WONDERFUL PROGRESS OF THIS PROVINCE.

Few people realized the wonderful progress made by British Columbia in the past decade during which the Oliver Government has had charge of the administration of affairs. With the doubling of the basic industries, as pointed out by Hon. T. D. Pattullo yesterday, there must also have been great increase in other industries, especially in the building trades. The interview given by Mr. Pattullo yesterday in which he told of these advances was the cause of a great deal of favorable remark. And the best of it all is that the progress is still going on and in a few years British Columbia will be making a real mark in the world and her influence in Canada will be increasing.

TEMPORARY LULL IN SHIPPING AT END.

The temporary lull in the grain shipping from this port is at an end and once more the elevator is to function as intended. At present the big house is bulging with wheat and incoming shipments have been halted. Now grain will commence rolling this way once more and everybody will be busy again.

MINING ON INCREASE SHOWN BY REPORT.

The rather long report prepared by J. D. Galloway appearing in yesterday's paper and the interview by the minister of mines on present mining conditions made interesting reading. Mining is one of the industries in which we are particularly interested here as we are in the centre of a mining country. All around us are producing mines and the number is increasing. Next year should see a great improvement if only the price of metals keeps up.

CONDITION OF CHINA IS MENACE TO THE WORLD.

The condition of China today is a menace to the world. There is no stable government in that country and there seems to be no hope for the future. While the Chinese object to foreigners interfering, they also object to any government taking charge. The result is disastrous. There is probably no country in the world today where there is more graft, piracy, and robbery by violence than in China, a country that is not a military country and that does not believe in military systems.

The country is so large, the communication so poor and the people so ignorant, generally, that the task of bringing about a better condition seems hopeless unless a strong dictator should arise who would first bring order out of chaos and then set about educating the people in regard to democratic government.

MORE SETTLERS COMING YEAR

COL. J. S. DENNIS, O. C.P.R., TELLS OF PROSPECTS FOR 1927

WINNIPEG, Nov. 30.—An increased movement of desirable colonists to Canada may be expected for 1927 and if current proposals work out on a satisfactory basis, this movement can be speeded up to 200,000 persons, according to Col. J. S. Dennis, chief commissioner of the department of colonization and development of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

Col. Dennis bases his estimate of the situation on the rapidly spreading interest in the settlement possibilities in Canada evidenced in Great Britain and northern European countries, and on the hope that further arrangements will be concluded for the stimulation of the flow of British colonists on the reduced rate scale. Increased population was the outstanding need of the Dominion, the commissioner declared.

STEADY INCREASE

The department of colonization and development has this year reached the 100,000 mark in comparison to 84,000 persons brought to Canada during 1925. While regarding the advance as a satisfactory one, Col. Dennis pointed out that the number was but a small proportion of the number required if Canada was to speedily acquire a sufficient population to permit reaching a solution of the major problems facing the country. The movement of British colonists to the Dominion, was stimulated this year, he said, by the low transportation rates extended to certain classes of intending settlers. In this connection he hoped it would be possible to extend the 3,000-family scheme under an arrangement between the British and Canadian governments. Such an extension, he stated, would permit of the movement of desirable settlers from Great Britain being further augmented. Another factor in the increased movement this year was the agreement between the government and the colonization departments of both railways under which selected agriculturists were brought out from European countries.

Women of Old and New World Doing Interesting Things

JAVA WOMEN AFTER VOTE

Javanese women are awakening to the importance of possessing the vote. When about 14 years ago Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and her friend Aletia Jacobs, a Dutch feminist leader, visited the East Indian archipelago, "Votes for Women" societies sprang up with great rapidity. After a while, however, interest flagged, and the women of Java have since been blaming their European sisters for not helping the movement after they had won their fight.

Recently there has been a notable revival and a formal demand has been made upon the Dutch colonial government for the franchise. Javanese women are primarily interested in their matrimonial rights and the freedom of choice in marriage.

BRUNETTES BETTER DRIVERS

Fair men are more careful motor car drivers than dark men, but brunettes are much steadier than blondes at the steering wheel, it was declared by experts at a luncheon celebrating the opening of the fall automobile show in London. Incidentally it was stated that one woman in four in England knows how to drive a motor-car.

