much-perplexed bride-elect and the latter as Rosalie, the demure but scheming former wife.

As a confirmed though debonaire bachelor, wary of though apparently willing for adventures with the gentler sex, W. M. Wals carries out the role of Spencer Wells in a sophisticated manner.

Long-Haired Poet

As Douglas Ordway, bespectacled and long-haired poet, Geo. Mitchell carries out with marked

The Slight Cold Of To-day May Be Serious To-morrow

ability a role that is as difficult as it is comical. Meek though effusive in nature and poetic in appearance as well as sentiment, Ordway, through no initiative of his own, finally captures the bride while the groom is telephoning for a minister.

The part of Mrs. Hunter, the proud and distressed mother of Marcia, is carried out with dignity by Miss Winnie Larsen.

Hooper, a sentimental though self-possessed lady's maid, is portrayed in splendid manner by Miss Florence Aitken; W. Mack takes the part of a most butterfly though much married butler, and S. Suga appears as a Japanese manservant, the only member of the entire cast who does not become involved matrimonially or nearly so in the course of the play.

Responsible to a large degree for the excellence of the manner in which the play is staged and the arrangement of the scenes are J. S. Wilson, under whose direction, it is staged, and W. H. P. Fleming, stage manager. The make-ups are in charge of Mrs. L. O. Larsen and the prompting is in the hands of Miss E. Mack-Kay who, as far as the audience could see last night, had little to do.

LAKE KATHLYN ICE HARVEST

In Spite of Mild Winter, 11,000 Tons Was Taken Reports Contractor Who is Visiting City

In spite of the exceptionally mild winter a satisfactory ice harvest has been taken this year at Lake Kathlyn states Charles Wilson, ice contractor from that point, who is a visitor in the city today on business.

During the month of February Mr. Wilson had twenty-one men engaged in cutting, storing and shipping the ice with the result that 11,000 tons was taken—7,000 tons being disposed of to the railway company for storage at various points along the line between Prince Rupert and Prince George and 4,000 tons being stored away in the Booth Fisheries' three big ice houses at Lake Kathlyn.

The coldest day of the year at Lake Kathlyn, which is three miles this side of Smithers, was in October when the thermometer dropped to seven degrees above zero, reports Mr. Wilson, who arrived from the interior on this morning's train and will return there this evening.

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful and interesting.

Every manager of a household—every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare—should make a habit of reading the ads.

Read the advertisements in order to buy wisely

OBJECTION TAKEN TO ADVERTISING IN TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

Matter Will be Further Considered at Future Meeting of City Council

That advertising in the city telephone directory would be an imposition on the people if allowed, was the opinion expressed by Alderman Stephens at the city council meeting last night, when, an application from Rose, Cowan & Latta to print the directory free for the right to insert advertising, was brought before the city council.

Alderman Brown said the matter might well be given serious thought. The firm would get out two books a year and the advertising would not encroach on the directory. In the interests of economy and efficiency it should be considered.

Mean Advantage

Alderman Stephens said the matter came up two or three years ago and he opposed it then as he did today. In a municipal telephone service they had no right to place subscribers at the necessity to take advertising. It would be a mean advantage to take of subscribers. He believed that in all cities where they had their own utilities these should pay their own way without cluttering them up. It was unfair both to subscribers and advertisers to do otherwise. It there was not an adequate rate without giving anyone the edge on advertising they should raise it. He had no objection to the firm in question printing the book if they put in the lowest tender, otherwise it was asking the subscribers to pay. If one advertised, the others felt they had to do so in self-protection.

Alderman Larsen claimed that in all cities the directories were big volumes and big offers were made for the advertising rights.

Oppose Tenders

Alderman Stephens said those were privately owned. Why was it not suggested that tenders be called and find out how much people were willing to pay for the privilege. But he would oppose even that.

Alderman Brown said the committee was not making a recommendation, they wanted the council to deal with it. He feared if something was not done they would have to raise the rates.

Joe Greer thought the matter might be investigated further but if anything were done he would favor calling for tenders. It was decided to lay it on the table for a week.
