IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

Next week the prime ministers of all the British Dominions will meet together in London at another Imperial Conference. The gathering was to have been held last year; but the elections in this country were responsible for its postponement until a more convenient time. It will be remembered that it was Ramsay MacDonald that the meeting should furnish an opportunity for the Premiers to discuss constitutional questions arising out of the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles and the negotiation of the treaties of Lausanne and Locarno. The Imperial Conference, of course, has no executive power. It is purely High School Literary Society took place consultative and is called from time to time to enable those who direct the policles of the various parts of the Empire to discuss common problems in an informal manner. It is a useful form of interchange if only because it permits a more intimate and exhaustive survey of Dominion affairs than would be possible Hacker, president of the society, debated through years of correspondence between the various Dominion governments. the subject, "Resolved that Vancouver The practical results of some of these gatherings have not been imposing. She showed how the every set of elecumstances and very little progress is likely to be made in that fact that New York was surrounded by direction.

CANADA AND UNITED STATES.

The Canadian Prime Minister also will discuss the question of Canada's application of the quota law, which ambassadorial representative to the United States, agreed upon in London, Otta- worked against New York while Vanwa and Washington six years ago. Suggestions that there will be plain talk at the coming gathering need not worry anybody. It would be a pity if Dominion statesmen were to gather together for a chat and indulge in nothing more than platitudes. That would be quite unlike British procedure. The Empire has been built by plain talk. It can be strengthened, its members will be able to understand one another better, by still more plain talk.

INTERESTING EVENT LAST NIGHT WHEN SEVENTY WOMEN GATHER-ED AT FESTIVE BOARD

The first complimentary banquet by Women of the Mooseheart Legion in honor of wives, daughters and sisters of members of the Loyal Order of Moose took place last evening in the Boston Hall and was a very successful event. The festivities were opened by the Senior Regent, Mrs. Charles Edwards, who gave an address of welcome and Grace was read by the chaplain, Mrs. F. M. Crosby. Seventy persons then proceeded to taste of the dainties of the festive banquet board. Mrs. Robert McCarthy was very capable toast mistress.

Features of the program were addresses by Mrs. J. Brady and Mrs. A. T. Parkin. The former spoke on women's work and the latter on women's activities in the Empire. The audience was delighted with the planofore solos of Mrs. T. D. Rinde and the elocution of Miss Alice Jounkman. Mrs. Jarvis Mc-Leod, always popular, was heard to advantage in vocal solos.

The toasts were as follows: "His Majesty the King."

"The Supreme Lodge," proposed by Mrs. Thor Johnson and responded to by Mrs. Jack Ratchford.

"Visitors," proposed by Mrs. J. Gawthorn and responded to by Mrs. A. G. Bartlett. There was also community singing to further enliven an excellent program. After the banquet cards were indulged in, the winners being as follows: First whist, Mrs. A. Nelson; second whist, Mrs. R. McCarthy; first bridge, Mrs. Jarvis, McLeod; second bridge, Miss Mary As-

The business now developing here would lessen the amount done at Vancouver. While Montreal was the only rival of New York, Vancouver had as rivals San Francisco, Seattle Prince Rupert. Immigration to New York, he claimed, was greater than to Vancouver.

Principal Peddie acted as judge and Jack Dean was secretary.

FIRST YEAR DEBATERS

The first year debate was on the subject "Reselved that Canada is of more use to the Empire than Australia." Miss Amelia Pillsbury presided and the affirmative was upheld by Miss Irene Mitchell and Ralph Johnson, while Miss Ella Steen and Victor Thomas spoke for the negative. Miss Pearce was judge and she gave the decision in favor of the