FAMILY RAZOR AND DIVORCE

Neck shaves for Madame, using her husband's razor brought a Paris couple before the divorce courts. Now the question that is agitating French homes is, "Will Madame have her own razor or may she legally use a sort of 'family razor'?"

With the advent of the Eaton crop, it is quite common for a man to find his razor has a dull edge. Madame has been using it to shave off the ragged ends and ends of the attenuated bob. One French law patient and sued for divorce. The difference was settled when Madame agreed to buy a razor for her personal use.

PREFERS AIRPLANE

It is easier to fly an airplane than to drive an automobile, in the opinion of Mrs. Sophie Elliott Lynn, Britain's pioneer air woman. Addressing the National Council of Women, Mrs. Lynn stated that because of the ease with which an airplane was operated in good weather many of the cross Channel pilots between London and Paris take books with them to read during the journey.

PRINCESS AN AUTHOR

Princess Marie Louise, cousin of King George, has been elected a member of the Authors' Society, the hobby of the Princess being notes of foreign travel. Her Highness joined the ranks of authors when she published her book "Letters from the Gold Coast," which was followed up with several other publications last year.

MANAGES GERMAN FARM

American genius for organization evinced by Countess Felix von Voss, nee Esther Lawrence of New York, has revolutionized one of the richest landed estates in the former grand duchy of Mecklenburg.

Countess Voss, the only American in the titled aristocracy of this province, has identified herself with her husband's agrarian interests. The poultry farm and the horticulture of the estate are personally managed by her. Both have been brought up to date and the most modern methods introduced.

It was the countess' idea, too, to provide a market for her own and neighboring products. She organized a sort of producers' cooperative store, from which the products are in turn sold to more distant places.

ACTRESS ON WORLD TOUR

Madame Vera Sergine, the famous actress, in the dual role of an artist and French fashion ambassador, is on a world tour. Accompanied by 14 other players, she will appear in 80 cities.

She took 71 dresses with her which she will show in the Near and Far East. She will return to Paris before embarking on her American tour. "In six months these 71 dresses will be out of style," she explained. "I must return and renew my supply. You can't fool American women with six months old dresses."

Think what a lot of rats it takes to make a sealskin coat!

Over in Britain they put a tank into action to show the visiting premiers. If they had come here they could have seen half a dozen tanks on the street any day.

Now that we have had our meeting and passed our resolution and been righteously eloquent over it, what about doing a little Christmas business?

Oh gimme a road to Terrace
 O'er which I may drive to my farm
 Oh Gimme a road, oh yes gimme
 A river that works like a charm.

Oh build me a road up the Skeena
 Just costing a million or two
 And then see me drive up the river
 Quickly climbing o'er mountain and slough.

For the road is the thing that we're after
 The road that will let us get out.
 You old fashion folks slow-going
 creatures,
 I know what I'm talking about.

Now people get busy tomorrow
 And build me that road in a day.
 Three million is all it will cost us
 And what is three million I say?

PROPOSAL MADE BY WIRELESS AND ACCEPTED BY GIRL

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 30.—At a radio convention held in this city recently, the operator of an amateur transmitting station installed at the convention headquarters for the purpose of relaying free messages for the delegates was much surprised on glancing over one of the messages to notice that it was a proposal of marriage to a young lady in a nearby city. After being assured by the sender that the message was genuine and in good faith, the operator sent it off, not expecting to hear any more from it. It was therefore something of a shock to receive the next day a message from the young lady stating that proposal was accepted! The operator, whose name happens to be Storck, is now wondering if his name associated with the incident should be considered as a favorable omen.

France will teach German to residents in Alsace and Lorraine, Premier Poincare announced.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

NOVEMBER 30, 1916.
 The Prince Rupert Municipal League is demanding a more aggressive policy in connection with the affairs of the city and it is probable that it will take an active part in connection with the forthcoming civic election.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Collier have received the shocking news of the death of two sons at the front.

The bazaar held yesterday by the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid was quite successful, the sum of $255 being realized. Mrs. H. R. Grant had charge of the tea tables; the home cooking was looked after by Mrs. D. McD. Hunter; Mrs. S. Darton and Mrs. W. J. Smithers presided at the candy booth; Mrs. J. G. Steen was in charge of the ice cream table, and Mrs. F. G. Dawson directed the sale of plain and fancy sewing.
