BIRTH CONTROL BILL REFUSED DISCUSSION BRITISH PARLIAMENT

House Divided Without Any Regard for Party Lines on Proposal

LONDON, Mar. 10.—The British House of Commons refused Mr. Thurlow leave to introduce a Birth Control Bill, the vote against allowing it to be considered being more than two to one.

The house divided on the question, a Conservative "telling" with a Laborist for the bill and another Conservative "telling" with another Laborist against it, and the familiar party lines being quite forgotten in the division. The object of the bill was to authorise local authorities to communicate knowledge of birth-control methods to married women. Mr. Thurtle claimed that such communication would promote equality as between the sexes and as between poor women and rich women. The Rev. James Barr, another Labor member, with impressive fervor, denounced the bill as a counsel of despair. A bountiful Creator had provided enough for all. Moral instincts and religious prejudices had uplifted mankind, and if we defied them it would be at our peril. Leave to introduce the bill was refused by a majority of more than two to one.

LADIES' MUSIC CLUB TO SPONSOR RECITAL

Regular Meeting Was Held Yesterday Afternoon When Wagner was Subject of Study

The Ladies' Music Club met at the home of Mrs. G. A. Woodland, Waldron Apartments, yesterday afternoon. The program, which was in charge of Mrs. J. P. McMillan and Mrs. S. Darton, was on "Wagner, His Life and Compositions." A paper on the life of Wagner was read by Mrs. G. A. Bryant; Mrs. McMillan sang "The Star at Eve," from Tannhauser; Mrs. Hubert Ward and Mrs. R. P. Ponder played as a piano duet the march from "Meistersingus;" Mrs. L. O. Larsen sang "Elizabeth's Dream," from Tannhauser, and the march from Tannhauser was played as a piano solo by Mrs. Ward.

The Ladies' Music Club has decided to sponsor early in June a piano recital by Mr. Geen, examiner for the Toronto Conservatory of Music, who will be here at that time and who will be assisted by a boy soprano whom he will bring here with him.

NARCYLENE LATEST ANAESTHETIC USED

Was First Tried on Animals and is Better Than Chloroform or Ether

BERLIN, Mar. 11.—The new anaesthetic "narcylene," a pure acetylene gas, has been adopted by a number of German hospitals. It was first tried on animals by Professor Wieland, of Konigsberg, in 1922, and towards the end of the same year Professor Gauss used it in his hospital at Wurzburg.

Its advantages are that the amount of gas actually absorbed by the blood can be accurately determined by the addition of oxygen so that the narcosis remains under complete control. The patient loses consciousness immediately and without the disagreeable symptons that often accompany chloroform and ether, so that the operation can begin forthwith. Recovery is equally smooth and rapid, and can be produced instantaneously by means of pure oxygen. Sickness so common after chloroform, hardly ever sets in, and there are no lung complications.

Used in Childbirth

"Narcylene" is particularly effective in childbirth, as it does no harm either to the mother or to the child. Patients whose powers of resistance are so low that the use of chloroform or ether would be dangerous can be safely anaesthetised with "narcylene."

A disadvantage is its inflammability—every flame and all red-hot instruments, such as thermocauteries, have to be kept away, — and it requires a large and expensive apparatus, so that at present it is only being used in the wealthier German hospitals. In some cases it also tends to produce a tension of the abdominal muscles which may give the surgeon some difficulty in a gynaecological operation, but this tension can be reduced by an infiltration of novocain and adrenalin.

So far "narcylene" has been used in about 5,000 cases, and with such good results that several German surgeons have declared it to be the "anaesthetic of the future."

LASH RECOMMENDED FOR BOOTLEGGERS

(Toronto Globe)

In an address to the Grand Jury at the opening of the Port Arthur assizes Mr. Justice Fisher virtually recommended the use of the lash to suppress bootlegging in Ontario. "If I had the making of the law, which I have not," his Lordship said, "I would guarantee that no bootlegger would ever come back a second time. I would flog him, sentence him to a stiff term of imprisonment and confiscate his property. The way things are now, a man is a bootlegger one day, his father a bootlegger the next day, and his mother the next."

Today is Important Anniversary in Army and Navy Circles and is Being Observed Here

Today marks the ninth anniversary of the capture of Bagdad, one of the most important events in the course of the Great War in which both the army and navy under General Maude participated. In commemoration of the day, masthead flags are today flying at naval headquarters and tonight there will be a special parade under Lieut. R. P. Ponder, officer commanding.

SPORT CHAT

George Waugh and Don Brown will meet at the Elks' Home tonight in the final game of the first round of the city billiard championship series, the winners in which so far have been Col. McMordie, Fred Pyle and George McIlmoyle. With the completion of the first round this evening, the semi-finals will be arranged to start at the end of this or the first of next week and the next week will see the city championship for this year settled.

As far as number of victories is concerned, the Elks', in meeting the Sons of Canada in the men's section of the Fraternal Whist League tonight, will have the opportunity to catch up on the Moose who captured second place in Tuesday evening's games. The Knights of Pythias, who are meeting the Orangemen tonight, will also have the chance of getting into second place as far as number of wins are concerned although they are handicapped by two more losses than the Elks and one more loss than the Moose. With four teams still in the running for leadership, interest in the games is still tense. Other teams meeting tonight will be Knights of Columbus vs. Oddfellows and Great War Veterans vs. Sons of England.

Plans are already being laid at Smithers for the building next winter of a new skating rink along newer and more elaborate lines than the present one and on a site on the block opposite the present location. The new design will bring in a ten-foot fence so that the Athletic Club may reap its full reward in the way of admissions. The plans will also include a circular ice surface for the benefit of pleasure skaters. Owing to unseasonable weather, the rink at Smithers was operated at a loss this year but this will be made up by collection of outstanding dues. Winter sports in Smithers were closed with a meeting on Monday night of the directors of the Athletic Club when it was decided to dismantle the rink and store the material for the summer months.

McILMOYLE DEFEATED JEBSON AT BILLIARDS

Game Took Three Hours to Play and Final Loser Led in Early Part of Contest

In the slowest but closest tournament so far in the series, George McIlmoyle last night defeated Sgt. Jebson by a score of 500 to 494 in the city billiard championship competition. Jebson led pretty well up to the 300 mark and from then on the players remained close together. Both failed to take advantage of many opportunities and Jebson could not take advantage of a set up right at the last when six points would have put him out with McIlmoyle yet three to go. The game took three hours to play and there were 107 innings. McIlmoyle's high break was 25 and his average, 4.66; Jebson's high break was 26 and average, 4.61. Bert Morgan was referee; Fred Pyle, scorer, and W. Long, marker.
