She Couldn't Sleep Heart Was So Bad

Mrs. J. D. McClintock, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes:—"About a year ago I was greatly troubled with my heart.

I could not sleep at night, and was so nervous I imagined that I could see everything in the room moving, and would have to turn on the lights before I could get to sleep.

After having read of your

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

THE MAN IN THE MOON
says:

How times have changed! At one time the summer tourist wore nice cool ice cream pants. Now he wears sack-like looking knickers made of blanket cloth, with stockings to match.

It's really wonderful what gifted thirsts some of our visitors seem to be blessed with.

I suggest that somewhere on the new uniforms of the Boys' Band a nice halibut be worked in colored silk to advertise the city's leading industry.

The average man has about as much use for a public drinking fountain as a cow has for a pair of skates.

A kangaroo always gets there because he is continually on the jump.

Silk stockings are so thin it is possible to read a newspaper through them but most men are content to glance at a few lines.

Sometimes the knocker is a bill collector.

Some men go to the Salt Lakes to swim and then again there are others who don't.

As an exponent of what one could do by adhering faithfully to the daily dozen idea the midget acrobat with the Boston Maids would take some beating.
