Falsehood Policy Injures the Party.

It seems a pity that the once proud and reputable party led by such a great man as Sir John A. Macdonald should be dragged in the mud by petty politicians as is being done at this election. One of the latest moves is by means of falsehood to have more than 500 majority. try to discredit what is said by the Daily News, because the paper happens to differ in its views from that of the candidate. It is particularly obnoxious because Mr. Brady, following the lead of H. H. Stevens of Vancouver and some others of the party, is out as the champion of purity in politics.

Mr. Brady in a letter to some of the electors says this paper is "heavily subsidized." Perhaps he does not know any Mister Brady dangled a fish tran better, but it is his duty to be sure of the facts. If his other statements are as unreliable as this one they are nothing but mis-statements from beginning to end. The Daily News is a And whispered in voice like a commercial venture and sells its advertising space to any whol wish to buy, irrespective of party affiliation. Conservatives buy it as well as Liberals and have done so at a number of elections. Both pay the same rate and are treated in that regard exactly But the fishermen jeered at his alike. No subsidy has ever been received.

Give Both Sides of the Question.

The Daily News, as is well known here, gives both sides For they looked where the hook of the question. It publishes daily despatches giving the utterances of Premier Meighen as well as those of Mackenzie King. whereas the Tory organ gives only the one side.

When there is a Conservative meeting the Daily News gives | The difficulty with some polithe fullest possible report, whereas the Tory organ gives the lical speakers is that there is briefest synopsis of Liberals meetings. Conservatives here have no dividing line between their always complimented this paper on its fairness in its news imagination and their informareports. Then comes along a candidate for office who seems tion. determined to try to win at any price and by making a false. statement of fact tries to inlfuence the voters. Such policy! cannot succeed.

Has Mr. Brady tried to influence its own organ to give both ly, Maria. sides of the questions at issue and to treat all alike?

Fish Trap Question. Much Discussed.

The Conservative politicians are making desperate efforts to distort the fish trap issue. They are trying to put a false! aspect of it before the electors just as the candidate put a false- she hood forward in his circular letter. They are trying to make out that Stork is playing a game on both sides, whereas they know well that it is their own people who are playing the game and trying to fool the fishermen. They know that the fishermen she have the power to turn the election one way or the other and they are making desperate efforts to fool them. However, the fishermen have a good deal of common sense, something that is often lacking in the men who are doing the campaigning. They have known for some time who was on their side and they gressives are false. If they had know today that directly the Meighen Government came into supported Meighen they would power the trap licenses were issued and remained in force until have been trusty and true. the end of the season. Then an order was given to dismantle them even though the work of dismantling had already commenced.

We are saying this today to warn the fishermen that money fighting for low freight rates is being spent freely and the best possible brains are being purchased to lay before them a plausible story that it is thought will influence them. We do not think they will succeed but it will not be for the want of trying.

Brady is Claiming to Have Done Much.

In his circular letter, Mr. Brady claims to have already done much for the people of Skeena district, particularly in this fish trap matter, when he knows it was a member of his committee that put the fish trap matter before Premier Meighen and said it was uselss to run a candidate here if the traps were allowed to remain. It was under pressure that Mr. Meighen ordered their withdrawal. Mr. Brady is the political pawn on the chessboard in which the big interests are working their game then it'll be all over except the and trying to bring about a change. Let this party go back to Liberal cheering. power with a working majority and the fish traps will again be used, for Premier Meighen stated an investigation would be made before action would be taken. We all know how a Tory to win. They have everything

Pity Personalities Should Be Introduced.

It is a pity that personalities have to be introduced into the old definition of a Liberalthis campaign, but it is the Conservative move. They were the ones to start the campaign of slander and they have kept it up, hope for posterity. It was they who started the use of poison gas in this war and if they have to suffer a little from the poison it will only be right.

VERY LITTLE BETTING ON THIS ELECTION IS REPORTED TO DATE

One Wager of $500 Was Covered Yesterday by Conservatives

So far there seems to have $1.00 been very little betting on the general election results. Yes-$6.00 terday a local Liberal put up $7.50 $500 as a wager that Premier Meighen would not have more than 116 supporters in the next house. This bet was taken by a local Conservative. Another small bet taken was that Fred Stork would have a
