REACTIONS OF THOSE ABOUT TO DIE ARE TOLD OF BY THE EXPERIENCED

(Nelson News)

It is said that the person in the throes of starvation conjures up visions of rich food.

That the person dying of thirst sees streams of water is a known scientific fact. Ernest Thompson Seton, the Canadian naturalist and author, once related that three times in his life the desert all but got him, and three times in his supposed dying pangs his disordered vision beheld running water. Delirium supervenes the other effects of exhaustion, and probably is merciful in its ministrations.

Apparently drowned persons who have been resuscitated after being below consciousness have described their sensations in scientific terms and with scientific accuracy. The sinking of the senses below consciousness, in drowning or apparent drowning, has been established to be probably the least anguishing of realized deaths.

On the other hand, the person experiencing death or apparent death by freezing finds the lulling of the senses a delicious experience, to which the inexperienced or unwary gladly resign, though the experienced know it to be the death signal, to be sternly refused with every atom of physical and will power.

As a matter of fact, as amazing as her survival at all, is the fact that Miss Warburton was not claimed by delirium and in that condition when found.

Her wonderful feat in standing up fearlessly to the wilderness for 30 days and still in possession of her faculties, is sufficient proof that she was not overrating her powers when she undertook her 66-mile journey by mountain trail unaccompanied.

SOWING WILD RICE IN DUCK MARSHES MEANS OF AIRPLANE

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22.—Sowing by airplane has been inaugurated by the Manitoba department of agriculture.
Recently sacks of wild rice were forwarded to Cormorant Lake station, on the Hudson Bay Railway, for distribution by plane over suitable marshes in the Manitoba northland. This includes the vast duck marsh known as Moose Lake and Cedar Lake, said to be the largest marsh on the North American continent.

During an extensive survey of the north last year, Prof. V. W. Jackson, of the Manitoba Agricultural College, found no wild rice north of latitude 53, and to this he attributes the fact that ducks are coming south in the rice season.

Finding no reason why wild rice should not grow in the north, the suggestion was made that modern science be brought to the assistance of nature.
Despatch of the aeroplane to sow the seed was the result.

Expectations are that, should the rice develop, the natural spread of food supply will increase the number of ducks and muskrats.

HUGE POTATO

CARMANGAY, Alta., Oct. 22.—E. Lot-so, of Black Spring Ridge, has the reputation of producing the largest potato for Alberta in 1926, as far as it is possible to ascertain.

This potato is of the Rural New Yorker type and weighed four and a half pounds. The giant spud measures 2 1/2 inches around the long way and 1 1/2 inches at the shortest point.

NOTHING ELSE LEFT TO DO

We were recently told the sad case of a Scotchman who became engaged to a girl who got so fat he wanted to break off the engagement. But the girl couldn't get the ring off, so he had to marry her.—Kingston Standard.

PROTEST MADE AT POLISH TREATMENT OF LABOR LEADERS

EDMONTON, Oct. 22.—The following resolution was passed at a mass meeting here:

"Over 1,000 Canadian citizens assembled at a mass meeting in Edmonton on October 17, 1926, under the auspices of the Canadian Labor party, having considered the horrible treatment of the political prisoners and of Ukrainians, White Russians and Jews, et cetera, in Poland by the previous wish hereby to express our strong pro-
