BOYS DARKEN CITY LIGHTS

PRANK MIGHT EASILY HAVE PROVEN FATAL TO YOUTHS

EDMONTON, Oct. 26. — Mischievous boys threw a greater part of the city in darkness last Friday night and it might easily have proven fatal to themselves.

Shortly after eight o'clock the electric lights went out in the east and west ends and part of the central area. When electric light employees made a hurried search for the cause, it was found that boys had fastened an old dry battery to a wire and flung it over the high tension wire near the McCauley school. The tension wire was pulled against another wire and both burned out.

Record time was made in repairs, and "juice" turned on to the east and west ends within 15 minutes. The ecentral district was without light for half an hour. The downtown district was not affected as it is on another unit.

Instant death would have been the penalty if the young fellows had held on to the wire they threw over the tension line when it made the connection. Police are searching for the youths, who have escaped capture so far.

THIS PORT GRATIFIED WITH INTEREST TAKEN BY PRAIRIES HE SAYS

Interview With Walter S. Thompson, C.N.R. Director of Publicity, in Edmonton Paper

That the interest which the Edmonton board of trade, the Alberta government and the farmers and business men of central and northern Alberta are taking in the development of Prince Rupert as a grain port has been very gratifying to the people of the latter city, is stated by Walter Thompson, director of publicity of the Canadian National Railways, Montreal, in an interview with the Edmonton Journal.

Prince Rupert is looking forward with the keenest interest to the visit of a delegation from this province, Mr. Thompson reported, and plans have been made to show the visitors every attention, in order that they may get a complete picture of the facilities created for handling export and import traffic by the northern route.

"It may be definitely stated," he added, "that Prince Rupert is beginning a cycle of prosperity and development. There are two Japanese steamships in Prince Rupert harbor this week-end—the one loading and the other getting ready to load Alberta grain for the European market. This wheat is arriving in solid trains over the Canadian National railways, and will be disposed of in Europe, after its passage through the Panama Canal, by agents of the Alberta wheat pool. Other tonnage is also on its way to Prince Rupert, and indications are that the facilities of the new 1,250,000-bushel elevator will be kept busily employed.

"The dry dock and ship-building plant, which can handle ships up to 20,000 tons, is working overtime, and the whole harbor front presents a picture of a complete and efficient port, with extensive new walls and sheds, elevator, dry dock, cold storage plant and railway trackage."

The salmon pack on the Skeena River and neighboring waters has created a record during the past season, Mr. Thompson stated, and every train out of Prince Rupert continues to carry carload lots of halibut to the principal Canadian cities and particularly to Chicago and New York.

The officers of the Alberta wheat pool have been warmly welcomed in Prince Rupert, said Mr. Thompson, and in common with the captains and officers of the two Japanese boats that are loading grain in that port at the present time, speak in the highest terms of the harbor facilities offered.

RADIO IS FAILURE AS FAR AS MUSIC IS CONCERNED—EDISON

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 26.— The radio is a failure rendering music, is the opinion of Thomas A. Edison.

"Music on the radio is very poor because it is badly distorted," said the inventor of the phonograph. "I quite approve of radios, but they should not be used for musical purposes. They are good for news and for reports of ball games, boxing matches and speeches, where distortion is not noticeable."

Mr. Edison said distortion marked the chief difference between the radio and the phonograph. "After the novelty of the radio has worn off, the phonograph will reclaim its own," he declared.

WOMEN SHOULD ALWAYS WEAR WEDDING RING

What Happened English Woman When She Took it Off

BLACKBURN, England, Oct. 26. — There is a strong superstition among Lancashire wives that it is unlucky to remove the wedding ring. Mrs. G. Wright took her ring off because her finger was festering. This is what happened shortly afterward: Two cups were smashed, a ukelele string snapped without being touched, a talking machine spring broke and fire destroyed the bathroom. The day was the twentieth anniversary of her marriage.

LAWYER WALKS OUT OF COURT

MAGISTRATE EMILY MURPHY'S RULINGS CAUSE SENSATION IN EDMONTON POLICE COURT

EDMONTON, Oct. 26.—Culminating a series of clashes with local lawyers who claim that Magistrate Emily Murphy has frequently exceeded her authority as a police court magistrate, Crown Prosecutor Alan Harvey walked out of the woman magistrate's court room after announcing that he had withdrawn from a case as prosecutor.

The incident occurred when Mrs. Murphy insisted on calling witnesses, summoned by herself, to give evidence of events in the life of a young girl who was before her on a charge of theft.

CLAIMS ACTION IRREGULAR

The happenings occurred some three months ago, and the crown prosecutor warned the magistrate that they had nothing to do with the case being tried on Friday, and that she had no authority to call the witnesses. The whole proceeding, he said, was irregular, and when Magistrate Emily Murphy overruled him he walked out from the court room.

The next case on the docket also found the woman magistrate tangling with a lawyer, when R. F. Jackson, defending Mrs. Sophie Kanesvich on an assault charge, held that the court was acting irregularly in adjourning the case after Mrs. Murphy had found the woman guilty and fined her $5 and costs or five days. In spite of the lawyer's strenuous protests the magistrate held to her decision and ordered Mrs. Kanesvich to appear in court again Saturday. When the case came up Saturday, Mrs. Kanesvich was bound over to keep the peace. The previous conviction and fine therefore, do not stand.
