"Alcohol is a narcotic. A brain poison that deadens the higher faculties, steals away our brains and temporarily removes our sense of responsibility," continued Dr. Hall.

When alcohol begins to act on the higher intellectual processes, the lower faculties run drunk, though he may be intellectually sober."

Alcohol's Effect

Declaring alcohol to be a meum destroying everything which meant evolution, and the absolute opponent of everything that stood for the man's highest and best, Dr. Hall, in a masterly discourse, discussed the effect of alcohol in large and small quantities upon men and upon wo-

Beer, with its alcoholic content," he said, "diminishes our natural caution. It lessens our awareness. It unroits the processes of evolution and leads men to the lowest levels. The action of alcohol on the human system accomptishes a progressive paralysis and strikes through our conscience and judgment first, dulling our will power and making man the pawn of circumstance.

Warning to Women

"As for women," continued the speaker, "alcohol or beer makes an attractive woman appear much more attractive to men; she becomes flushed with liquor, and her modesty is gone. She throws aside reserve. In ict, she becomes a female animal, often too deadened to be aware of sin," he said.
