Step By Step The West Must Win.

When an inequality has been established by custom it is extremely difficult to get it evened up. That is the situation in regard to the transportation rates in the west. Owing to the difficulties of building the railway through the Kicking Horse Pass, the G.P.R. rates to the Pacific coast were set at a high figure and once established it was difficult to make a change. Happily there have been men in charge of affairs who had the two necessary qualities, the courage of their convictions and the ability to carry them through. Much has already been gained. A measure of justice has been granted but there is still a good way to go. The west may have to speak yet louder and more incisively in order to gain her point. She must win in the end, but the question is how long the change will be delayed?

Farmers Interested In Coast Towns.

The farmers are all interested in getting the lowest possible grain rates through to the Pacific or Atlantic coasts and the people here are interested because they believe they have a right to an equal break with ports in the east. People along the railroad are interested because the more rapidly the coast towns develop the sooner they will have a steady market for their produce, and there will be employment for railway shops and round houses, and employees to man the trains.

Australian Treaty And Produce Imports.

Attempts will be made by the opposition to the present government to show that the operation of the Australian treaty will work a hardship on Canadian farmers. That is the weak spot in our democratic system of government. Men who are perfectly just in their business dealing will not hesitate to take an unfair advantage of an opposing party.

There have been importations of Australian produce every year, whenever there was sufficient to make exporting worth while from Australia and when the prices here were high enough to warrant it. Butter has come here at various times and so has mutton and other commodities. Without the treaty many of the articles might likely have come here, but there is no doubt the treaty tends to encourage the imports from that country. Just now a shipment of butter has arrived and there is likely to be a roar of protest from the buttermaking districts of Canada.

MASONIC BALL USUAL SUCCESS

Some Two Hundred Persons Attended Craft's Annual Event In Auditorium Last Night

The annual ball of Tyee and Tsimpsaan Lodges, A.F. & A.M., held last evening in the Auditorium proved, as usual, to be one of the outstanding social affairs of the season. There were in attendance some 100 couples including members of the craft with their wives and lady friends, opening at 9.15, the affair was in progress to the keen enjoyment of all until about 2 o'clock. The decorations were very beautiful, flags and the insignia of the craft predominating. Music was furnished by an orchestra consisting of Mrs. R. P. Ponder, David Eastman, R. Arthur, jr., and David Bennett. At midnight a buffet supper was served. George A. Woodland was master of ceremonies and convener of the general committee and E. Unwin presided at the door. The committee in charge consisted of G. A. Woodland, E. A. Mann, A. R. Nicholls, Ald. W. M. Brown, G. P. Tinker and W. D. Vance.

PRINCE RUPERT AS GRAIN PORT

Letters Urging Campaign of Publicity For Prairies Read to Board of Trade

Two letters from prairie points advocating the use of newspaper space for advertising the Prince Rupert elevator were read at the monthly meeting of the Board of Trade last night. President Hanson in the chair. One of these was from H. St. Lee, formerly manager of the Bank of Montreal here, who sent a clipping from a Calgary paper of a Vancouver advertisement. Mr. Lee expressed sympathy with Prince Rupert in her efforts to secure a share of the grain trade. He said in part: "Alberta, as you are probably aware, is divided into two sections—Southern Alberta with Calgary as the centre and Northern Alberta with Edmonton as its centre. The dividing line is about the fifty-second parallel. Owing to the direct connection between Calgary and Vancouver I do not think Prince Rupert could expect very much grain traffic from Southern Alberta but I am of the opinion she should be able to obtain considerable from the northern section of the province. However, on account of the other line from Edmonton to Vancouver she probably will have to make a strenuous fight. If the new "Garnet Wheat" does what is claimed for it the northern boundary of the wheat fields will be pushed many miles to the north and this will help Prince Rupert. This of course will take time to develop.

"There is another point which should be kept in mind, namely, the dividing point between the east bound and the west bound shipments. During the winter months this line will likely be a movable one for the reason that shippers will in a great many cases prefer to move their wheat to market rather than keep it for the opening of lake navigation. In doing this they will save storage and interest, which will mean that they can afford to pay a little more freight and in that way that dividing line will be moved east a certain number of miles during the months that navigation is closed on the lakes."

From Edmonton

The other letter from Charles E. Campbell, publisher of the Edmonton Bulletin, follows:

"Many thanks for your letter of the 9th inst drawing our attention to the fact that we have not been giving Prince Rupert adequate publicity. Instructions have been given the editorial teams to refer to Prince Rupert in future when dealing with the western grain route.

"You will note, however, that the Vancouver Harbor Commissioners are carrying large display advertisements in the Alberta newspapers showing the wheat premiums quoted on the Vancouver Grain Exchange, and also the saving in freight. It would appear to the writer that you will be handicapped in meeting Vancouver competition unless you can give some publicity to the advantages in shipping to Prince Rupert and also as to what a man would get for his grain when he shipped it there, otherwise only elevator companies who buy grain will be able to use your port.

"Wishing you and your board every success in establishing Prince Rupert as one of Canada's world ports."

AUDIT OF UTILITIES

Editor Daily News.

From the newspaper report of the 3rd inst. it appears that a resolution was adopted by the City Council at its last meeting, calling upon the Utilities Committee to cause a special audit to be made concerning the City utilities since their inception up to the present time to ascertain their standing in relation to General Fund.

With your permission, Mr. Editor, I desire to point out to our rate payers that such an audit was conducted as far as the Light Department was concerned during 1922, and will be found fully reported in the 1922 annual report of the City, and if the Mayor and Aldermen would take the time to digest said report, I believe they would find that it should not be necessary at this time to spend money on a special audit.

The 1922 audit disclosed that under certain Bylaws considerable over-expenditures had been made from time to time, and that such over-expenditures had been financed by General Fund, or by the ratepayers. As at December 31, 1921, it showed that a balance of $41,832.10 was due General Fund under Bylaw 29, and it was decided to repay this amount out of Light revenue at the rate of $1,800 per year. This done the balance still due as at December 31, 1925, is $22,632.10, which amount at the same rate will be liquidated in 1930.

It was further shown that under Bylaw 207 the amount similarly due was $12,368.54, to be repaid at the rate of $3,522 per year. This item is due to be liquidated in the 1925 report.

About eight months' time was devoted to this audit in 1922, and in my opinion there is no justification for at this time spending money on this subject.

It is rumored that on the last Light Extension Bylaw to provide connection and service to the elevator there is likely to be a Miss C. C. M. Smart, South Battleford, Sask., writes:—"A while ago I was troubled with facial blemishes, especially pimples, and was really ashamed to go out with such a bad looking face.

After I had taken two bottles there wasn't a pimple of any kind left on my face, and I now have a clear, smooth and velvety complexion. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

considerable over-expenditure, which will have to be taken care of no doubt in a similar way.

While charges for interest and redemption of outstanding Bonds are being provided for out of the revenue, in view of these over-expenditures incurred, which had to be repaid to General Fund, no provision has so far been made for replacement of plant, and whenever this becomes a necessity the ratepayers will gain be called upon to shoulder such expenditures. And this is most likely to take place ever before the present bond issues are retired.

Yours very truly,
 JOHN DYBBHAVN.
