

The 32-piece
COURT CABINET

THE CHARM THAT SURROUNDS
The Hampton Court—latest achievement of Community designers—has been greatly enhanced by the introduction of this splendid chest.

Hand-carved in effect, and suggesting the gorgeous chests of early English days, Court Cabinets are sure to have a tremendous vogue.

As settings for fine silver ware nothing could be more appropriate, yet the cost is surprisingly low.

NO COSMETICS MAY BE USED BY FRESHETTES

WHILE ON PROBATION THEY ARE OBLIGED TO WEAR ANKLE RIB-BONS AND BABYWEAR

WINNIPEG, Oct. 7.—Woman students at the University of Manitoba have put the ban on the use of powder or paint by the first year girls and have frowned upon signs of "flapperism" among the freshettes.

And their opposition to use of cosmetics by the "younger generation" has not been a passive one, for the freshettes were greeted yesterday by a bold sign which not only advises them to keep their school-girl complexion unsullied, but absolutely forbids them to make use of any artificial beautifiers. The sign which has struck dismay into the hearts of many of the fairest co-eds read as follows:

"Freshettes will come to classes with no powder or lip-stick on. By order of the upper class students."

MANY ORNAMENTS

During the probation period the first year women will also be compelled to wear green ribbons around their ankles, nursery rhyme handkerchiefs pinned to the front of their dresses and a baby's rattle tied to green ribbons hanging around their necks. While going from one class to another they will not be allowed to cross the campus but will be forced to take the roundabout route by way of the Broadway Street sidewalk.

But nothing so alarms the freshettes as the "paint and powder decree" which many of them consider fatal to their college careers. Meanwhile many of the second and third year girls are discussing the wisdom of maintaining this ruling throughout the entire year and many of those who scent keen competition from the first year ranks the suggestion is being received with rare enthusiasm.

VARIED VIEWS

At the University a characteristic sight was that of a forlorn freshette desperately trying to remain unseen slinking from one class room to another. The meantime the men students are divided on the question, some of them obviously displeased others disappointed and many of them intensely enjoying the embarrassment of these newcomers who previously presented such a radiant appearance. Many of the faculty on the other hand, regard the innovation with distinct approval and are inclined to lend their support to its enforcement.

OBJECTS TO WORD IMPERIAL IN CANADA

The writer of a letter published in the Toronto Globe who signs himself "Canada" indicates the feeling of a section of the population of the Dominion here as well as elsewhere. It says:

To the Editor of The Globe: Mr.
Greenfield, you say, is duly impressed with the desirability of securing British settlers. And there are already a number of "foreign" colonies, and they create "problems."

How do you know? There are no colonies at all such as you imagine. The hardest problem is your beloved Britisher. The "foreigner" sticks to his farm, the Englishman does not, and when he sees the industrious "foreigner" prosper, turning the virgin prairie into blossoming farmsteads, he whines about the foreigner being favored, etc. "No English need apply" would meet the case better. But I guess Greenfield knows.

When will you learn to leave Canada alone? I think some other portion of the Imperial Commonwealth, as you call it, would suit you better. Canada doesn't want to belong to an "Imperial" concern
