Grain Business Will Interest Rupert.

Prince Rupert people already are interested in the fish busi- gard to the formula used by ness and also in agriculture and to a small extent in the lumber champion's mother. Her answer was: trade. Now they will have to interest themselves in grain, the "I keep her out in the fresh air as price of wheat and various sidelights on the grain shipping ther. I am careful about what she business. They will learn to watch markets and conditions of eats. trade. Here now is something from Harbor and Shipping that should interest them:

"It seems that last year, the Oriental buyers were rather premature in making their commitments, and they bought largely young mother confessed, a bit of at a much higher figure than they need have done. This season, laugh in her voice. But Kathleen they are certainly waiting their time, as practically no business! is so far reported. There is also the financial stringency of the Orient to be remembered, but with the decline in the price of Canadian grain, business ought shortly to be possible. Some space is reported booked for Yokohama at $4.00 per short ton. October leading, and no doubt further business could be done at this figure, with good Chinese ports at 50c extra."

Most middle-aged people remember the time when there was no such thing as an automobile, although there were a few heavy traction steam engines that moved themselves from place to place and were used for threshing. Today cars are manufactured by the thousands and in the cities most business and professional people and many mechanics drive their own buses. Even here in Prince Rupert where our roads are very short and | Money talks but it where touring is out of the question, it is becoming increasingly guage. difficult to cross the street owing to the car congestion. Once we get access to the interior or even to the canneries on the Skeena River we shall find the number of cars here increase at a very rapid rate.

Not Many Rupert People Need Money.

Not many Prince Rupert people need money badly. That is clearly shown by the number of newspaper boys that sell on take a turn after a few deer. the streets. Many boys earn just enough money for their own spending and when they have done that they will take out no more papers. Very few engage in selling papers in order to help their parents.

The number of copies of the Daily News sold in a day is regulated largely by the number of boys who sell. If they have Farewell! Alas I lost, you when a poor selling day, fewer come the next day and the result is My candidate, the stork so useful here that fewer papers are sold. Most boys stay out only about half an hour or less.

Road to Interior is a Live Question.

A road to the interior of British Columbia to connect up with that going south is a live question in Prince Rupert Then I shall bet again and none my They land in a load of hay, and more ist to the masses," has been engaged in and will be increasingly so until the people here are able to drive their own cars to Terrace for a game of golf or to Vancouver for the holidays. It will be a live question until the tourists come here with their autos and their tents and we are forced engine. to provide a motor camp in the neighborhood where they may find accommodation out of doors. We have always looked to the harbor or the railway for our transportation in the past, but from now on we shall look to the road.
