SAYS OPPONENTS TRYING TO SHOW THAT GOVERNMENT LIKELY TO BE DEFEATED

TELLS WHY CONFIDENT

especially commented on the buoyant spirit he found existing on all sides. The minister said that he found evidences of political activity upon the part of his opponents. In this connection he said:

"The recent Conservative convention in Kamloops and the selection of Dr. Tolmie as leader, has stimulated a new interest in the Conservative party, and is, of course, of interest to the peopl of British Columbia, generally, and is to be hoped that the Consercative party will show new virility. A government welcomes strong opposition. The main purpose of the Conservative party at the present time seems to be a desire to create an impression that the Liberal party will go out of power at the next election.

ALWAYS TO FORE

In the recent Dominion election the Conservative party succeeded in convincing the people of British Columbia that the Tory government would remain in office in Ottawa. In this, the people of British Columbia were badly of the province this year, I believe self and his bride. that the people generally, appreciate the effort that has been put forth HIGH SCHOOL LIT. during the past ten years.

The Government is usually blamed for all the ills that happen, and if the Government is blamed in this respect, surely we can claim some reasonable credit for the benefits accruthe irrevocable fact stands forth, that the Province is more prosperous than ever before in its history. Its induswe have become the third manufac- . turing province of the Dominion, only exceeded by Ontario and Quebec.

With the masses of the people supporting us, because of our legislation on their behalf, and with the encouragement which we have given industrial operation, there seems every reason to believe that the people will retain the present administration

MANY FORMER LOCAL PEOPLE ARE SEEN IN VANCOUVER NOW

Among the former Prince Rupert people now located in Vancouver who were seen by local Conservative delegates in that city was E. V. Ling who is now living in New Westminster and is occupied selling life insurance for a Canadian company. R. H. Shockley also was met on the street. He is employed with his brother E. H. Shockley who has several building contracts in hand. J. G. Scott and "Pa" Beak share an apartment together and both welcome the opportunity of meeting northern friends whenever they chance to visit in Vancouver. S. K. Campbell, formerly manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, seems quite satisfied with his new location in the south and made numerous inquiries concerning old friends in Prince Rupert.

Altogether one only has to appear on the street occasionally to meet numerous former residents of Prince Rupert, some of whom freely express the regret that they left and inquire anxiously as to the amount of grain being shipped from the local elevator.

Peter Clark, a Montana cattle rancher, has reached the city en route to the Queen Charlotte Islands where he will look over the possibilities for that industry on the Islands.

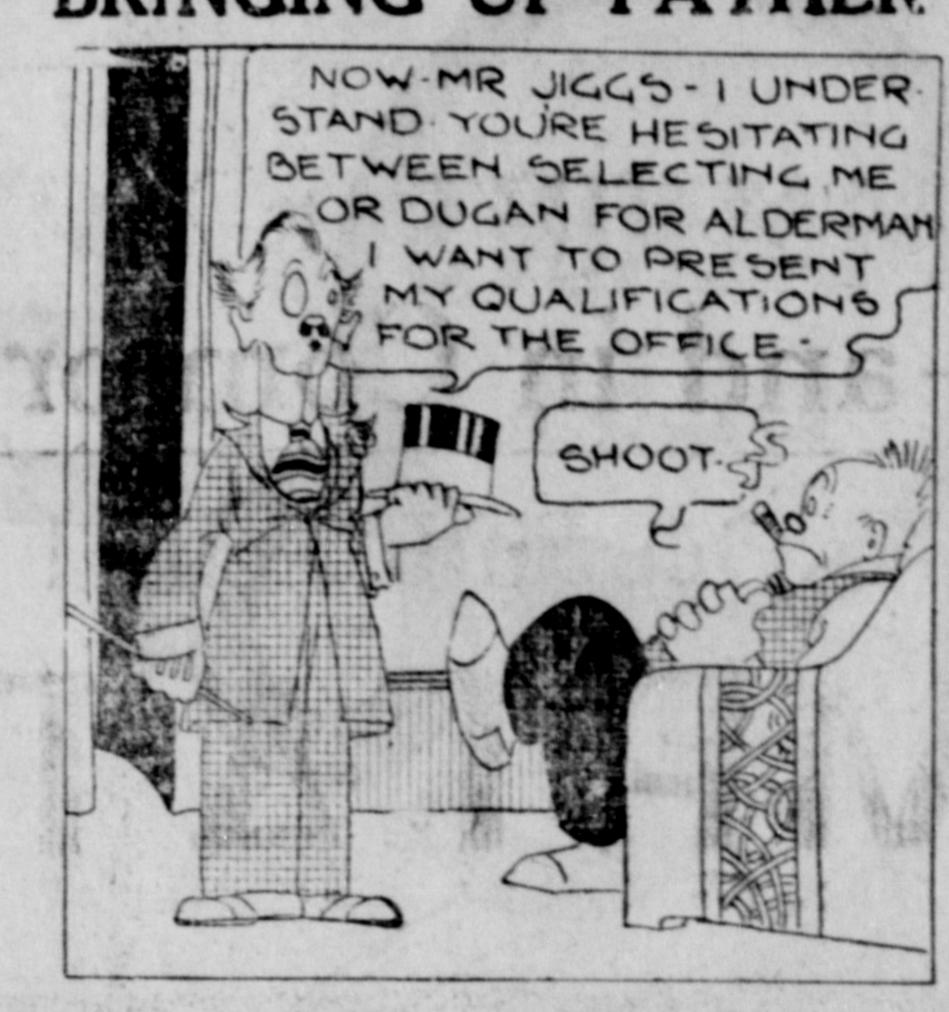

Flowers continue to bloom at the cemetery although the season is very far advanced.

Private advices from the front indicate that Capt. Neil McNeil is back again with the forces after an extended leave which was necessary because of shell shock.

Shipments from the pulp mill at Swanson Bay are expected in the city shortly. The plant has just resumed operations.
