With Sandy

At least two Prince Rupert men will not forget The Right Honourable Vincent Massey, first Canadian-born governor-general. Bob Lang and Ken Johnson, drivers of the limousine which took the vice-regal party around the city received gifts from Mr. Massey before he departed.

Bob received a penknife in a rather case with Mr. Massey's only crest on it and Ken received a leather wallet with the crest.

Bill Rothwell had a phone call from his wife saying their son, Gordon, is doing well in hospital. Gordon had his leg broken when his motorcycle crashed with a car on the Big Highway near Golden. He was taken to hospital in Calgary after treatment in the Prince Rupert hospital.

James, sportsman, hunter and Bisset promised to bring some big game from a trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands. He returned unheralded and empty-handed last night.

Bishop Frederic Stanford of the Diocese of Vancouver didn't see the Governor-General when he was in town, but the smiling prelate was among the hundreds who shook hands with His Excellency at the public reception. Bishop Stanford came to participate in the election of a new Bishop of Calgary.

The holiday declared by the Governor-General on Tuesday was a boon to Nancy Hopwood. She spent her day taking down the Wren dance and to all the stores. Helen Kelly kept her company.

Mr. Jones had lunch served by the vice-regal party from a covered with fabric made from the cellulose being produced at the Watson Island mill. The color scheme brought cheer to the visitors.

It was whether Keith had anything to do with the wedding arrangement at the Credit Grantors' Association banquet, but he sat next to Mrs. Windie. They did a lot of talking, and Annette Kelly watched her grandchild enjoy the evening but she was slightly nervous when introduced to the girls who were in the skits. Mrs. Kelly told about her proposed trip to Washington, D.C., and this winter.

German George Casey is a very grave view of the situation made at the Union of Municipalities convention. He is to hire a permanent director. The UBCM, which has emerged into a more influential organization now like all groups going to start putting the money on the payroll.

Working of the UBCM, the Hills said the opening of the Municipal Affairs by W. D. Black weren't too received. According to Mr. Black began his talk by saying that the municipalities would have to revise their thinking to get in line with the federal government.

Parker had to make fast to talk with Mr. L. L. Samson, one of Mr. Massey's aides. Ted didn't wait until an hour before the Governor-General's train was to leave that Sam was best at his wedding in Winnipeg and he hadn't seen him that time when both were in the RCMP.

James may be on vacation as a busy man. He took a trip to Vancouver, on a city-wide tour here. Eric talked "telephone" all day then went home to sit. Mr. Peterson left on the Prince Rupert.

Long wished for mail delivery in Rupert is getting closer to a reality and Burgess is going to find out how many people have letters or boxes ready. Better busy everyone as he wants to make the tour this year.

NEIGHBORS, ALLIES.—Canada's Col. W. S. Murdoch (right) explains the army's command system to visiting United States officers as part of the broad pattern of co-operation between the forces of both countries. Hundreds of Canadian and U.S. officers are involved in the system whereby servicemen of each country spend a year or two on exchange duty with the forces of the other country. City Teachers Hear of NATO Work Outlined by Skeena MP

City teachers were given an outline of the work of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is doing by E. T. Applewhaite, MP for Skeena, at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert District Teachers' Association.

Teachers and pupils aim at establishing worthwhile relationships with one another. So also, relationships on a larger scale between nations, depend largely on what teachers have as their objectives and what the students learn of history in school and at home, said Mr. Applewhaite.

But in the present state of tension between western nations and the Soviet Republic, it was impossible to establish friendly relations, he said, and it was first necessary to build up sufficient military defences to deter any attempt at aggression. "That, in short, is the work of NATO."

"The Lisbon 1952 objective is well on the way to being met and while there is no justification for complacency, there is certainly no need for panic. "The long range program of peace may be advanced once the immediate threat of aggression and exploitation has been met," he said.

"As educators, it is certain that we must build for the future, a future where life and creation are the plan of all nations, not death and destruction. But at present NATO is the best insurance."

The address was heard with interest by the teachers. Business included reports from committees dealing with salary adjustments, the possibility of a district teachers' convention, education week, the scale of local fees and membership in the Civic Centre Association. R. G. Moore, president, was chairman. Miss Maynard is secretary, and the treasurer is L. J. Matte.

HANDY FIREMEN
REGINA.—City firemen even help to bring in the housewives' washing here. So far this year they have received 49 calls to straighten out washing that was snarled and twisted on clotheslines by high winds.

ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. W. H. Montgomery, widow of the late ex-alderman W. H. Montgomery, is visiting in the city with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Barbe. Mrs. Montgomery was accompanied by another daughter, Mrs. W. J. Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Raabe and daughter, Nikki, left last night aboard the Prince Rupert to attend the wedding of their eldest daughter, Lenore, to Mr. Stuart Ross at All Saints Anglican Church in Vancouver next Friday. Mr. Raabe has been a locomotive engineer with the CNR here for many years.

J. Hole, for some years a member of the hospital staff at Prince Rupert who left the city during the summer for Vancouver, is now employed at Comox, B.C. He is following the same line in a small hospital there.

Alex MacKenzie, pioneer merchant of Prince Rupert who, with Mrs. MacKenzie has been spending the past six months in Scotland, England and Wales, found great changes in economic and industrial ways. This could be seen in cost of living comparisons, and labor as well as in many other respects. Travelling today one feels that now, on the eve of the U.S. elections, much hinges on the outcome of the polling, from the international viewpoint.

Word has been received that former city court house gardener Arthur Bayne has been appointed head gardener of Government House in Victoria. Here for a number of years, Mr. Bayne was transferred to Penitentiary where he was gardener until his recent appointment. He left here some three years ago.
